

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1894.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 412 Main Street, Moore & Parker, 275 Main Street, John Cummings, 24, Cummingsville, Albert Gleason, Woburn Highlands, W. A. Hanson, North Woburn, and at F. A. Litchfield's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

THE N. W. S. R. STRIKE.

The drivers and conductors on the North Woburn Street Railroad went out on strike at 4.30 last Tuesday afternoon. They demand and increase of pay from $1.75 to $2 a day, shorter days, and recognition by the Company of the E. of L. Union.

Supt. Brockway declined to consider their demands. They put the matter into the hands of the Union and Sharp, the head man, ordered a strike.

If the employees had gone to Prest. Breed and Gen. Manager Foster instead of sending Sharp it is possible the business would have been amicably settled.

GOV. SIGNED IT.

Against the protestations of the solid men of Boston Governor Greenhalgh signed the Meigs Elevated Railroad bill last Monday and it now goes to the voters of that city for acceptance or rejection.

The bill is a regular hodgepodge of a thing, three or four different and distinct schemes being embraced in it, and what its fate will be at the ballot-box no one can predict with any degree of certainty.

THE PULLMAN CAR STRIKE.

The fight is now between Uncle Sam and the strikers. The railroad companies say they now have nothing to do but stand and look on. U. S. Attorney General Olney declares that the ragged edge of anarchy has been reached and anarchy must go under.

It is the biggest strike this country saw.

ADJOURNED.

The Legislature adjourned finally at 7.30 last Monday evening. It had been in session a trifle over 6 months and accomplished an amount of legislation that might just as well have been done in 3. But the worst of it was, considerable of the work never ought to have been done at all.

PASSED.

The Tariff bill passed the Senate last Tuesday by a vote of 39 to 34. Senator Hill stood up like a man and voted against it.

Now the bill goes into conference and what will be its fate no one can tell.

Councilman Shaw: "I do not believe it is necessary every time we spend a dollar in the Centre to spend another in the outlying wards." There is just where Councilman John W. Shaw is correct. The opposite belief (advocated by Councilman Elia) does not indicate statesmanship of a high order or a real regard for the best interests of the city. It smacks too strongly of the grab game. And by the way, in this same discussion Councilman Shaw earned credit for placing the defeat of the Sewer appropriation where it belongs.

According to the Railroad Commissioners Report, in 1893 the loss of the North Woburn Street Railroad in running the line was $2,538.60. That was the Company's net loss remember. With that fact in view can anyone say they have not dealt fairly by their employees?

The Glorious 4th passed off quietly in this city. There were several picnics, a concert on the Common by the National Band, considerable noise, many drinks, and fireworks all around the lot in the evening.

For a business man Mayor Murray is conducting the affairs of this city in a singular manner. Why don't he see that the laws are enforced? Is he afraid of his Chief of Police?

Stoneham's celebration was a big affair. A large part of the crowd were Woburn people. The procession was a fine one.

Representative Fowle of this city voted against the Meigs elevated railroad bill by which taken he ought to be re-elected this fall.

Something was expected to drop at City Hall last evening. The Mayor's cholera was at boiling point.

Nearly all the business part of Hudson was burned on the 4th. The loss was estimated at $500,000.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

W. L. Main-Cross, J. E. Todd-Sheff, J. P. Fairbank-Sheff, Sale, J. W. Johnson-Lee, Netter, W. & T. Smith & Co-Nursey.

WANTED: Stitches on Shirts, Overalls, Coats, etc. Apply at once. A. L. Richardson & Bro.-Opp.

Mrs. W. B. Randall has gone to Lamson Cottage, Duxbury, Mass.

Mr. Lampton Skinner's pincushion coachman looks to be more ornamental than useful.

The alarm at Walnut Hill Wednesday morning was for a fire in some railroad ties.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Elliott are traveling down in the Provincias for pleasure and rest.

Ned Shea was "getting 'em up" in great shape on "The City." It was a girl, born Tuesday evening, July 3.

Sunday was a milder and so also was Monday. It seems as though last month was the hottest June on record.

Lawyer John W. Johnson and family are domiciled for the heated term at West Gloucester, a nice cool spot.

In the great Y. M. C. A. baseball game on the 4th between the Directors 9 and the Juniors the latter won by 22 to 13.

The lightning last Tuesday stopped the cars on the East Middlesex and played havoc at the electric station in this city.

There were fine showers last Tuesday, that at 2 p. m. being accompanied by a high wind and very sharp lightning.

Candidates for Civil Service positions can obtain blanks and information of the Secretary of the Board, C. A. Wyman, at the postoffice.

The fire department was called to the Chemical Works last Sunday to a fire caused by the burning of a lot of carboys. It was quite a fire.

A letter from Mrs. G. H. Laken descriptive of Bar Harbor will find a place in the JOURNAL soon. It will keep even if the weather is hot.

We learn from the San Francisco (Calif.) Call that Mr. Oliver C. Carroll, formerly of Woburn, died in that city on June 24 ult. aged nearly 63 years.

Mr. Fred A. Hartwell says the price of beef has gone up $3 a hundred on account of the great railroad strike, and that there is danger of a meat famine.

Mr. W. S. York and family are happily quartered in their old home at Rockport, Cape Ann, and know but little about the intensely hot weather of this locality.

The firm of Chapman & Reed are selling a good many fine pianos and other musical instruments these days. Mr. Chapman, the manager, is a fair man to deal with.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Cummings expect to go out on a vacation about the 15th. The Senior partner declares that the firm are going to loaf and take life easy this summer.

The N. W. S. R. strikers are running a line of barges between No. Woburn and Medford via Woburn Centre and Winchester. "Everything is quiet on the Potomac."

Lawn parties minus Belcher's screams would be very much like the play of Hamlet with the "melancholy Dane" left out. He makes the best jokes, punches, etc., in America.

Mrs. James I. Hanson and family left here yesterday for Uxbridge, the former home of Mrs. Hanson and of Judge Charles D. Adams of this city. They will remain there all summer.

Mr. Fred W. McDonald and wife of Groton, N. H., paid his native place a visit last week and for a brief season circulated around among his old friends and acquaintances here.

McManus, the alleged Stoneham firebug, was discharged in Court Tuesday. He was defended by Lawyer M. T. Allen who gave the detectives who prosecuted the case some of the hardest knocks they ever had.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. E. Winslow Pierce of 94 Main st. fetched from his trees a box of the best cherries we have seen this year. They were "Black Republicans" and like their namesake were without flaw. Thanks.

In last Sunday's Boston Journal we saw this in their North Conway correspondent: On Thursday Miss Alice Champney arrived at her father's cottage for the summer. She has been spending the winter in Providence.

The Methodist, Baptist and Orthodox Sunday Schools are planning for a great union picnic at Salem Woods next Tuesday. At least it is expected to come off on Tuesday. They will go over on Supt. Sewell's electric cars.

Miss Irma Tay is well advanced in musical learning. Likewise she is a successful teacher of the piano. A good deal of money was spent on her musical education, and probably no one is better equipped for an instructor than Miss Tay.

Mrs. Annie F. Bates of the Boston Cooking School lectured at Concert Hall last evening on "A summer breakfast, desserts, ices and germea" and gave demonstrations in preparing the same. The lady is said to be away up in the air.

Mrs. M. C. Blanchard is a member of the Unity Art Club of Boston which held an annual meeting last week. Mrs. Blanchard does beautiful work on china and things of that kind and has the reputation of being a superior artist in other lines.

H. G. Smith of Salem st. is one of the fastest bicycle flyers in this city. He is a grateful sinner too. He won the Chapman first prize two weeks ago and another in a Club race, his time 18 minutes, being too many for the rest of the entries by a good many lengths. Young Smith is proud of his medals.

Principal Owen of the High School and family expect to pass considerable of the summer at Oakland (West Waterville), Me., which is Mrs. Owen's native place. The Principal too is a product of soil somewhere about there. May they enjoy their vacation.

The electric cars are now labelled "Woburn, Lynn & Salem," which means that the new line from the stables at Melrose to Saugus is done and in operation. It there is any place anywhere to which the citizens of Woburn can't get by street railroads will the reader please point it out?

The bedstead in this nineteenth century is unquestionably one made of tubular iron, light but very strong, and easily taken apart. It comes fitted with woven wire mattress, complete in any width from three feet upwards at prices from $5.75 upwards. They can be secured at Paine's Furniture warehouses in Boston.

A note from Mr. William W. Crosby to the JOURNAL conveys the intelligence that the annual race for prizes of the Intoxic Car Club on Horn Pond will take place at 5 p. m. Saturday, July 14. It was booked for July 4, but necessarily postponed to the 14. Commodore Crosby's polite invitation to the Editor is heartily accepted.

A number of the Boston tanners, with plants at suburban points, are seeking new locations in the South for their tanneries. W. S. Cobbs & Co. have located in southwestern Pennsylvania, and it is now said that Wm. Tidd & Co., and James Skinner are considering a Southern location, retaining their New England plants for currying shops.—Shoe and Leather Review.

The pamphlet of 56 pages (including several blank ones) done in Boston for Woburn authorities looks as though it was the work of typographical "blacksmiths," a name well understood by the craft. No Woburn workmen would have felt proud of the job. Some of the matter with the proof-reading too for the book contains many errors that ought not to have been overlooked by him.

Mr. J. R. McDonald and family will leave today for Blue Hill on the rugged coast of Maine for their summer vacation. They have passed many seasons there and like it better than any other. There is the sea of boating, country drives, sea breezes and huckleberries galore, all of which are pleasant to take in hot weather, and Mr. and Mrs. McDonald propose to get their fill of them.

Our old friend and former fellow townsman, Mr. Joseph R. Green, has gone back from his winter quarters at East Boston to the home at Sharon. The factories which supply the musical merchandise successfully handled by him are located at Sharon, which, we suppose, accounts for his making his home there. He has our best wishes for "a long life and a happy one" to him and his.

An esteemed patron up at Wilton, N. H., formerly of Woburn, writes: I think from what I have heard about Woburn that the best thing to be done is to put the city under martial law. It seems to be corrupt from the Mayor down to hogreef and is doomed as much as Sodom was. If you have any fears for your safety in case of judgment visiting this city had better flee to the hills of N. H. for rest and comfort.

Real estate agent Mr. W. H. Cummings says the demand for tenements in this city is great. Many of the town people are asking for them, and the prospect for a large fall business is fine. Mr. Cummings has just sold a double house and land on Salem st. to Mathew Matterson; also the George Turner residence, Spring st., to Samuel Tufts of Cambridge; also a house on Centre st. to Richard Fowles.

The National Band will give their second concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 11.

PROGRAMME.

1. March, Brockton, Mass.
2. Overture, Pique Dame.
3. Baritone Solo, The Favorite.
4. Melody, The Woburn Striking.
5. Selection, The Woburn Striking.
6. Piccolo Solo, The Gem.
7. Tenor, Picture of North and South.
8. Waltz, Chinese Lantern.
9. Selection, The Woburn Striking.
10. Finale, Old Oaken Buck.

P. CALMAN, Jr., Director.

At the close of the Cummings School last week the classmates of Ernest Hartwell, who was ill at home, and other pupils made up a magnificent bouquet of rare and costly flowers, took it too Mr. Fred Hartwell's residence, and presented it to the sick boy who was overjoyed with its size and beauty and what it meant. It was a thoughtful act on the part of the scholars and a well deserved token of love and esteem for Ernest.

The wife of Mr. Waterhouse, who died in Paris, France, a few days ago, was Head Master of the English High School of Boston, and had been Principal of the High School of New York, was Isabel Hanson, a former Woburn teacher and sister of the late James I. Hanson who for many years was the greatly beloved Principal of the Woburn High School. Many Woburn people doubtless remember and will sympathize with her in her great affliction.

Mr. A. H. Whitford, formerly of this city, General Secretary of the Rochester, N. Y., Y. M. C. A. and recently from the World's convention of Y. M. C. A. Associations held in London, England, addressed a mass meeting in the vestry of the M. E. church last Sunday afternoon and the regular Sunday evening meeting at the Orthodox church. He left early in the week for a Maine summer resort and expects to return soon to his post of duty at Rochester.

Rev. Dr. Crawford, pastor of the M. E. church in this city, is a mortal foe to rumselling. He believes it a part of his Christian duty to down the traffic and the traffickers. With that idea prominent the Doctor works. He works with a will. He works with a purpose. No love is lost between him and the rum-sellers. He strikes straight out from the shoulder and delivers hard knocks. He is doing a good work in Woburn. Let him have the hearty support of every true temperance man and woman in this community.

The Woburn High School Regiment has been disbanded. Cause: Too much attention to drill, neglect of studies.—Winchester Star. Well, not quite so bad as that. Woburn has never had a High School Regiment. This school has a Battalion of three Companies. It was the Second Mass.achusetts School Regiment, of which the Woburn H. S. B. was a part, that disbanded. The Schools of the Regiment (that was) will keep up their organization, notwithstanding the growing belief among educators that military tactics should have no place in the curriculum.

Mr. Freeman D. Blake and Miss C. Isabel Livingstone will be united in marriage at the home of Mr. Blake in Montclair, N. J., on July 18. The coming groom is well and favorably known in this city where he resided many years with his uncle, the late E. N. Blake, and also after his marriage. He is now a N. Y. city merchant. The bride was the first teacher of Physical Culture in our public schools and while here made many warm friends. Since leaving Woburn she has held a responsible position in Smith College, Northampton, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Carter will attend the wedding.

Well, boys, the circus is coming after all! A real genuine circus, 3 rings and any number of wild animals, the funniest clowns in all creation, two big brass bands, trick mules, elephants, a fine street parade, bareback riders and everything tiptop, with money's worth every time and right change back. Read all about it in the JOURNAL, or as much of it as the Press Agent had time to tell. Everybody has heard of Walter L. Maine—the best showman in North America. You couldn't hire him to run a poor circus—the best is none to good for him—and he is going to open up in Woburn on next Saturday week, July 14, in great shape. Of course nobody will forget the date, or that the circus is A1, and worth every cent it costs to see it.

Miss Maria S. Merrill of Portland, Maine, is a guest of Dr. John M. Harlow and Mrs. Harlow at their residence on Main street where, if we understood the lady correctly, she is having a good time. Miss Merrill is a niece of the famous prima donna, Annie Louise Carey, also a Maine lady, and for 16 years past has been teacher of French in Abbott Andover Academy, where she was associated with Mrs. Harlow, then Miss Kimball, 10 years in training the youth of that noted educational institution. They are close friends and in 1882 visited Europe together. Miss Merrill has been granted a year's leave of absence by the Trustees of Abbott Andover and expects to start early in September for the other side of the Atlantic. She will pass a large part of her vacation in France and Germany in freshening up in the languages of those countries but will also travel in other interesting sections of the Old World. At the close of her visit with Dr. and Mrs. Harlow Miss Merrill will go to her home in Portland and remain there until she sails.

The July number of The New England Magazine contains an interesting article on "The Old Town of Berwick," Maine, from the pen of Sarah Orne Jewell, the novelist, who is a native and resident of that beautiful burg. It is generously illustrated and one of the pictures represents a sketch along the principal street in the village of South Berwick on which is seen Miss Jewett's home, and also the house owned and formerly occupied by Mr. Linwood E. Hanson, the Woburn jeweler, who is an acquaintance and friend of Miss Jewett's. Berwick, which once included North, South and Old, Berwick, is historic, and its early records, strung together in continuous fashion by Miss Jewett's master pen, make an interesting narrative of old times in New England. Miss Jewett's sketches and stories published in magazines and books have converted many spots in York, Kittery and the Berwicks into "classic grounds." The New England article is among her best productions in that line; at least, so thinks our down street neighbor Hanson.

J. Henry Huthings, M. D.

Ophthalmic and Aural Surgeon, devotes special attention to diseases of the Eye, Ear, Throat and Nose. Glasses fitted and errors of refraction corrected. Office, 516 Main street. Hours, 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

City Government.

COMMON COUNCIL.

Board met Thursday evening, June 28, 1894.

Pet. of G. A. Cochrane to remove tree referred.—Of Ellen J. Harrington and others for laying out Hillside Ave., referred.

Notice of defeat of Sewer Loan in Aldermen received.

Change of ordinance relative to salaries of Sealer of Weights and Measures and Almoner of O. P., passed to be ordained.

On motion of Councilman Lund voted to refer order from Aldermen requesting Finance Committee to report loan of $5,000 for highways and $45,000 for sewers to Finance Committee with instructions to confer with Commissioners.

Concurred with Aldermen in asking Finance Committee for $1,500 for widening Woodbury's Corner.

Charles E. Cooper elected Fence Viewer in concurrence.

Adjourned to first regular meeting in September.

ALDERMEN.

Board met on Thursday evening, June 28.

Com. on Highways reported unanimously in favor of changing Main street line at Woodbury's Corner on the basis of Back Block front. Report adopted and an order passed asking Finance Committee for $1500 to carry out same.

Concurred in referring the Cochrane petition to Com. on Highways with full powers.

Y. M. C. A.

Who says "Lawn Party?" Wait and see.

The training class will meet for Bible study next Monday evening at 8 o'clock in our rooms.

106 American delegates attended the Jubilee Conference held in London, England, last month. This being the fifty anniversary of the organization of the Y. M. C. A.

Eighteen new members have joined the Association the past month. Now is the time to join and so take advantage of the privileges for athletic sports during the summer months.

Where will you find a cooler place to spend an hour next Sunday afternoon than in Y. M. C. A. Hall. Mr. B. A. Tripp will conduct the service. All men are invited. Time, 4 o'clock.

Better yet. Last week we told of the athletic privileges we were prepared to give our members. This week we have even better things to report. The Association has secured of Judge E. F. Johnson the use of his splendid tennis courts for the season, and the members of the Association can now play tennis to their heart's content. No extra charge will be made for the use of these courts to persons who are members.

If there are other persons who desire to use them call and see the General Secretary.

Hartwell—Allen.

At Worcester, Mass., June 27, 1894, Rev. A. Z. Conrad united in marriage Mr. Harry G. Hartwell, son of Mr. F. A. Hartwell of this city, and Miss May A. Allen of Shrewsbury, Mass.

The groom, now a business man of Worcester, was born, raised and educated in Woburn and has hosts of friends here who congratulate him on his farewell to bachelorhood and entry into the flowery fields of wedlock. No young man was more highly esteemed than Harry Hartwell when he lived here.

The bride was one of the best of old Shrewsbury's fair daughters and is worthy of the life mate she has chosen. The newly married pair have the best wishes of the JOURNAL.

Reason.

There is a reason for everything.

When the managers of the Fall River Line recently gave us the contract to carpet their magnificent new steamer "Priscilla"—the finest piece of marine architecture afloat—it was not a hap-hazard award, but it was based on careful judgment as to style, quality, and price.

It will be well to think of this when next you need goods in our line.

John H. Pray, Sons & Co.,
CARPETS AND UPHOLSTERY,
658 Washington St. (opposite Boylston St.), BOSTON.

Insure your Property in Solid Companies!
S. B. GODDARD & SON,
General Insurance and Real Estate Agency,
New Savings Bank Building, Woburn, Mass.

Assets of Companies represented over Thirty Millions.
Losses promptly adjusted and paid at this office.
Boston Office—No. 93 Water Street.

Wakefield Park

THE SELECT RESIDENTIAL SUBURB.

WHY?

1. It is no new land enterprise, no auction sales, and no $2.00 payment scheme.
2. There is no healthier place in Massachusetts, and the view is unsurpassed.
3. Only 25 minutes' ride from Boston, and only 5 minutes' walk to the Park gates.
4. There are two miles of accepted streets, concrete sidewalks and electric lights.
5. Already 40 fine houses built and sold.
6. Houses and lots sold on a small first payment, and the balance taken as rent.

The Herald says—"No one should fail to visit this suburb, for it shows what landscape architecture and architectural skill can do."
The Record says—"Why can not all real estate owners realize that this is the only true way to develop property?"
The Globe says—"In a house it reveals the celebrated Tuxedo Park."
The Post says—"The houses are most picturesque."

For a beautiful 32-page illustrated pamphlet, write or call on Wm. H. Tucker, 39 State St., Boston.

INVESTIGATE BEFORE YOU BUY ELSEWHERE.

For a beautiful 32-page illustrated pamphlet, write or call on Wm. H. Tucker, 39 State St., Boston.

The Class Supper.

The customary class reception, spread and entertainment was held by Class '94, W. H. S., at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Hill, on Friday evening last. President D. B. Dimick and Charles R. Carter and Almy M. Carter were the hosts. They received in a courtly manner from 8 to 8.30.

The house, which is one of the most delightful old mansions in this part of the country, easily enfolded in a grove on the main thoroughfare of the pleasant village of North Woburn, was put in order and charmingly decorated for the occasion. It was brilliantly illuminated from st. to ridgepole with electric lights, while in the parlors was a lavish display of ferns, flowers and plants with the fresh sweet perfume of which the air was heavily laden.

The spacious grounds around the house were ablaze with scores of gaily painted lanterns which hung from the trees and swayed gently in the soft evening breeze, the ensemble striking the eye of the beholder as a scene of rare beauty.

With this lovely indoor and outdoor picture enlivened by the presence of the whole class of "sweet girl graduates," gallant youth in their best clothes and manners, with songs and instrumental music, with gaiety and mirth, and warm blood and high spirits, the blunt old men of this reporter finds it no easy task to convey to the mind of the reader anything like an adequate idea of the many charming features of a reception which will go into history as the most brilliant that has ever yet been given by a graduating class of the W. H. S. Nor will said reporter attempt to do more than give a rough outline, a mere skeleton, so to speak.

Of the story and leave it to the imagination of the reader to clothe it properly, assuming him that the class, of the affair cannot be set at a figure nearly as high as the facts will warrant. Refreshments were served at 9.30. Mr. West, head waiter at the Copley Square Hotel, Boston, had full charge of this important feature, and Belcher, the prince of caterers, furnished the ices, creams and punch. Miss Grace Bond and Miss Watson gracefully did the cutting. Miss Ada Carter presided at the punch bowl, assisted by Miss Babcock and Miss Fannie Carter. Of course their duties were performed in a dignified and ladylike manner. A season at the festive board, laden with delicious things and ornamented with the choicest productions of garden and greenhouse, was delightfully spent with wit and glee. No table was ever so brightly and so gracefully set by a company of young ladies and gentlemen.

After the supper the following entertainment programme was carried out in fine style:

1. A scene from Romeo and Juliet.
2. Piano Solo, Mass. Ave. and E. M. Dorr.
3. Song, The Cuckoo, Double Quartet.
4. Festival Hymn, The Class.
5. College Songs, The Class.
6. Selection, Sawyer's Orchestra.
7. "Hark, Apollo Strike the Lyre." Class.

Every piece of music was perfectly rendered, and the performances were greatly relished by the small but very select company of spectators.

There were present by special invitation of President Dimick and the Messrs. Carter, Mr. L. H. Owen, Principal of the High School; Miss Cobleigh and Miss Paul of the High School; and Miss Jackson, the accomplished and popular Music Instructor; Samuel W. Mendum, Esq., Master in Summer Price.

Extra Super Carpets,
58c. a yard.

ALL MADE.

C. Willard Smith

BOYS' SHOES.

Boys, when you get your feet into a pair of our shoes you will find something that will stand a good deal of rough usage before giving out. We have chosen our boys' shoe on the theory that the boy wants the best material and work we can give him. A good boy can't keep from rapidly destroying a bad shoe. Don't blame the boy when the shoe is at fault.

REPAIRING DONE.

J. LEATHE, 425 Main St., Woburn.
Agent for Standard Sewing Machines.

On The North Shore.

Last week Mr. W. A. McGrillis, General Manager of the Boston, Beverly, and Salem Steamship Company sent an invitation to some 40 or more editors in Boston and vicinity to join him on an excursion to the North Shore last Saturday.

Mr. McGrillis met his guests at the dock and showed them over the vessel, a staunch and inviting one. She was the steamer "City of Bridgeport," and the course taken by it in its daily trips is the most delightful in the Massachusetts waters.

Saturday opened foggy and had much to do, no doubt, with the size of the party. Two hours however, before starting time the fog lifted and revealed a harbor full of vessels and a good day in prospect.

The trip was all that could be desired; and landing was made at Marblehead. Here we were received by Frank W. Chase, general advertising agent of the Lynn & Boston Street Railroad system. The freedom of Marblehead's narrow streets was extended and accepted until we met an electric marked "Special," which we jumped into and bounded away for Salem.

It was a delightful and bracing ride to Salem. After some hitting we headed for the Willows, that popular north-shore resort, at the portals of which we were met and warmly welcomed by J. C. B. Smith, a Bostonian who has extensive interests at the Willows. With little delay we boarded the steamer "S. E. Spring" for Baker's Island, three miles distant.

Dr. M. S. Salton, owner of the island and proprietor of the hotel, was upon the wharf. After the common people had walked the plank the newspaper men stepped ashore and shook the Doctor's hand. We marched to the hotel dining-room, a spacious and cool place, and we were soon delving in a

A black and white illustration of a hunter in a hat and coat aiming a rifle at a deer in a wooded landscape. The hunter is in the foreground, seen from the side, wearing a wide-brimmed hat and a long coat with a belt. He is holding a long rifle, aiming it towards a deer in the distance. The deer is standing in a clearing, facing the hunter. The background features rolling hills and a line of trees. The style is that of a classic woodcut or engraving.

It Touches
the Spot.

B-L

Tobacco
goes to the right place.
Is a chew that satisfies.

The Puzzle Solved.

Perhaps no medical disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than ailed aorta. While not immediately fatal is among the most nauseous and disgusting of all diseases, it is, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cure of chronic aorta by any of the many modes of treatment until the introduction of the Dr. Cass's Compound. The success of this preparation has been most satisfying and surprising. No druggist is without it.

The partnership between Jacob Litt and Thomas H. Davis has expired by limitation. Mr. Litt retains "In Old Kentucky," "The Ensign" and "Yon onson."

It is significant of the lax and indefinite character of the copyright law that Thomson Howard has not copyrighted any of his plays since 1878.

[illegible]

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND PUREST MEDICINE
EVER MADE.

Don't be without a bottle. You will not regret it. Try it to-day.

What makes you tremble so?
Your Nerves are all unstrung, and NEED a gentle, soothing TONIC to assist nature to repair the damage which your excesses have caused.
Sulphur Bitters

IS NOT A CHEAP
RUM OR WHISKY DRINK

[illegible]

EXETER SHOE CO., 143 FEDERAL ST.,
BOSTON, MASS.
Special terms to Dealers.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1894.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 412 Main Street, Moore & Parker, 375 Main Street, John Cummings, 24, Cummingsville, Allen & Co., 24, Cummingsville, W. A. Hanson, Main Street, and F. A. Littlefield, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

PETERED OUT.

The great Western railroad strike is virtually ended. So the latest dispatches from Chicago inform the public. Trains are running as usual, business has been resumed at the stockyards, things have recovered their normal condition in Chicago and the country, and Debs and Sovereign and their deluded followers are hors du combat.

Law and lawlessness have had another sanguinary meeting and the former won, as it always will in this fair land of Law and Liberty.

It will be a long day probably before another conflict of the kind is inaugurated by the crazy leaders of the labor element in this country. With the disastrous ending of the strike of 1877, Homestead in 1892, and Chicago in 1894, the true, honest workmen of America will never be willingly dragged into another.

The noble stand of President Cleveland did much to hasten the end of the great strike, although its success was totally out of the question from the start.

THE LICENSE COMMISSIONERS.

The announcement of the names of the Liquor License Commissioners by Mayor Murray last Tuesday took the town by surprise. The appointments were universally condemned.

A very different Board of Commissioners was expected from the Mayor. The Commission is a highly important one and should have been filled with the best material.

The Mayor took two brothers-in-law and his shop boss for the most responsible post in his gift. That is bad enough but such a rank instance of nepotism might have been overlooked in him were the men in any respect fit for the place.

What ails Mayor Murray? And what is our city coming to, anyway?

The speech of Senator Gordon of Georgia on the Western strike in the U. S. Senate last Tuesday had the true patriotic ring to it. Senator Daniels of Virginia and Senator Davis of Minnesota also made eloquent pleas for the protection of National honor. Senator Gordon said he stood up not as a Southerner but as an American citizen and assured his listeners that the old boys in Grey would stand shoulder to shoulder with the old boys in Blue in upholding the stars and stripes, our glorious National emblem.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

Bennett, St. Room.
E. S. Eaton—Mort. Sale.
Peterson & Co.—Coner.
J. C. McGuire—Ex. Sale.
H. E. Beckman—Dr. Bull.
J. C. McGuire—Adm. Sale.
Dr. H. E. Chase—Vacation.

—WANTED: Stitches on Shirts, Overalls, Coats, etc. Apply at once. A. L. Richardson & Bro.—If.

—Druggist Higley has a change of card this week. Look at it.

—Mr. C. Willard Smith makes a great offer on carpets. Read it.

—Hans P. Larson has gone to his old home in Denmark for a 3 months' visit.

—George A. Blaisdell was registered at Hotel Lakeside, Weirs, N. H., last week.

—July weather up to date has not been half so bad to take as the June article was.

—Stanley E. Hurd is enjoying his vacation at the old town of Hyannis down on the Cape.

—Miss Ethel R. Bassett of Woburn visited friends in town this week.—Methuen Transcript.

—Dog days will set in a week from next Wednesday. The change can be very severe anyhow.

—The Globe man says Rector Marquis of Trinity church expects to have a boy child next fall.

—Fred Lowell returned from a pleasant trip to St. John, N. B., last Tuesday. He liked it.

—Vineyard Haven used to be called Home's Hole. Dr. H. E. Chase, the dentist, was born there.

—Station Agent Jenkins's flowerbeds are again blooming brightly with gay midsummer flowers.

—Capt. E. H. Fennessy of the Harvard Varsity crew was a guest at Wakefield Park the past week.

—Yesterday was a mellow one. But for a fine western breeze it would have been hard on the nervous system.

—An esteemed correspondent handles the Woburn Cemetery authorities without gloves in the JOURNAL this week.

—Major Hinckley and the rest of the boys are preparing for a season of camp life to begin about the latter part of July.

—Mrs. Jennings's Intelligence Office is well patronized this summer. She is perfectly reliable, and that is the main point.

—Rev. William C. Barrows, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and family expect to pass the month of August at Cottage City.

—Miss Maud Wood of Salem street in this city has been re-elected a teacher in the Chelsea High School and accepted the position.

—Auctioneer Gregory will sell at public vendue the Michael Gordon estate, 20 Buckman Court, at 5 o'clock, p. m. July 19.

—The new License Commissioners are not likely to get heavy salaries from the city. The City Council don't like the appointments.

—Cuneo & Crowe keep one of the neatest and best filled fruit stores in this part of the country. It is handsomely patronized too.

—Miss Lillie Leslie has made up her mind that New Hampshire is about the size of the State that she wants to spend her vacation in.

—Mr. Benjamin Champney of Woburn is again at work in his studio on his realistic flowers and mountain paintings in oil.—Boston Herald.

—Lawyer Curran, Dr. Conway and State Commissioner Moreland denounce Mayor Murray's License Commissioners in unmeasured terms.

—There will be a fine musical entertainment and refreshments at the Scandinavian Free church at 7 o'clock, p. m., July 21. More anon.

—The right kind of a party can secure a pleasant furnished room by applying at 13 Bennett street. It is a nice place and handy to business.

—Our thanks are due to Miss Dora Winn for the first bunch of sweet peas of the season. They were brought last Wednesday and greatly enjoyed.

—Miss Nellie McCarthy, one of the main spies at Mr. Arthur Wyman's postoffice, is taking her annual outing. She is at home with a sick mother.

—There is a fine display of goods in the windows of Copeland & Bowser. It is the result of a combination of good wares and a fine artistic taste.

—City Treasurer Hayward and his Assistant are attending strictly to business at the old stand these days. No fuss and feathers about the office either.

—Mr. E. C. Leathe is the principal dealer in bicycles in this part of the State. He keeps everything in the line of wheels, repairs, etc., and deals fairly by all.

—Mrs. Martin Hayward and Mrs. Parker L. Converse entertained the members and substitutes of the Whist Club of ninety-one on the evening of July 2.

—The Mayor left town immediately after appointing his family circle to the License Board and thus happily escaped much animadversion or criticism of his acts.

—President Celia Reade reports that the Boston Consumptives Home was the gainer by $175 from the very fine Minstrel show given by the Branch in this city recently.

—The only reason why Mayor Murray did not put more of his brothers-in-law on the License Commission seems to have been that the supply ran out.—Boston Record.

—President Sullivan has been absent from some of the meetings of the Common Council of late on account of the death of his mother which recently occurred at East Boston.

—Nobody seriously doubts but that Woburn will vote no license by an overwhelming majority next December. The action of our present Mayor will cut the top off next year.

—Belcher furnishes all the lawn parties, high teas, banquets, lighted suppers, and Sunday School picnics with their supplies of icecream. He is head man in the business.

—Miss Emerson, a teacher in the Woburn High School, after her summer vacation at Washington and Sunapee, N. H., will make her future home in Winchester.—Winchester Star.

—Mr. C. H. Delano of 8 Waver Court is selling Whitecomb & Co's Cleaning Compound for cleaning carpets and the like, for which purpose it is said to be the best preparation extant.

—Big things tomorrow all around the lot. First will come the Inuita Canoe races in the forenoon; circus in the afternoon and evening; and other goings-on too numerous to mention.

—A week ago last Saturday one of McKay's homers flew from a point in York state to Woburn, a distance of 300 miles, in 357 minutes. It was one of 7 birds let by the Woburn Homing Club.

—Mr. Thomas J. Feeney of the Boston Herald will go out on vacation on August 5 and return to his post of duty on August 20. Exactly where he will lay off has not yet been determined on.

—J. H. Nason's summer excursions are popular. The points selected are favorite ones, and he gives tourists prices and accommodations that attract patrons. As a personal conductor Nason has no superiors.

—Mrs. J. W. McDonald of 10 Jones Court will start tomorrow for Charlestown, P. E. I., for her summer outing. She expects to be away from 4 to 6 weeks and will no doubt have a pleasant time.

—Mr. Frank W. Gilcrest, son of Supt. John Gilcrest of the Woburn Gas Works, and family of Pottsville, Pa., are here on a visit. They are well and hearty and many people were glad to see them again.

—Last Wednesday evening was a charming one for an openair concert at the National Band gave the public a delightful one on Woburn Common. It was one of their best. A large crowd of people came out to enjoy it.

—How would we poor people who can't go to opera nor symphony concerts nor even to Music Hall "pops" manage to keep house were it not for the democratic street organ and hurdy-gurdy and "vader leedle Yarmen Band?"

—Mrs. E. N. Blake tells us that Miss Livingston, Mrs. Freeman Blake's intended, taught in Miss Chapen's school at Northampton instead of Smith College as stated by the JOURNAL last week. We accept the correction with thanks.

—And now the applicants for licenses of the 1st class will have to go all over it again. The appointment of a License Commission makes it necessary to begin de novo, and how many will apply at this late date remains to be seen.

—Whenever Rev. Hugh Montgomery comes down from Lowell to see his old parishioners here he always gets a cordial greeting. He took Rev. Dr. Crawford's place in the M. E. church last Sunday and was listened to with pleasure.

—The annual canoe race for prizes by the Inuita Canoe Club will take place tomorrow, June 14, on Horn Pond. About 9 o'clock in the morning will be a good hour to assemble at the waterside. It is fair to presume the race will be worth seeing.

—Miss Jennie T. Lewis, a Chicago schoolmarm, paid a visit to friends in this city on Tuesday and returned to Newton on Wednesday where she will remain during her vacation with a former Chicago lady with whom she has for some time been intimate.

—Put Ervin Hatch's marrowfat peas and Belcher's icecream together on the same table and they make a dinner good enough for a king. By the generosity of those two gentlemen those items were the main features of the JOURNAL's midday repast last Sunday.

—The Salvation Army will hold a holiness meeting every Friday evening in place of their former service. The public are cordially invited. Additions are made to the Army almost every week, and Captain Gearing feels well satisfied with the result of the work done.

—A petition is in circulation in this city, as elsewhere in the country, to influence Congressional action on the Indian schools. It is against the appropriation of public money for the support of sectarian schools among the Nation's wards. Everybody ought to sign it.

—The Boston Record sent one of its "bright young men" to this city last Tuesday to look up public sentiment on Hugh Murray's License Commission family circle. The next day the "bright young man" told his story in the "natty little Record" and it was straight.

—Common Councilman Charles G. Lund shows at every meeting that he is a young man of business ideas and knows how to enforce them. He and young Councilman J. W. Shaw generally pull together, and they pull straight ahead. Pity there were not more like them on the Board.

—On the outside of this paper is printed a full and complete report of the proceedings of the last Massachusetts Legislature which our readers will find to be of great value and worthy of careful preservation. For reference purposes its utility cannot be overestimated. Cut it out and save it.

—Miss Josephine Ellis of Bennett st. left last week for England which she expects to "do" pretty thoroughly before returning, including also Scotland and Ireland. She went with a party from New York and elsewhere, who on leaving limited their stay on the other side to three months.

—Tomorrow J. P. Bliss of Chicago will make a big effort on the Waltham Bicycle Park to ride the fastest mile ever made on a wheel in public. The record is now 1 minute and 56 seconds, made by J. S. Johnson and that figure is what Bliss proposes to beat. The trial will doubtless draw a big crowd.

—The Managers of the N. W. S. R. have not started up their cars yet notwithstanding the Boston papers announce every afternoon that they are on the point of doing so. Supt. Brock says he knows nothing of any intention of putting on new hands and resuming travel. It looks as though the cars get to running to Winchester again. In the mean time the horses are getting fat.

—The Woburn Brass Band will give a Concert on the Common, on the evening of July 18, with the following PROGRAM.

1. March, Bangor. Hall
2. Overture. Post and Peasant. F. von Suppe
3. Boston. Trombone Solo. Best
4. Performed by A. P. Ripley.
5. Polka. Charming. King
6. Medley Overture. Slave Songs. Rainbird
7. Bouree. Scotland. Clarinet Solo. Rainbird
8. Performed by J. A. Weaver.
9. Concert Waltz. Symphonia. Beoda
10. Scherzo. Pauline and Lottie. Laurens
11. Walse. Characteristic. Wilson
12. Finale. Medley. T. H. MARRINAN, Director.

—The Mary Jones, with Capt. George W. Nichols as Business Manager and Bait Purveyor, will sail out of Boston Harbor at 9 o'clock next Sunday morning on their second annual fishing trip in Massachusetts Bay. Capt. Nichols will go into the city tomorrow afternoon to look up another boat to fill out the wharf on the morning of the ship to port for someone of the party to rescue. Other arrangements accordingly.

—Mr. Frank C. Nichols and family have gone to Little Johns Island in Casco Bay for their vacation. Being an ice dealer for Mr. Nichols' went off with both pockets stuffed full of money, while we poor unfortunate who buy the ice have to stay at home. Mr. Nichols declares on his honor that Casco Bay with its 365 Islands beats out all as a summer resort. He and his family are enamored with it and wouldn't swap it for all the Nantuckets and Nahants this side of the North Pole.

—The Orthodox and Baptist Sunday Schools held a union picnic at Haggitt's Pond yesterday. They went by stage road and it took 7 hours to hold them all. They at first lotted on going to the Willows but somehow the plans didn't work and Haggitt's was substituted. It was a large and merry party. Of course they hadn't more than got fairly started before it began to cloud up and look like rain. Our good Baptist people got it strong on water.

—William Palmer of 13 Union street this city, colored, one of Mr. E. Gerry Barker's best teamsters, fell from a load of lumber at No. Woburn yesterday morning and broke his leg between the ankle and knee. He was brought to the Centre Railroad station and surgical aid summoned.

—After the leg was put into shape Mr. Barker did everything possible for the comfort of Palmer and then had him sent to the Mass. General Hospital at his own instance and expense. Mr. Barker is evidently a "white" man. Dr. Bixby attended Mr. Palmer at No. Woburn.

—As the champion long distance cyclist Master Ernest T. Estabrook, about 17 years of age, son of Mr. W. F. Estabrook, the old and popular Main street baker and confectioner, is entitled to lay undisputed claim. The plucky lad started on his wheel at 4 o'clock last Wednesday morning.

—reached Brattleboro, Vt., at 1.30 p. m. on the same day, making the distance, 100 miles, in nine hours and a half, or an average of over 10 miles an hour. Evidently Ernest is a record breaker, for it is doubtful if there is another juvenile rider in the county who has any business with him as a long distance wheeler. He has gone up to Vermont to spend his vacation, and we expect to hear of some great bicycle feats by him while away.

—Druggist Blank has surrendered the lease of his store to the owner, Dr. George S. Dodge, who has also taken the stock off of Blank's hands. The business was done yesterday.

—Miss Cecile A. Wyman, Assistant P. M. and Secretary of the local P. O. Civil Service Board, is picking up her wardrobe, etc., for a summer sojourn at her old and favorite stamping-grounds, Edgartown, Dukes County, Mass. She expects to go some time next week, and the JOURNAL's hope is that she may have a pleasant outing.

—Master Workman Sovereign will not be able to induce the Woburn Knights of Labor to knock off work in aid of the Pullman strike. Our men have too much good sense to do that, and likewise they need all their hands and money they can lay their hands to. And besides, that great Western row will end in a stupendous fizzle for the strikers.

—Quite a good many of our dear schoolmarms have left us for the summer and others are packing their trunks to go. Some have fled to seaside resorts, others to the mountains, and a few will sample the delights of rustic life in temporary rural homes. We trust all will be happy and come back refreshed and built up strong for next year's work.

—Arthur W. Brown of the International Y. M. C. A. Training School at Springfield, Mass., is canvassing for subscriptions to a valuable book with a view of getting some money to help him on in his course. He is undoubtedly a reliable young man and as the work he is canvassing for is a good one it is to be hoped that our substantial people will give him a lift.

—Mr. Amos Cummings will begin his annual sale on Thursday, July 19, and continue the same through Friday, the 20th. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings' have got to have some money with which to defray their vacation outing expenses and take this method to raise it. A fine lot of goods will be offered for sale which must be sold regardless of cost. People had better get ready for this important sale.

—When Mr. Charles Munn, after 13 years of efficient service, severed his connection with the Cummings and Lawrence schools last week the teachers and pupils of the same kindly remembered him in the shape of an elegant easy chair. It was a handsome gift worthily bestowed. Although a surprise to Mr. Munn the fine present and the spirit that prompted it were duly appreciated and warmly acknowledged.

—The Managers of the N. W. S. R. have not started up their cars yet notwithstanding the Boston papers announce every afternoon that they are on the point of doing so. Supt. Brock says he knows nothing of any intention of putting on new hands and resuming travel. It looks as though the cars get to running to Winchester again. In the mean time the horses are getting fat.

—The Woburn Brass Band will give a Concert on the Common, on the evening of July 18, with the following PROGRAM.

1. March, Bangor. Hall
2. Overture. Post and Peasant. F. von Suppe
3. Boston. Trombone Solo. Best
4. Performed by A. P. Ripley.
5. Polka. Charming. King
6. Medley Overture. Slave Songs. Rainbird
7. Bouree. Scotland. Clarinet Solo. Rainbird
8. Performed by J. A. Weaver.
9. Concert Waltz. Symphonia. Beoda
10. Scherzo. Pauline and Lottie. Laurens
11. Walse. Characteristic. Wilson
12. Finale. Medley. T. H. MARRINAN, Director.

—The Mary Jones, with Capt. George W. Nichols as Business Manager and Bait Purveyor, will sail out of Boston Harbor at 9 o'clock next Sunday morning on their second annual fishing trip in Massachusetts Bay. Capt. Nichols will go into the city tomorrow afternoon to look up another boat to fill out the wharf on the morning of the ship to port for someone of the party to rescue. Other arrangements accordingly.

—Mr. Frank C. Nichols and family have gone to Little Johns Island in Casco Bay for their vacation. Being an ice dealer for Mr. Nichols' went off with both pockets stuffed full of money, while we poor unfortunate who buy the ice have to stay at home. Mr. Nichols declares on his honor that Casco Bay with its 365 Islands beats out all as a summer resort. He and his family are enamored with it and wouldn't swap it for all the Nantuckets and Nahants this side of the North Pole.

—The Orthodox and Baptist Sunday Schools held a union picnic at Haggitt's Pond yesterday. They went by stage road and it took 7 hours to hold them all. They at first lotted on going to the Willows but somehow the plans didn't work and Haggitt's was substituted. It was a large and merry party. Of course they hadn't more than got fairly started before it began to cloud up and look like rain. Our good Baptist people got it strong on water.

—William Palmer of 13 Union street this city, colored, one of Mr. E. Gerry Barker's best teamsters, fell from a load of lumber at No. Woburn yesterday morning and broke his leg between the ankle and knee. He was brought to the Centre Railroad station and surgical aid summoned.

—After the leg was put into shape Mr. Barker did everything possible for the comfort of Palmer and then had him sent to the Mass. General Hospital at his own instance and expense. Mr. Barker is evidently a "white" man. Dr. Bixby attended Mr. Palmer at No. Woburn.

—As the champion long distance cyclist Master Ernest T. Estabrook, about 17 years of age, son of Mr. W. F. Estabrook, the old and popular Main street baker and confectioner, is entitled to lay undisputed claim. The plucky lad started on his wheel at 4 o'clock last Wednesday morning.

—reached Brattleboro, Vt., at 1.30 p. m. on the same day, making the distance, 100 miles, in nine hours and a half, or an average of over 10 miles an hour. Evidently Ernest is a record breaker, for it is doubtful if there is another juvenile rider in the county who has any business with him as a long distance wheeler. He has gone up to Vermont to spend his vacation, and we expect to hear of some great bicycle feats by him while away.

—Druggist Blank has surrendered the lease of his store to the owner, Dr. George S. Dodge, who has also taken the stock off of Blank's hands. The business was done yesterday.

—Miss Cecile A. Wyman, Assistant P. M. and Secretary of the local P. O. Civil Service Board, is picking up her wardrobe, etc., for a summer sojourn at her old and favorite stamping-grounds, Edgartown, Dukes County, Mass. She expects to go some time next week, and the JOURNAL's hope is that she may have a pleasant outing.

—Master Workman Sovereign will not be able to induce the Woburn Knights of Labor to knock off work in aid of the Pullman strike. Our men have too much good sense to do that, and likewise they need all their hands and money they can lay their hands to. And besides, that great Western row will end in a stupendous fizzle for the strikers.

—Quite a good many of our dear schoolmarms have left us for the summer and others are packing their trunks to go. Some have fled to seaside resorts, others to the mountains, and a few will sample the delights of rustic life in temporary rural homes. We trust all will be happy and come back refreshed and built up strong for next year's work.

—Arthur W. Brown of the International Y. M. C. A. Training School at Springfield, Mass., is canvassing for subscriptions to a valuable book with a view of getting some money to help him on in his course. He is undoubtedly a reliable young man and as the work he is canvassing for is a good one it is to be hoped that our substantial people will give him a lift.

—Mr. Amos Cummings will begin his annual sale on Thursday, July 19, and continue the same through Friday, the 20th. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings' have got to have some money with which to defray their vacation outing expenses and take this method to raise it. A fine lot of goods will be offered for sale which must be sold regardless of cost. People had better get ready for this important sale.

—When Mr. Charles Munn, after 13 years of efficient service, severed his connection with the Cummings and Lawrence schools last week the teachers and pupils of the same kindly remembered him in the shape of an elegant easy chair. It was a handsome gift worthily bestowed. Although a surprise to Mr. Munn the fine present and the spirit that prompted it were duly appreciated and warmly acknowledged.

—The Managers of the N. W. S. R. have not started up their cars yet notwithstanding the Boston papers announce every afternoon that they are on the point of doing so. Supt. Brock says he knows nothing of any intention of putting on new hands and resuming travel. It looks as though the cars get to running to Winchester again. In the mean time the horses are getting fat.

—The Woburn Brass Band will give a Concert on the Common, on the evening of July 18, with the following PROGRAM.

1. March, Bangor. Hall
2. Overture. Post and Peasant. F. von Suppe
3. Boston. Trombone Solo. Best
4. Performed by A. P. Ripley.
5. Polka. Charming. King
6. Medley Overture. Slave Songs. Rainbird
7. Bouree. Scotland. Clarinet Solo. Rainbird
8. Performed by J. A. Weaver.
9. Concert Waltz. Symphonia. Beoda
10. Scherzo. Pauline and Lottie. Laurens
11. Walse. Characteristic. Wilson
12. Finale. Medley. T. H. MARRINAN, Director.

—The Mary Jones, with Capt. George W. Nichols as Business Manager and Bait Purveyor, will sail out of Boston Harbor at 9 o'clock next Sunday morning on their second annual fishing trip in Massachusetts Bay. Capt. Nichols will go into the city tomorrow afternoon to look up another boat to fill out the wharf on the morning of the ship to port for someone of the party to rescue. Other arrangements accordingly.

—Mr. Frank C. Nichols and family have gone to Little Johns Island in Casco Bay for their vacation. Being an ice dealer for Mr. Nichols' went off with both pockets stuffed full of money, while we poor unfortunate who buy the ice have to stay at home. Mr. Nichols declares on his honor that Casco Bay with its 365 Islands beats out all as a summer resort. He and his family are enamored with it and wouldn't swap it for all the Nantuckets and Nahants this side of the North Pole.

—The Orthodox and Baptist Sunday Schools held a union picnic at Haggitt's Pond yesterday. They went by stage road and it took 7 hours to hold them all. They at first lotted on going to the Willows but somehow the plans didn't work and Haggitt's was substituted. It was a large and merry party. Of course they hadn't more than got fairly started before it began to cloud up and look like rain. Our good Baptist people got it strong on water.

—William Palmer of 13 Union street this city, colored, one of Mr. E. Gerry Barker's best teamsters, fell from a load of lumber at No. Woburn yesterday morning and broke his leg between the ankle and knee. He was brought to the Centre Railroad station and surgical aid summoned.

—After the leg was put into shape Mr. Barker did everything possible for the comfort of Palmer and then had him sent to the Mass. General Hospital at his own instance and expense. Mr. Barker is evidently a "white" man. Dr. Bixby attended Mr. Palmer at No. Woburn.

—As the champion long distance cyclist Master Ernest T. Estabrook, about 17 years of age, son of Mr. W. F. Estabrook, the old and popular Main street baker and confectioner, is entitled to lay undisputed claim. The plucky lad started on his wheel at 4 o'clock last Wednesday morning.

—reached Brattleboro, Vt., at 1.30 p. m. on the same day, making the distance, 100 miles, in nine hours and a half, or an average of over 10 miles an hour. Evidently Ernest is a record breaker, for it is doubtful if there is another juvenile rider in the county who has any business with him as a long distance wheeler. He has gone up to Vermont to spend his vacation, and we expect to hear of some great bicycle feats by him while away.

—Druggist Blank has surrendered the lease of his store to the owner, Dr. George S. Dodge, who has also taken the stock off of Blank's hands. The business was done yesterday.

—Miss Cecile A. Wyman, Assistant P. M. and Secretary of the local P. O. Civil Service Board, is picking up her wardrobe, etc., for a summer sojourn at her old and favorite stamping-grounds, Edgartown, Dukes County, Mass. She expects to go some time next week, and the JOURNAL's hope is that she may have a pleasant outing.

—Master Workman Sovereign will not be able to induce the Woburn Knights of Labor to knock off work in aid of the Pullman strike. Our men have too much good sense to do that, and likewise they need all their hands and money they can lay their hands to. And besides, that great Western row will end in a stupendous fizzle for the strikers.

—Quite a good many of our dear schoolmarms have left us for the summer and others are packing their trunks to go. Some have fled to seaside resorts, others to the mountains, and a few will sample the delights of rustic life in temporary rural homes. We trust all will be happy and come back refreshed and built up strong for next year's work.

—Arthur W. Brown of the International Y. M. C. A. Training School at Springfield, Mass., is canvassing for subscriptions to a valuable book with a view of getting some money to help him on in his course. He is undoubtedly a reliable young man and as the work he is canvassing for is a good one it is to be hoped that our substantial people will give him a lift.

—Mr. Amos Cummings will begin his annual sale on Thursday, July 19, and continue the same through Friday, the 20th. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings' have got to have some money with which to defray their vacation outing expenses and take this method to raise it. A fine lot of goods will be offered for sale which must be sold regardless of cost. People had better get ready for this important sale.

—When Mr. Charles Munn, after 13 years of efficient service, severed his connection with the Cummings and Lawrence schools last week the teachers and pupils of the same kindly remembered him in the shape of an elegant easy chair. It was a handsome gift worthily bestowed. Although a surprise to Mr. Munn the fine present and the spirit that prompted it were duly appreciated and warmly acknowledged.

—The Managers of the N. W. S. R. have not started up their cars yet notwithstanding the Boston papers announce every afternoon that they are on the point of doing so. Supt. Brock says he knows nothing of any intention of putting on new hands and resuming travel. It looks as though the cars get to running to Winchester again. In the mean time the horses are getting fat.

—The Woburn Brass Band will give a Concert on the Common, on the evening of July 18, with the following PROGRAM.

1. March, Bangor. Hall
2. Overture. Post and Peasant. F. von Suppe
3. Boston. Trombone Solo. Best
4. Performed by A. P. Ripley.
5. Polka. Charming. King
6. Medley Overture. Slave Songs. Rainbird
7. Bouree. Scotland. Clarinet Solo. Rainbird
8. Performed by J. A. Weaver.
9. Concert Waltz. Symphonia. Beoda
10. Scherzo. Pauline and Lottie. Laurens
11. Walse. Character

A full line of Ladies' and Misses'

Summer Underwear

At very low prices at

COPELAND & BOWSER.

355 Main Street.

Wall Papers

Latest designs for 1894
Now in Stock.

Picture Frames made to order. Paper hangers furnished.

C. E. SMITH, 439 Main St., Opp. Central House.

50 Cents

Buys a Bottle of Delicious Fruit Syrups.

ALL FLAVORS.

— AT —

HICKEY'S PHARMACY,

334 Main Street, Woburn.

Try a bottle and be convinced.

Now Is The Time

To Have

C. M. STROUT

Put your Furnace and Stoves
in Repair.

About Our Cemetery.

MR. EDITOR:—I should like to ask through your columns, if there are any duties connected with the office of Cemetery Commissioner?

If there are, why should every year see our cemetery more and more neglected, our dead forgotten and dishonored, their resting-place one more object for the scornful finger of our neighbors? Is it possible that any honorable citizen can take upon himself a public trust unless he is willing to give to it a reasonable amount of his time and thought? Can the satisfaction of seeing his name appended to an annual report be the only motive which induces him to accept such a trust?

These and many more questions have forced themselves upon me in my frequent visits to the cemetery during several years past until now I feel impelled to put them to my fellow-townsmen also, confident that when once their attention is called to the matter they will unite in insisting that a trust which so nearly concerns us all should receive faithful stewardship.

Go to any cemetery in the adjoining towns, where will you find one in which such disorder exists as in ours, such lack of unity and good taste in arrangement, such neglect of natural advantages, such indifference to the feelings and convenience of those who go there to pay respect to their dead? I am told that even no record of interments has been kept.

Several times just before the last Memorial Day I visited our cemetery to discover any signs of preparation for the coming anniversary. Not a workman with rake or lawn cutter was anywhere to be seen. Tall grass and weeds flourished on all the public reservations. Patches of sorrel and daisies covered the poorer lands, scattering their destructive seed over lots where every effort had been made by individuals to produce a beautiful turf. Seeds and leaves, fallen from the trees early in the season, lay in untidy heaps over the avenues.

No attempt at any improvement could be seen. Only a few men, at work in the trenches on the newly opened ground along Salem street, were leisurely engaged in carrying out the checker-board design which apparently is the supreme artistic effort of the present Board—a design, which, probably from motives of mistaken economy, is innocent of the hand of professional skill, and which if executed, will forever rob that part of the cemetery of all beauty and grace.

On Memorial Day the same condition prevailed. Not even the main entrance, which at least in former years has been well kept, this year received any attention.

In a walk through the Cemetery I found that of all the public grounds set aside for ornamental purposes only the little Consecration Green had been neatly trimmed. The week following Memorial Day but increased the general disorder.

Surely these are not the "Impressions of the respectful remembrance cherished by the living in Woburn for their honored and beloved dead" of which Mr. Sewall in his History of Woburn speaks.

It seems to me that the Commissioners cannot properly understand the nature of their duties, else they would be able to visit the sacred spot, to see those of pained and indignant surprise, and we should not be obliged to answer with shamefaced silence the just criticisms of visitors from other towns.

May we not see a new spirit of interest in this department, a stronger evidence of that grateful remembrance which we owe to those who have helped to build up our city, a greater regard for the beautiful, without which no community can ever become a desirable home for people of respectability and refinement?—X.

Special Notice!

TO PURCHASERS:

We will deliver free of expense all purchases amounting to one dollar or more in any part of Reading, Wakefield, Stoneham, or Woburn, embracing the following:—

Wakefield, Greenwood, Montrose, Reading, North Reading, Woburn, North Woburn & Montvale.

Orders by Mail, Telephone, or Express will receive prompt attention.

HOUGHTON & DUTTON,
Cor. Tremont & Beacon Sts.,
BOSTON.

Telephone 951

Mendum—Clark.

MARRIED: At Lewiston, Maine, July 5, 1894, by Rev. S. A. Blaisdell, Mr. SAMUEL W. MENDUM, son of Mr. William H. Mendum of Boston, Mass., to Miss SARA FRANCES CLARK, daughter of Mrs. Harriet Brackett Clark of Lewiston.

Both had been teachers in the Woburn Public Schools. Mr. Mendum was Principal of the High School and it has not had a better one since the death of the lamented James I. Hanson. He had no enemies among the pupils or teachers and enjoyed the confidence and respect of the Board of Education in the highest degree. The school prospered under his leadership and he left it two years ago with the regrets of all. He is thoroughly educated, a man of high moral character and upright, and as a teacher of the highest order.

In Miss Clark Mr. Mendum won a matrimonial prize of great value. She has been one of the most popular and efficient teachers in the Woburn High School for several years, her term of service ending with the school year just closed. She is an accomplished lady and, judged by her choice of a husband, possesses as Mr. Mendum's wife, all the qualities of a perfect partner. Her choice of a husband, however, is a choice of a man who has the pleasure of her acquaintance, pronounces Mr. Mendum (as Clark) a person of good heart and brain, and well worthy of the excellent gentleman she has chosen for her partner for life.

The Journal tenders its best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Mendum.

A New "Priscilla."

Following out its predilection for names covering of colonial days, the Old Colony Steamboat Company has most appropriately christened its magnificent new steamer "Priscilla," fitting tribute to the grace and beauty of the Puritan maiden of Plymouth.

No small part of the interior superfluities of this notable steamer is played by the exquisite carvings which cover the hull. These were specially designed and manufactured for the "Priscilla," the work having been placed in the hands of Messrs. John and Henry of the Portland firm of "The Portland Carving Company," of the excellence displayed in the patterns submitted, in connection with those other highly important considerations—quality and price.

The grand saloon and galleries required 2700 yards of high grade Lowell Wilton in rich crimson shades lightened by a gold mosaic design and set off by a highly effective border having an Oriental figure in Pompeian red. For the state rooms 2500 yards of Lowell Wilton were used, showing a small scroll effect in grayish blue, in conjunction with a gold and cerise figure. The 14 bridal staterooms are carpeted in Wilton, the prevailing tones being green and terra cotta. The grand stateroom is beautified by a Lowell Wilton in old red, relieved by shades of yellow and green.

Scattered here and there about the grand saloon, and at the foot of the principal staircase, are some of the most beautiful specimens of Oriental rugs ever imported—Boston Herald.

Boston Theatres.

PALACE THEATRE.

There is no better amusement place in Boston to spend a warm summer afternoon or evening and at the same time enjoy a first class entertainment than at the Palace Theatre, which will be found cool and comfortable on the hottest day. An exceptionally strong programme has been arranged for next week by Manager Filling, whose managerial success in catering to the tastes of the patrons of the Palace is evidenced by the large audiences which are present at every performance. Baroque, specialty and a new series of living pictures will constitute the bill next week. A pleasing musical extravaganza entitled "Vassar Girls" will introduce the big company of clever comedians and pretty girls in a melange of melody and mirth.

KEITH'S NEW THEATRE.

There is a change of bill weekly at Keith's New Theatre and as the weeks go on the entertainment given here grows in popularity. Such high class vaudeville performances as Mr. B. F. Keith gives at his new Palace of Amusement have never been given here before. The bill this week is long and varied and includes Ross & Fenton in their latest creation from Charles Dickens, "Oliver Twist," presenting the thrilling murder scene of Nancy, the death of Nancy, the Bessells the lightning act modelled in a wonder. Then there are the four Parnellas, the musical street pavers, Doyles and Mitchell in Irish comedy and a score of first class artists.

BOSTON MUSEUM.

"Davey Jones" is a grand success and a long run may be expected. Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

THE TREMONT.

"The Grand Duchess" was presented with the following cast last evening: Mr. Clinton Elder, Fritz; Mr. McLaughlin, General Brown; Mr. Mac Collie, Baron Puck; Mr. Burroughs, Baron Grog; Miss Hilda Hollins, Prime Pail; Miss Maude Hollis, Maude; Mr. Henry Stanley, Nipponie; Miss Marie Morse, Izzi; and Miss Lena Dykstra, Olga. Miss D'Arville in a role she has already won brilliant success. The bill this evening 50th performance and souvenir.

LITERARY NOTICES.

DONAHOE'S MAGAZINE continues to blaze the way to mutual appreciation and honest friendship between Christian Americans, Catholic and Protestant. Its spirit, infused month after month into an ever-growing and enthusiastic constituency, must make for better conditions, social, political, and religious, in this country. The leading article of DONAHOE'S this month is thoroughly in line with the great purpose of the magazine; it bears the title, "Surprising to find in a Catholic magazine—The Blessings of the A. P. A." The article itself is more striking even than the title.

Among the notable and valuable articles in July AENEAS are Mrs. Helen H. Gardner's paper on Environment; Religion; Monometalism and Protection; a masterly analysis of the tariff and financial questions, showing their intimate relation. Occult Science in Thibet is treated by Heinrich Hen-soldi, Ph. D. India Silver, Wheat and Cotton by Samuel Leavitt. James L. Hughes criticizes Prof. Goodwin Smith's arguments against the enfranchisement of women. Mr. B. O. Flower's discussion of Japan's treaties and the subsequent legislative operations of the English and American governments, in a paper called Justice for Japan, is adum and that the American government shall keep its treaty pledge. The Editor, Mr. B. O. Flower discusses Crucial Moments in National Life from the evolutionary standpoint. There is a valuable symposium on Public Parks and Playgrounds, which is of great educational value and should be put in every aldermanic civic school.

In the July FORUM Mr. Frederic R. Coudert writes in the interest of Great Britain on "The American Protective Association," characterizing it as an un-American, un-Christian, and unmanly venture. Professor J. B. McMaster in The Rotten Career of the Know-Nothings traces the causes which led to the formation of this organization, of its end, and compares it to the American Protective Association, about which he evidently knows nothing. Frederic Harrison begins the first of a series of studies of the great writers of the Victorian age with an essay on "Carlyle's Place in Literature" of which subject the people have had a full and ample. Some of the other topics in this issue are The Education of the Manly Virtues and Practical Politics, Florida Towards Clear Aims in Education, The Ideal Training of an American Boy, Will the Co-Educated Co-Educate Their Children? and many others from writers of standing and ability.

KOSSUTH'S visit to America in 1852 was an event which raised greater interest at the time, and was altogether a more memorable episode, than any other similar event in America, except the visit of Lafayette thirty years earlier. It was not only because of the cause for which he stood, which had the sympathy of every American, but because of the marvelous eloquence and personal magnetism of the man. In New England, especially, the excitement was intense. George S. Boutwell was at the time Governor of Massachusetts, and had most to do with the official receptions given Kossuth, and came into close and intimate relations with him. To the July number of the NEW ENGLAND MAGAZINE, Mr. Boutwell, from whom we hear so seldom in the magazines, contributes an article which will be memorable, and which at this time will be very widely read, on "Kossuth in New England." It is not simply an account of Kossuth's famous visit; it is much more, a careful estimate of his work and genius. The article is fully illustrated, and will appeal especially to those whose memory runs back forty years. The Old Town of Berwick by Sarah Orne Jewett is another good article finely illustrated. This is followed by "The Life of the London Working Classes, The Country of Lorus Doone, The Privileged Dash, An Old-time Yankee Farmer, a full and interesting Editor's Table, and many other good things.

WINCHESTER.

H. L. Richards, Jr., is rusticating at Maplewood, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Shuman are at their cottage, Windproof.

Work on the High School addition is making good progress.

Miss Charlotte Scudder is at Provincetown for rest and fun.

Mrs. W. W. Northend will summer at North Chatham, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Rice will take their vacation at Swampscott.

Mr. Preston Pond is taking his vacation at beautiful Swampscott.

W. J. Mendum and wife are enjoying life at Kittery Point, Maine.

Much building of residences seems to be going on here this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Skillings are at Marblehead Neck for the season.

H. C. Miller and family will try country air and fare this summer.

Lawyer S. J. Elder and family have gone to Siasconnet, Nantucket, for the summer.

Chief of Police Richardson has been limping around on a sprained ankle. He is OK now.

Mr. H. M. Stover and family will occupy their seaside residence at York Beach this summer.

It is expected that the construction of our sewer system will be completed before cold weather sets in.

The Orthodox church and Y. P. S. C. E. hold joint services at 6 p. m. Sunday. The plan will continue through July and August.

Mr. Etienne C. Colomb, an old business man of this place and resident of Woburn, died in Portland, Me., last Saturday evening. He and wife were down there arranging their summer cottage for occupancy and died very suddenly.

Dr. B. T. Church, "fat, fair and forty," is looking after the health of our town in good shape. The Doctor's jovial good nature and optimistic view of everything has more to do in warding off diseases than "bubbles and blisters" have in healing them.

About A Road.

EDITOR OF THE JOURNAL:—The residents of the "West Side," Winchester, would like to express their appreciation of the work of Mr. Pratt on Cambridge street. More heavy teams pass over this street than over any highway in Winchester, but the condition of the road for twenty years past has been very bad. During the spring and fall it has been a daily occurrence for a loaded team to get stuck fast in the mud which in places is often two feet deep. The prayers and pleadings of residents have been brought to bear upon the past Road Superintendent in vain. He could not see the need of fixing a street so far from the centre although it was the main thoroughfare from Boston for teaming and used daily by many of the town's heaviest taxpayers. There has been too many fixes on the side of the road for twenty years, but Mr. Pratt saw the needs of the road at once and took immediate steps to rectify them. Our friend of The Star has evidently not explored this part of the town if he considers it unnecessary expenditure. The Star speaks of the nature of the gravel used, and it could not be compared with what has been used on the road heretofore as that would have made better bricks than roads.

If the town fathers will only allow Superintendent Pratt to use his own good judgment we shall soon have a road which can be used the year round.

Now let Woburn go and do likewise as the equal of Cambridge street in depth of mud in the spring from the Winchester line to Parker street can not be found in the country.

A CITIZEN.

Buckley's Arnie Sale.

The Best Sale in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chloasma, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Cures, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or your money back. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Gordon Parker.

Benjamin Franklin's Reply.

The man who desires to be successful should be honest in word and dealing. He should learn to do one thing well. Benjamin Franklin, when a poor boy, went to London and applied for work at a printing office. The foreman, doubting whether an American could do anything well, asked Franklin if he really could set type. For reply the boy stepped to one of the cases and set up the forty-sixth verse of the first chapter of St. John's gospel: "And Nathaniel said unto him, can there any good thing come out of Nazareth?" Philip said unto him, Come and see. This was done so quickly and accurately that the foreman, such a delicate proof that he obtained employment at once and was rapidly promoted. What we need is concentration. Have but one business, know it thoroughly and attend its minutest details.—Scribner's Magazine.

An Exhibition of Nerve.

A case occurred here which for coolness and nerve heads the list. It seems that a house on one of the principal streets was built upon a lot that was incumbered with a mortgage, while the vacant lot adjoining was free of incumbrance. The same party owned both lots as well as the house, and to save the building when foreclosure proceedings were begun he decided to move the house to the unincumbered lot adjoining. To think was to act, and when the sun went down again the owner sat serenely upon the front steps of his house, which ornamented the erstwhile vacant lot. The gentleman who held the mortgage was not a little nonplussed in the turn affairs had taken, but was obliged to admire the cool nerve of the house owner.—Americus (Ga.) Times-Recorder.

Philadelphia Architect. An amateur student of architecture finds that many of the pillars that support the old buildings of our towns are made in absolutely flawless proportion, according to classic models. It is just this regard for right proportion that gives these pillars their peculiar charm, though 30 men out of 100 who should feel the defect of a disproportioned pillar could not say wherein lay the disproportion.—Philadelphia Record.

Philadelphia Architect. An amateur student of architecture finds that many of the pillars that support the old buildings of our towns are made in absolutely flawless proportion, according to classic models. It is just this regard for right proportion that gives these pillars their peculiar charm, though 30 men out of 100 who should feel the defect of a disproportioned pillar could not say wherein lay the disproportion.—Philadelphia Record.

Philadelphia Architect. An amateur student of architecture finds that many of the pillars that support the old buildings of our towns are made in absolutely flawless proportion, according to classic models. It is just this regard for right proportion that gives these pillars their peculiar charm, though 30 men out of 100 who should feel the defect of a disproportioned pillar could not say wherein lay the disproportion.—Philadelphia Record.

Cut Me Out

Cut out this advertisement, and send it to the makers of

IVORINE
Washing Powder

with your address and 14c in stamps, and by return mail you'll receive their beautiful

WASHINGTON
SOUVENIR SPOON.

Address, THE J. B. WILLIAMS CO.,
Gloucester City,
PREMIUM DEPARTMENT.

Education & Employment

COMER'S
FOUNDED
COMMERCIAL COLLEGE
1840

Reopens September 4th.
A thorough and practical course of study in BUSINESS AND SHORTHAND,
preparing young people to earn their own living,
and to secure positions for upper grades.
54 YEARS AND 29,000 PUPILS
Speaks for itself. Prospectus free by mail or at office.

COMER'S COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,
666 Washington St., cor. Beach,
BOSTON, MASS.

TO LET.

House of 6 rooms; nearly new; rent moderate; south street near North Main Ave.
Apply to JAMES M. KIMBALL,
70 Garfield Avenue.

HOUSE LOTS

Freeman A. Loring, For Sale on Bryant and Arlington Streets.
Apply to JOHN F. DELANEY,
60 Montvale Ave.

A Man and Wife

Can get a very pleasant furnished room, with or without table board, 22 Wins St., Woburn.
J. W. NICHOLS,
Clockmaker.

Furnished Room

TO LET: To the right kind of applicant. Enquire at No. 15 Bennett street, Woburn.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Sheriff's Sale.

MIDDLESEX, ss.

CAMBRIDGE, June 22, A. D. 1894.
Taken on execution this day, and will be sold by public auction, on Saturday, the 25th day of July, 1894, at one o'clock and thirty minutes in the afternoon, at my office, No. 424 Cambridge street, in that part of said Cambridge called East Cambridge, all the right, title and interest that Amanda M. Greaves of Woburn, in said County, had liable to attachment or levy on execution, on the fifth day of March, 1894, at 10.20 A. M., that being the time when the same was attached on me, process thereon, situated on the western side of the County, on Ash street, containing one acre, more or less, of land, bounded north by the line of said land of Tristram Littlefield to land of Damon & Co., then westerly by said Damon & Co. land to land of Bert M. Boyce, then southerly by said Boyce's land and land of Diet Pratt to land of the heirs of Andrew Kingman; then easterly by said Diet Pratt to land of said Tristram Littlefield, then northerly by said Martin's land to a corner, then easterly by said Martin's land and through the house, to a stake in front of the house on said Ash street; then northerly by said Ash street to the point of beginning, being the same premises conveyed to said W. Perkins by deed of said W. Perkins, dated June 7, 1893, recorded, Middlesex South District, Libro 128, Page 607.

Also, a parcel of land adjoining the above land, bounded north by Woburn street; east by said Ash street, south by the parcel above described; west by land of one Littlefield, being the first parcel described in deed from Reading A. and M. Association to said Perkins, dated June 16, 1893, recorded, Middlesex South District, Libro 128, Page 608. Held, said parcels were devised to said Amanda by said Perkins.

JOHN R. FAIRBAIN, Deputy Sheriff.

Executor's Sale

— OF —

REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of a license from the Probate Court within and for the County of Middlesex, dated 15, A. D. 1894, the subscriber, executor of the will of said John Smith, late of Woburn, in said County of Middlesex, deceased, will sell at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Wednesday, the 18th day of August, 1894, at one o'clock in the afternoon, a certain parcel of land, containing three acres, more or less, situated in said Woburn, on the western side of Centre street, containing about three hundred and thirty square feet, bounded as follows, viz:—Northerly by land of said John Smith, late of Woburn, in said County of Middlesex, deceased, to a stake in front of the house on said Ash street; then northerly by said Ash street to the point of beginning, being the same premises conveyed to said W. Perkins by deed of said W. Perkins, dated June 7, 1893, recorded, Middlesex South District, Libro 128, Page 607.

Also, a parcel of land adjoining the above land, bounded north by Woburn street; east by said Ash street, south by the parcel above described; west by land of one Littlefield, being the first parcel described in deed from Reading A. and M. Association to said Perkins, dated June 16, 1893, recorded, Middlesex South District, Libro 128, Page 608. Held, said parcels were devised to said Amanda by said Perkins.

JOHN R. FAIRBAIN, Deputy Sheriff.

Administrator's Sale

— OF —

REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of a license from the Probate Court within and for the County of Middlesex, dated November 8, A. D. 1893, the subscriber, administrator of the estate of John Smith, late of Woburn, in the County of Middlesex, deceased, will sell at public auction on Thursday, the 22nd day of August, 1894, at three o'clock in the afternoon, the said parcel of land, containing three acres, more or less, situated in said Woburn, on the western side of Centre street, containing about three hundred and thirty square feet, bounded as follows, viz:—Northerly by land of said John Smith, late of Woburn, in said County of Middlesex, deceased, to a stake in front of the house on said Ash street; then northerly by said Ash street to the point of beginning, being the same premises conveyed to said W. Perkins by deed of said W. Perkins, dated June 7, 1893, recorded, Middlesex South District, Libro 128, Page 607.

Also, a parcel of land adjoining the above land, bounded north by Woburn street; east by said Ash street, south by the parcel above described; west by land of one Littlefield, being the first parcel described in deed from Reading A. and M. Association to said Perkins, dated June 16, 1893, recorded, Middlesex South District, Libro 128, Page 608. Held, said parcels were devised to said Amanda by said Perkins.

JOHN R. FAIRBAIN, Deputy Sheriff.

Mortgagee's Sale.

— OF —

REAL ESTATE.

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Edward J. McHugh to Edward S. Eaton, dated April 18th, 1890, and recorded with Middlesex Ss. Dist. Deeds, Book 1675, Page 128, and for breach of the condition of said mortgage, and for the purpose of enforcing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Thursday, August 17th, 1894, at one o'clock in the afternoon, a certain parcel of land, containing three acres, more or less, situated in said Woburn, on the western side of Centre street, containing about three hundred and thirty square feet, bounded as follows, viz:—Northerly by land of said John Smith, late of Woburn, in said County of Middlesex, deceased, to a stake in front of the house on said Ash street; then northerly by said Ash street to the point of beginning, being the same premises conveyed to said W. Perkins by deed of said W. Perkins, dated June 7, 1893, recorded, Middlesex South District, Libro 128, Page 607.

Also, a parcel of land adjoining the above land, bounded north by Woburn street; east by said Ash street, south by the parcel above described; west by land of one Littlefield, being the first parcel described in deed from Reading A. and M. Association to said Perkins, dated June 16, 1893, recorded, Middlesex South District, Libro 128, Page 608. Held, said parcels were devised to said Amanda by said Perkins.

JOHN R. FAIRBAIN, Deputy Sheriff.

Sheriff's Sale.

MIDDLESEX, ss.

WOBURN, June 22, 1894.
Taken on execution and will be sold by public auction, on Saturday, the 25th day of July, 1894, at one o'clock and thirty minutes in the afternoon, at my office, No. 424 Cambridge street, in that part of said Cambridge called East Cambridge, all the right, title and interest that Amanda M. Greaves of Woburn, in said County, had liable to attachment or levy on execution, on the fifth day of March, 1894, at 10.20 A. M., that being the time when the same was attached on me, process thereon, situated on the western side of the County, on Ash street, containing one acre, more or less, of land, bounded north by the line of said land of Tristram Littlefield to land of Damon & Co., then westerly by said Damon & Co. land to land of Bert M. Boyce, then southerly by said Boyce's land and land of Diet Pratt to land of the heirs of Andrew Kingman; then easterly by said Diet Pratt to land of said Tristram Littlefield, then northerly by said Martin's land to a corner, then easterly by said Martin's land and through the house, to a stake in front of the house on said Ash street; then northerly by said Ash street to the point of beginning, being the same premises conveyed to said W. Perkins by deed of said W. Perkins, dated June 7, 1893, recorded, Middlesex South District, Libro 128, Page 607.

Also, a parcel of land adjoining the above land, bounded north by Woburn street; east by said Ash street, south by the parcel above described; west by land of one Littlefield, being the first parcel described in deed from Reading A. and M. Association to said Perkins, dated June 16, 1893, recorded, Middlesex South District, Libro 128, Page 608. Held, said parcels were devised to said Amanda by said Perkins.

JOHN R. FAIRBAIN, Deputy Sheriff.

Agents Wanted

TO CARVE for the sale of our HOME GROWN Woburn Soap, "Special Toilet Soap," by W. & T. SMITH CO., THE GENEVA NURSERY, GENEVA, N. Y., established 1846. One of the largest and best known Nurseries in the United States.

For Picture Copying and Framing, for Steel or Rubber Stamps, for Book Binding, for the new and improved Mail Receiver (the best in the market, only $1.00), for Organs or any style Sewing Machines, call on or write to—

CHAS. R. ROSENQUIST,
40 Grove St., Woburn.

Agency for Steamship Tickets to or from Europe on all the lines. 24 Cabin and Storage at reduced rates.

J. H. PARKER, Jr.,

SALESMAN,

Resident of Woburn.

Will greet his neighbors cordially on business of social at

The Atkinson Furnishing Co.,
327 Washington Cor. Common St.,
BOSTON.

Vacation Notice.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1894.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of SPURWING, Horton, 412 Main Street, Moore & Parker, 574 Main Street, John Cummings, 24, Cummings Square, Albert Gibson, Woburn Highlands, W. A. Hanson, North Woburn, and at A. Litchfield, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

A FIZZLE.

The great Western strike is now numbered among the things that were. Debs is in jail at Chicago and has the company of several of his blowers and strikers who also are looking out from behind the bars. Pullman's help have returned to work on their own motion, or are about to do so; State and Federal troops will soon leave the scenes of riot; the railroads are all busy as formerly; and the strikers are praying to be reinstated in their old positions.

It was the highest labor strike fizzle on record. At first it really looked as though the strikers might accomplish something, but beyond costing Chicago and Cook county about $12,000,000, and a few lives, the thing turned out a most inglorious failure.

This will probably end the strike business for some time to come.

TAX RATE.

The Assessors have ascertained the tax rate for 1894. It is $18.30 on $1000, being an increase over last year of $1.70.

The report is not a surprise, except it may be that a larger increase was generally looked for. With pencil and paper any intelligent person can easily and quickly figure out the reason why the taxes of 1894 will be $1.70 higher than 1893. The loss of manufacturing plants, bank capital, and small stocks of leather on May 1, tell the story.

THE FORTY-FIFTH.

Last Tuesday the President signed the act for the admission of Utah into the sisterhood of States and now she's one of them. That adds another star to the cluster, making 45 in all.

Utah will be a Democratic State until it becomes civilized, and then it will vote the Republican ticket.

Last Sunday Post, Boston, contained a likeness and personal sketch of Captain Frank B. Wellock of the Boston pilots in length of service. There is also a picture of his pilot boat Sylph. The article was written by Amy Roberts who spent a couple of days recently with Capt. Wellock on the Sylph and is an interesting one. The old pilot is a North End boy, was commissioned when 20 years old, has "sailed the briny" ever since, and the perfume of no rose garden is so sweet to him as a good whiff of bilge water or the aroma from a pile of oakum.

The Medford Times is a new candidate for public honors and dollars and the first number looks as though it might well deserve both. At any rate it is a nice looking 8-column paper, well filled with local news, "independent in everything, neutral in nothing," and ought to make a good living in the rapidly growing and wide awake young city of Medford, notwithstanding the fact that one of the best papers in the county (the Mercury) has been prosperously established there for many years.

The Holyoke Democrat of recent date paid its compliments to Mayor Murray of this city in terms well calculated to arouse the ire of that Public Functionary. Just why the Democrat felt it to be its duty to arraign Woburn's Chief Executive with such severity is beyond our comprehension. The sentiment of the editorial was however in accord with the expressions of reputable papers all over the State.

Senator Cabot Lodge will please accept the JOURNAL's thanks for valuable Pub. Doc.

LOCAL NEWS.

CITY-TAXES.
F. C. B. B. Notice.
A. W. B. Notice.
W. R. B. Notice.
M. W. B. Notice.
M. W. B. Notice.

WANTED: Stitches on Shirts, Overalls, Coats, etc. Apply at once, A. L. Richardson & Bro.—t.

Harry L. Ansart is at Grove Hill Farm.

The St. Charles C. T. A. S. held an important meeting last evening.

W. F. Davis, Esq., was the guest of C. H. Flood at Clifton last week.

Mr. Henry J. Wentworth has gone to New Hampshire to rest and recruit.

Miss Grace Norris and her sister Sarah are taking their vacation at Concord, N. H.

In this locality farmers have got through haying, or nearly all of them have.

Fred Lowell is at the old stand at Hammond & Son's after a pleasant vacation.

Hanson, the jeweler, has a change in his aid this week which makes interesting reading.

Read J. D. Morrison, Jr.'s advertisement of a house for sale in this paper. He offers it cheap.

Particulars concerning a nice tenement for rent can be learned by calling at the Journal office.

Wednesday was another scorcher. But it was only one of many that we have had this season.

Mr. Frank Johnson is visiting his parents on Court street. He is looking robust and very fine.

The mother and brothers of Joseph McNerny who died in Charlestown last Sunday live in this city.

Those watermelons at Cane & Crowe's are enough to rejoice the souls of all the colored people in this city.

Rev. W. Carey Barrows of this city was a guest of the Bristol County G. A. R. Association last Wednesday.

Miss E. M. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. W. Thompson were guests of the Altemonte, Bethlehem, N. H., last week.

Miss Irene Boon has gone on a visit to her home in New Jersey. She will return to Garfield ave. in about 8 weeks.

Aberjona Colony, P. F., is growing. New members have been added to this week. It is a good organization.

The JOURNAL is indebted to Miss Flossie Morse for a beautiful bunch of sweet peas. She has our thanks.

It has been splendid weather for Belcher's icecream this week, and his is splendid icecream for the weather.

The question is, will the licensees of the Commission have to pay full yearly rates for their papers or only pro rata.

Walter L. Main's circus train was so unfortunate that it had to stop at Nashua Monday night Tuesday morning.

Walter T. Litchfield of Virginia is visiting his old home here in Woburn. His many friends are giving him a cordial welcome.

Editor John Wallace of the News has been carefully nursing a pair of crutches this week, the result of a bad sprain of the ankle.

Work on the new buildings on Woodberry's Corner is progressing in a satisfactory manner. They will get there by Christmas.

Mr. John Maxwell talks of moving back to his Winchester home. We hope he will not go for he makes a first-class Woburn citizen.

Mr. W. R. Putnam advertises a desire to be reinstated in their old position.

It was the highest labor strike fizzle on record. At first it really looked as though the strikers might accomplish something, but beyond costing Chicago and Cook county about $12,000,000, and a few lives, the thing turned out a most inglorious failure.

This will probably end the strike business for some time to come.

The Assessors have ascertained the tax rate for 1894. It is $18.30 on $1000, being an increase over last year of $1.70.

The report is not a surprise, except it may be that a larger increase was generally looked for. With pencil and paper any intelligent person can easily and quickly figure out the reason why the taxes of 1894 will be $1.70 higher than 1893.

The loss of manufacturing plants, bank capital, and small stocks of leather on May 1, tell the story.

The St. Charles C. T. A. S. held an important meeting last evening.

W. F. Davis, Esq., was the guest of C. H. Flood at Clifton last week.

Mr. Henry J. Wentworth has gone to New Hampshire to rest and recruit.

Miss Grace Norris and her sister Sarah are taking their vacation at Concord, N. H.

In this locality farmers have got through haying, or nearly all of them have.

Fred Lowell is at the old stand at Hammond & Son's after a pleasant vacation.

Hanson, the jeweler, has a change in his aid this week which makes interesting reading.

Read J. D. Morrison, Jr.'s advertisement of a house for sale in this paper. He offers it cheap.

Particulars concerning a nice tenement for rent can be learned by calling at the Journal office.

Wednesday was another scorcher. But it was only one of many that we have had this season.

Mr. Frank Johnson is visiting his parents on Court street. He is looking robust and very fine.

The mother and brothers of Joseph McNerny who died in Charlestown last Sunday live in this city.

Those watermelons at Cane & Crowe's are enough to rejoice the souls of all the colored people in this city.

Rev. W. Carey Barrows of this city was a guest of the Bristol County G. A. R. Association last Wednesday.

Miss E. M. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. W. Thompson were guests of the Altemonte, Bethlehem, N. H., last week.

Miss Irene Boon has gone on a visit to her home in New Jersey. She will return to Garfield ave. in about 8 weeks.

Aberjona Colony, P. F., is growing. New members have been added to this week. It is a good organization.

The JOURNAL is indebted to Miss Flossie Morse for a beautiful bunch of sweet peas. She has our thanks.

It has been splendid weather for Belcher's icecream this week, and his is splendid icecream for the weather.

The question is, will the licensees of the Commission have to pay full yearly rates for their papers or only pro rata.

Walter L. Main's circus train was so unfortunate that it had to stop at Nashua Monday night Tuesday morning.

Walter T. Litchfield of Virginia is visiting his old home here in Woburn. His many friends are giving him a cordial welcome.

Editor John Wallace of the News has been carefully nursing a pair of crutches this week, the result of a bad sprain of the ankle.

Work on the new buildings on Woodberry's Corner is progressing in a satisfactory manner. They will get there by Christmas.

Mr. John Maxwell talks of moving back to his Winchester home. We hope he will not go for he makes a first-class Woburn citizen.

Mr. W. R. Putnam advertises a desire to be reinstated in their old position.

It was the highest labor strike fizzle on record. At first it really looked as though the strikers might accomplish something, but beyond costing Chicago and Cook county about $12,000,000, and a few lives, the thing turned out a most inglorious failure.

This will probably end the strike business for some time to come.

The Assessors have ascertained the tax rate for 1894. It is $18.30 on $1000, being an increase over last year of $1.70.

The report is not a surprise, except it may be that a larger increase was generally looked for. With pencil and paper any intelligent person can easily and quickly figure out the reason why the taxes of 1894 will be $1.70 higher than 1893.

The loss of manufacturing plants, bank capital, and small stocks of leather on May 1, tell the story.

The St. Charles C. T. A. S. held an important meeting last evening.

W. F. Davis, Esq., was the guest of C. H. Flood at Clifton last week.

Mr. Henry J. Wentworth has gone to New Hampshire to rest and recruit.

Miss Grace Norris and her sister Sarah are taking their vacation at Concord, N. H.

In this locality farmers have got through haying, or nearly all of them have.

Fred Lowell is at the old stand at Hammond & Son's after a pleasant vacation.

Hanson, the jeweler, has a change in his aid this week which makes interesting reading.

Read J. D. Morrison, Jr.'s advertisement of a house for sale in this paper. He offers it cheap.

Particulars concerning a nice tenement for rent can be learned by calling at the Journal office.

Wednesday was another scorcher. But it was only one of many that we have had this season.

Mr. Frank Johnson is visiting his parents on Court street. He is looking robust and very fine.

The mother and brothers of Joseph McNerny who died in Charlestown last Sunday live in this city.

Those watermelons at Cane & Crowe's are enough to rejoice the souls of all the colored people in this city.

Rev. W. Carey Barrows of this city was a guest of the Bristol County G. A. R. Association last Wednesday.

Miss E. M. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. W. Thompson were guests of the Altemonte, Bethlehem, N. H., last week.

Miss Irene Boon has gone on a visit to her home in New Jersey. She will return to Garfield ave. in about 8 weeks.

Aberjona Colony, P. F., is growing. New members have been added to this week. It is a good organization.

Mr. S. Franksford Trull is preparing to build a residence in Woburn. With that laudable end in view he has bought a desirable site of Mr. Griffin Place on Main street which is in a neighborhood to which the best part of our population are flocking to make homes. It is a pleasant locality and already many of the finest houses in the city cover lots there.

Our esteemed friend and occasional contributor, Miss E. E. Fitchburg, is doing a little gentle summer loafing at Springfield just at present and will go from there to Grafton and keep doing so for a spell of so long as she likes.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. March, 2nd Regt.—Conn. Reeves
2. Overture, Light Cavalry. Suppa
3. Cornet Duett, Concert Polka. Parlow
4. Medley, Last of the Hugos. Brahms
5. Selection, Tannhauser. Wagner
6. The Advance and Retreat of the Salvation Army. Deph
7. Medley, Ten Minutes with the Minstrels. Deph

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

stands on Boston Common; witnessed the hanging of three pirates on the gallows; helped make the land which is now Newell, Nashua, Billerica and Cambridge streets, all the facts concerning which are as fresh in his memory as on the day of his triumph. On those lines Mr. Sheldon is an entertaining talker.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. March, 2nd Regt.—Conn. Reeves
2. Overture, Light Cavalry. Suppa
3. Cornet Duett, Concert Polka. Parlow
4. Medley, Last of the Hugos. Brahms
5. Selection, Tannhauser. Wagner
6. The Advance and Retreat of the Salvation Army. Deph
7. Medley, Ten Minutes with the Minstrels. Deph

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The National Band will give a concert on the Common Wednesday evening, July 25.

PROGRAM.
1. Intermezzo, Forget Me Not. Macbeth
2. Waltz, Blue Danube. Strauss
3. Col. Bruce. P. C. ALAN, Jr., Director.

The

SLOCUM'S OZONIZED NORWEGIAN LIVER OIL WITH GUAIACOL

There is not the least mystery about Slocum's Ozonized Norwegian Cod Liver Oil, with Guaiacol. The proprietors are perfectly willing to tell you it is made of. First, the oil, of course. Then a very active form of Oxygen, full of healthful, healing properties, and finally Guaiacol or purified crocote, made from the resin of beechwood. United in a compound pleasant to take, certain to be retained on the stomach, these three forces to disease cure consumption.

Ozone,

Send for Book on Ozone, mailed free. Prepared by T. A. Slocum Co., New York.

A NINETEENTH CENTURY RHYME.

Once upon a time
When women were the proper
They say it was not the proper
However, now to elope,
And this theory is to be a joke.

The oak trees of olden
Have such a solid way
Of thinking that the earth is theirs alone.
The time has come when
To resist this doctrine
She wants a foot of ground to call her own.

She knows that she was born
The oak tree to adore,
But all she asks is left and right to grow,
Did not the same dear earth
Give both wind and rain?
It is hard to make an oak believe it, though.

Still I shouldn't wonder much
If this lately dreamed of touch
Of independence in a vine were yet
A change for much more than
Than the world's been looking for
It may do more good than you expect.
—M. Muchmore in New York Sun.

JOANNA'S ROMANCE.

Where I first saw Joanna was in the draper's shop of a stagnant little town—now a place storied enough for a hundred towns, small and great. The place was quite dead and given over to its illustrious ghosts and to the lashing, tearing voices of the Atlantic that even the mild autumn shouted and canted incessantly, making a tumult in the air. The shop was hung with shawls and cheap, shoddy prints and linseys, so that in the dark one could scarcely see Joanna's bright head at first, as one came blinking out of the daylight. The shop was sunk a step or two below the street.

She was a big, generously built, handsome girl. Her hair, twisted in splendid coils, was of that pale color which is as much silver as gold. Her face, with its regular, large features, was suffused with a healthy color. She looked at us from large gray eyes, clear as agate and as hard.

Our business was to make some small purchase of a basket, if we could find one, to carry home a specimen of the town's manufacture of rough, red pottery. Joanna assisted us in this to the best of her power, and then some remark about the slowness of business brought down upon us a perfect avalanche of explanation.

Joanna had little to do at that moment. Indeed, for the hour or more we conversed with her, her customers were a small child for a halfpenny spoon, and a girl who came back repenting a purchase and wanting the money restored. With these Joanna dealt summarily and came back to the chat she was apparently eager for. She set us a couple of chairs between the lines of shawls and leaned forward herself with her arms akimbo on the narrow counter.

Here was a discourse on the Irish land laws, the relation between landlord and tenant, the deterioration in the condition of the Irish poor, with divergencies to the general subject of labor, the cause of strikes and a great many other things. We were well content to listen. The girl was extraordinarily well informed and intelligent. The soft brogue was musical.

Also we were in the very midst of a disturbed and distressed district and were both keenly interested. We were not English tourists, but a pair of Irish women, with a certain knowledge of the matter, though without Joanna's illumination from within.

We were both filled with admiration for the creature before us, for in the excitement of her voluble talk Joanna had grown brilliantly handsome. What a girl to be doing out farthing purchases in this melancholy, haunted little place, which was only tolerable because of the contrast to one's own vivid life far away in the world! As we talked at the window, the sea-blowed alders, and a dreary patter of dead leaves came down the street, where, at long intervals, a human footfall sounded.

"You will not always stay here," Rosa said, with sudden, quick sympathy. "You are saving your wages, no doubt, and will get away some day to a bigger place, because you are such a clever girl."

"Savin'" echoed Joanna scornfully. "No indeed, then. If you knew what my wages were, 'tis little you'd talk of savin'. An' what for would I save? I am as happy here as if I went foreign to Dublin or Cork. What for would I go savin' an' roamin'?"

Rosa answered deprecatingly. "But a fine, handsome girl like you won't spend all your life behind this poor little counter! You will want a business of your own, and it is perhaps possible you might think of marriage."

"Marriage!" said the girl almost fiercely. "There's not a man to be had here less nor £200, an' then old shows of widowers, for there's nothin' in else here. Why, if I ever could have under the sun £200, is it on the like of them I'd spend it?"

Her willing Cork brogue rang out vehemently in her indignation. It was our first experience of the results of the Munster matchmaking system. Rosa looked rather shocked. I felt vastly amused.

"But, my dear," said Rosa, "you are young and clever and handsome. There are many men in the world who would love you just for your own sake. Do you only think of marriage in the way you have said, and not at all as a union in which you would be dearly loved and love in return?"

"Men an' love," said Joanna emphatically. "I don't set any store by them. People marries for love for sure in Dublin an' Cork, not here. A friend of mine married for love, and what came of it? 'Twas love they had to live on, no more. Och, he was the worthless straggler with his love. He brought her to live on his father as long as the old man would let them. Then when they were turned out he took her to America. But there was no place there for him an' his idle ways an' his love. An' now they're back an' draggin' the devil by the tail for a livin', an' she supportin' the great lazy sturk. Him an' his love!"

It is impossible to express the disdain with which Joanna used that little word, which has wrought such great havoc and turned to such great issues in this world of ours. She hammered out the word every time she spoke it as if she was shattering the thing itself to atoms. She had drawn herself up till she looked like a fierce, handsome young amazon, her cheeks flushed, her eyes sparkling, her fingers pointing her contempt.

"The Lord of Love, ah, benedict! How mighty and how great a Lord is he!" I said, below my breath. Rosa looked as if she could scarcely endure these unattractive opinions in Joanna. Perhaps the girl saw she was shocked. At all events, her face and voice suddenly softened.

"Deed," she said, and you could hardly recognize her for the same girl, "tis not that I'd be sayin' love wasn't good for married people. Who'd know what it is to be betwixt husband an' wife better than me, James O'Connell's own sister! But 'tis married love, love that comes with the priest's blessing, an' none of that sort of maulin an' stragglin'. Look here, ladies," she said, with another sudden change of tone, "ye were talkin' about the evicted tenants."

"Well, if ye'd like to know one that has been through with it, I'll take ye any Sunday to see my own brother that old Poltimore evicted. He's under Major Hannay now, glory be to God! But 'tis long he an' the wife an' the little ones were in a cabin with the wick coming through the thatch, an' only the black shadow of Barlass hid for shelter against the north wind."

"We'll go gladly," said Rosa out of both of us, "and next Sunday after mass, if that will suit you, Miss O'Connell."

Joanna joined us at the hotel on Sunday about 1 o'clock. We had a rickety hotel car and a ragged driver with high spirits, who kept incessantly urging the lean little mare. We flew down hill and up hill at breakneck pace, but the urchin who was driving never relaxed his long whistle, which seemed perfectly maddening to the horse. However, as he left our enemies unheeded, we soon got used to our flight through the mud.

As we passed we scattered stones and flints freely from the road, set the hens screaming wildly and made an occasional old woman at a cottage door lift up her hands in amazement.

Agile, when we reached it, was a poor little place enough, but an castle of cultivation after Derry Moor. There we had seen the wide, boggy country, traversed by streams of water stained red with the iron washings, patches of partially reclaimed land were fast returning to bogland, and we saw the remains of roofless cabins standing up here and there black and smoke-black. Joanna was an entertaining companion.

She knew every man, woman and child along the road and could tack a history to each. She pointed us out this and that evicted farm, and far away under Barlass mountain made us see through the spiggies, as she called it, the huts of evicted tenants, hives shaped like the hut of a few New Zealand aborigines.

"But, Joanna," one of us said—she had prayed early in the day that she should call her Joanna—"how is it that if your brother couldn't pay rent to Colonel Poltimore he is able to pay for the land of this Major Hannay, who you say is of the old stock and a kind landlord?"

For once Joanna's loquacity seemed frozen. She answered sententially and with a vague flush. It was an answer that told nothing, and we felt that somehow we had presumed. There was an awkward silence for quite five minutes.

Agile was an ordered little place, with tiny patches of fields, cropped and in a way to prosper. The house was long and low, a house of three or four rooms perhaps. The dunghill was out of sight at the back, and the place, though bare, as if they were newcoopers, had a tidy look. As the car drew up at the house door a pale, pretty young woman ran out. She had a baby in her arms, and a boy or two hid his shy eyes in her skirt.

Following came her husband, a tall young man, happy looking, but with a certain pallor and thinness as from late privation. We were welcomed with genuine courtesy and hospitality, but Joanna seemed to disappear in the kisses of "young Jemmie." This scion of the house seemed to be a source of mingled pride and embarrassment to Joanna.

"Quit hidin' your face, you rogue," she said, trying to disentangle the fat arms from about her neck. "What'll the ladies think of you, at all, at all, for an unmanly rogue!"

It was a new light on Joanna. We felt a little out of it amid the enthusiastic affection of which she was the center. We lingered therefore in the room to which Mrs. O'Connell presently conducted us to lay aside our wraps. A charming room it was, with the tiny window framing purple Barlass, the gay patchwork quilt on the bed, the altar with its statue and lamp and the perfect purity we had scarcely looked for. We concluded that we should have to remake our impressions of Joanna.

When we went down at last she was sitting at the tea table, voluble as usual, and buttering hot potato cakes as they came from the griddle. The father and mother were looking at her with pleased admiration; the young Jemmie was standing by her skirt with an air of proper torsion. We had said to each other up stairs that the brother and his wife were of finer clay than Joanna, a judgment we afterward thought upon remorsefully.

However, there was no doubt that the simple refinement and good will written in the faces of the pair did not belie them. I have seldom spent a pleasanter evening than in that farmhouse kitchen. It was cold enough to enjoy the big turf fire; the tea and eggs and cake were delicious and served with a cleanliness that left nothing to be desired.

Then James O'Connell, though slower witted than the respectable Joanna, who often reminded him of this or that as he painstakingly elucidated for us the problem of landlord and tenant as shown on the Poltimore estate, was a man of much intelligence and a fair mindedness which came of his extreme gentleness. He said very little of his own sufferings in the bleak winter of eviction, when the shelter for him and his was one of those conical huts under the lee of Barlass.

"I wouldn't live through it again, ladies," he said, "not for a power. We carry the traces of it still—me an' Mollie, an' even little Jemmie, the creature. But thanks be to God an' another who'll be nameless,"—he lifted eloquent eyes to Joanna—"sure it's in heaven we are now, an' God knows if we'd be as happy if we hadn't had a taste of the other place."

The mystery of this speech was elucidated when Mrs. O'Connell took us to put on our hats. Joanna had gone out with her brother to see "a bit that needed drainin'." Nothing had amazed us more in this extraordinary girl than the practical knowledge and enthusiasm she showed about farming. We had left them to set forth up the hillside; Joanna with young Jemmie at her side, and with the baby clasped to a breast suddenly, it seemed to us, grown maternal. Mrs. O'Connell watched them forth with much pride and tenderness and then led the way to "the room."

We said something of Joanna's cleverness and beauty. As we did a clock came up in her sister-in-law's delicate face. In her excitement she became quite loud voiced and assertive.

"Handsome she is an' clever she is, ladies," she said, "but our Joanna's better than anythin'. She hates to be talked about, an' if she was here would be the first to clap her hand over her mouth. She'll never let it to any one that it was her own bit of fortune took us, as Jemmie says, out of hell and put us in heaven. She had £300 of her own that the old man scraped an' saved."

"He left Jemmie the land, but what good was it when the old lord died and Poltimore came in an' riz the rent? When we were out the under Barlass, she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast an' little Jemmie at the breast—she never mentioned to us what was in her heart. She came often bringin' the food an' the clothes that was life to me an' Jemmie—Jemmie that lay six months with a lung complaint caught in that rotten place. An' little Jemmie at the breast

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1894.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 412 Main Street, Moore & Parker, 375 Main Street, John Cummings, 21, Cummingsville, Albert Gleason, Woburn Highlands, W. A. Hanson, North Woburn, and at F. A. Litchfield's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

THE TARIFF BILL.

Up to as late as yesterday evening the fate of the tariff bill was still in doubt. The House and Senate conferees were as far apart as ever and apparently growing more so. The Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald thought there was a disposition on the part of the Senate to yield to the demands of Cleveland and House, but his reasonings did not warrant such a conclusion. Evidently the end is not yet.

Our acknowledgments with thanks are due to President William H. Baldwin for a copy of the "Report of the Boston Young Men's Christian Union for the year ending April 1, 1894," which is illustrated with numerous cuts of the Union's beautiful building on Boylston street, inside and out. The B. Y. M. C. U. was instituted in 1851, incorporated in 1852, since which date the amount of good it has accomplished can be fully known only when the great book is opened for inspection on the other side. President Baldwin has made a name in connection with the work of the Union which has become familiar and respected all over New England. He has a clear brain, a heart in the right spot, and is indefatigable in his efforts to save young men. He is well and favorably known in this city.

Chairman Martin of the Boston Police Commission is stirring up the force in that city in great style. If he is not balked by the other members of the Board there will be some rich developments before long. It is said that Police officers have been giving "protection" to disreputable houses and runshops in return for value received, and Com. Martin is going for them.

President George G. Crocker has issued an important proclamation to the members of the Republican Club of Massachusetts. It has the ring of true metal. It is crowded out of this week's JOURNAL.

The Journal learns that Mr. Robert J. W. Phinney is being favorably considered by the Woburn Democratic leaders as a candidate for Representative this fall. Mr. Phinney, however, will get a majority of the votes.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

City—Births: Tower House—For Sale, J. G. Maguire—Mort. Sale, J. G. Maguire—Mort. Sale, J. W. Johnson—Mort. Sale.

Wanted: Stitches on Shirts, Overalls, Coats, etc. Apply at once, A. L. Richardson & Bro.—47.

The days have decreased in length 1 hour and 11 minutes.

The choir at the Orthodox church are taking their vacation.

Miss Mabel McLeod is visiting the Nicholsons on Warren st.

Miss Laura DeLoria is visiting Mrs. F. E. Monti at Esopus, N. Y.

Miss Annie Hanson is visiting the family of Mr. Olsen on Wood's Hill.

Labor Day falls due this year on Sept. 3. "May its shadow never grow less."

Who will take Supt. Richardson's place? There will be a plenty of people after it.

Willis P. Gould of the Electric Light Co. and family have gone to Digby, N. S.

Wallace F. Davis came up from Bangor, Me., the other day to visit his folks in this city.

Miss Flora Nichols of Warren st. is at Hubbardston at the foot of Wauchoist Mountain.

It will not be long before our summer outers will begin to return to their home roosts.

There were fine thunder showers yesterday morning. There were succeeded by extreme heat.

Officers McKenna and French are off on their annual vacation. And much joy may they have of it.

Mr. G. W. Holland is selling out his home belongings. He will hold an auction sale on Aug. 16.

W. D. Richardson and Alonzo T. Young have gone to the White Mts. They rode their bicycles.

The second story front of Mr. A. Buckman's new building is to be occupied by a lawyer's office.

Mrs. J. H. Symonds and daughter are spending the summer on the historic Standish Shore, Duxbury.

Capt. G. N. Oliver and F. P. Hoyt of Montrose, Wakefield, visited friends in this city last Sunday.

Bert Munn and Charlie Wright are down in Maine fishing for white perch. At last accounts they were having great luck.

No one in his sober senses will attempt to deny the fact that for intense and continuous heat this summer has been the record.

Capt. L. W. Perham may possibly repeat in September next his last year's carriage drive through Vermont and visit friends there.

Providence permitting, an original short story entitled "Force of Habit" will appear on the first page of the JOURNAL next week.

The Hibernians will hold their annual picnic in Baldwin's Grove on Labor Day, Sept. 3. Great preparations are under way for it.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon there was thunder, lightning, rain and hail in generous profusion. Some of the hailstones were as large or larger than a piece of chalk.

Real estate agent E. J. Gregory has sold the John Smith property on Centre street to Mr. Thomas Salmon. Gregory gets there every time.

Mrs. Bailey, the well-known and popular Winchester vocalist, will sing at the First Congregational church in this city next Sunday.

We call attention to the advertisement from the Tower House, Greenwood, in this paper. It contains information of importance.

The Library will not be closed this year for the annual vacation. The employees will take their vacation of two weeks each by turns.

The concert given by the National Band on the Common last Wednesday evening was enjoyed by a big throng of people. It was fine.

Hammond & Son, principal clothiers, are still on deck. One can get fitted out in fine style at their store for a small amount of money.

Mr. George C. Conn and wife propose to leave today for their cottage on Peak's Island in Casco Bay where they will spend the most of August.

Do you travel? Are you a shipper? The "Rand-McNally Guide and Hand-Book" contains all pertinent information. Ask your News-dealer.

Mr. Alfred Willoughby will please accept our thanks for a copy of the Philadelphia Inquirer of Aug. 6 containing all the latest news from Quaker City.

Well, thus far August has treated humanity quite fairly, but the same cannot be truthfully said of June and July. August has been more compassionate.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Cummings returned from Newport, R. I., on Monday and on Tuesday went to Old Orchard for a season of rest and recuperation.

Mrs. E. V. Bridgman and Miss Lydia J. Valentine of Court street will visit their old home in Maine next week. They go to New Gloucester and regions thereabouts.

We are indebted to City Clerk Finn for a copy of the "Acts and Resolves of the Legislature of Massachusetts during the session of 1894," for which we return thanks.

Mr. C. M. Strout returned from Northport Camp Grounds, Me., last Wednesday. Mrs. Strout and the boys are still there. Mr. James W. Kimball went down and came back with Mr. Strout.

Mr. James Begley will go to Portland tomorrow evening and perhaps to Bar Harbor. Several Knights of Columbus go to Portland to institute a Lodge there and Mr. Begley is one of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Greenwood started last Wednesday in their own team for New Hampshire among whose lofty hills and lovely vales they expect to pass a month in the most delightful manner.

Mr. John P. Delaney has opened out with flying colors as a druggist at the Blank store in Dr. Dodge's building where everything looks as fine as a fiddle. He intends to run a first-class drugstore.

Miss Mertena Bancroft, organist at the Unitarian church, and her friend, Miss Emma M. Thompson of Medford, N. H., where they will pass 2 or 3 weeks in vacation pleasures.

Optician N. T. Wortley will make his regular visit to this city and be at Hanson's jewelry store on Wednesday and Thursday, August 22 and 23. Please bear these dates well in mind for they are important.

It is reported that Stephen Dow & Co., now making leather at the Max well factory in Winchester, intend to return to Woburn and occupy the Shaw factory. We do not vouch for the truth of the story although the person who told it to the JOURNAL is reliable.

Mr. P. G. Hanson, the prosperous Cambridge street farmer, horticulturist and pomologist, carried off two prizes for apples at the meeting of the Horticultural Society at Horticultural Hall, Boston, last week. One of them was a first and the other a second prize.

Every one of our readers will be interested to hear more of the great rough sale going on this week at Pease's Furniture Warehouses in Boston.

They are selling couches at the lowest prices ever known, ranging from $10 upwards. Orders can be sent by mail.

Mr. Elbridge Teel, who was born near the Tower House in Somerville on Sept. 15, 1813, and at an early age came to Woburn and learned the wheelwright trade, died at his home in Medford last Wednesday. He lived an upright life and was greatly respected by everybody.

Raphael Tuck & Sons, the great publishers of beautiful cards, have this year made attractive sets of paper dolls and which consist of one doll with costumes and sell for 10 and 25 cents.

Every one desiring to find amusement for the children should examine these at Copeland & Bowser's.

There is big dissatisfaction over the letting of the new schoolhouse contracts. In neither case did the lowest bidder get the job and it can easily be imagined that the carpenters and builders in this city are more than making Rome howl over what they are pleased to term the injustice of the thing.

The pleasure excursion to Salem Willows last Wednesday was composed of about 150 people. They went off in electric cars which were filled to repletion. The excursion was originated and carried out under the management of Post 161, G. A. R., Relief Corps 84, and Charles Bowers Winn Camp of S. of V. They had a hot day for it.

From the local columns of the Pullman, (the Journal dated Aug. 4), kindly left on our table by Mr. O. F. Bryant of Salem st., we glean the information that about all the industries of that town are in good working order again and that things are going on about as they were before the strike. Many of the old hands have been taken back, but it is doubtful if the originators and leaders of the senseless troubles ever again find work there. From the best information that the public are able to secure concerning the matter it would be serving them right too.

Rev. Cyrus Richardson of Nashua, N. H., in exchange with Rev. Dr. March, will preach at the Orthodox church next Sunday. It will be remembered that, as one of the descendants of the first settlers of Woburn, he attended our great 250th anniversary celebration two years ago and delivered one of the best addresses on that notable occasion.

City Clerk Finn publishes an important notice to doctors and midwives in this paper. The penalty for neglecting to comply with the law as to the return of births by them to the clerk's office is a severe one, but the statute ought to be enforced all the same. The returns called for make a part of the history of the place and doctors and midwives should be compelled to make them promptly.

Mr. Thomas J. Feeney of the Boston Herald left last Tuesday by boat for St. John, N. B., where he proposes to pass his annual vacation of two weeks. He will probably go up the St. John river to Fredericton, and perhaps try to do a little fishing and shooting in the streams and forests of the Provinces. We imagine that he can shoot a Faber No. 2 with much better results than a huntsman's shooting-iron.

The contract for building the Cambridge st. schoolhouse has been awarded to T. R. Corbett & Son for $18, to include everything above the cellar except the plumbing. They also set the heating boilers. The contract for the Rumford schoolhouse has been awarded to John S. Bonnell for $8779.

Supt. of Buildings Fernin will oversee the building of the Cambridge st., and architect Holt, the Rumford.

The Woburn Brass Band will give a concert on Woburn Common on Wednesday evening, August 15, with the following

PROGRAM.
1. March, Commander Taylor. Mixed
2. Overture, Amadeus. Ch. Lo. There
3. Paraphrase, Jerusalem The Golden. Rollinson
4. Clarinet Solo. Selected.
5. Fantasia, American. Benitz
6. Waltz, Souvenir Des Bains de Baden. Bouquet
7. Schottische, Alabama. D. Arey-Jacobs
8. Bolero. "Estudiantina". Banfield
9. Selection, "Favorita". Kithabon
10. Naval Rendezvous. T. H. MARRIN, Director.

There was a serious bicycle collision and wreck on Woods Hill last Sunday and Frank R. Colby was there to see and report it. Five Boston wheelmen were coursing down the Hill on Montvale Ave. regardless. A team ascending the rise compelled the leading cyclist to suddenly slow up but his immediate follower did not follow suit and the result, easily imagined, was a serious mixture of men and machines, loss of cuticle and injury to garments. One bicycle was woefully wrecked and the wheelmen were considerably hurt and had their pants badly torn.

Deputy Marshal Wilnot D. Nelson of Lynn assumed his new office Sunday. The Deputy has decided upon several changes in the station, and with the consent of Marshal Wells they are to be made. Thus are the advantages of a good education demonstrated.

Mr. Nelson received his schooling in police affairs while Chief of the Woburn force. He had competent instructors and was an apt pupil. John McGee, head of the teaching department, took great pains with Mr. Nelson and his recent promotion at Lynn shows that he was well taught.

The attendance on the Dedication Services of the infant son of Capt. George of the Woburn Barracks of the Salvation Army at the Congregational church last Tuesday evening was not as large as it was expected to be. Several prominent Boston Army officers took part in them but the weather militated strongly against a large gathering. It was a good meeting however and spiritually successful. Several persons passed the turning point in a life of sin to one of holiness, among them a man who has been 7 times an inmate of an penitentiary, another who has been away from Woburn 15 years, wandering over the world, and still several others.

Mr. Frank B. Richardson, for the last ten years Superintendent of the Woburn public schools, has resigned that office to take charge of the Burdett Business College of Boston. The School Board will meet this evening to act on the matter. His resignation will be a serious loss to our schools. He has filled the position of Superintendent with great fidelity and marked ability, and it will be no easy matter to find a man who will fill his shoes. He was the 4th incumbent of the position. The first was Thomas Emerson, then Eben H. Davis, followed by A. A. Woodbridge, and last, F. B. Richardson, whose administration has been eminently successful and whose retirement will be generally regretted.

Kite-flying prevails to quite an extent on Pleasant and Canal streets in the vicinity of Dow's Corner. A large number of boys have fallen victims to it and several adults have had narrow escapes. The storm centre is at and near the residence of Mr. Fred A. Hartwell. This is probably due to the fact that his son E. A. Hartwell is an expert at building the long-tailed aerial voyagers. He sent up a homemade 4-1-2 footer from Hudson's Grove the other night to the end of 3 balls of Waldo Thompson's twine, which will have been 2000 feet, or thereabouts, and it sailed away like a daisy. On Tuesday night two big ones were dispatched skyward with Chinese lanterns pendant and made a pretty show. But constructor E. A. found more than his match last Wednesday afternoon. He sent off a big one with string enough to reach over to Lexington. At first it shot towards the zenith like a rocket; soon it came down like a stick. The wind was so unfavorable for kite-flying as it was for George Gould's Vigilant in his race with the Prince of Wales's Britannia in their first trials of speed. He had to give it up, but the kite-flier knows no abatement in the neighborhood of the Hartwell home.

J. Henry Hutchings, M. D., Ophthalmic and Aural Surgeon, devotes special attention to diseases of the Eye, Ear, Throat and Nose. Glasses fitted and errors of refraction corrected. Office, 516 Main street. Hours, 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Some species of fungi have neither roots, stem, leaves, flowers nor seeds, and derive their nourishment through their pores.

The latest record on the 16 lb. shot is 31 ft. 7 in.

The Bible Training Class will meet again next Monday evening.

A 12 lb. shot and new vaulting poles have been added to the athletic grounds. Fifty young men have joined the Woburn Association in the last sixty days.

Members of the Association can procure the silver triangle pin at the office.

Members are reminded that the Association year begins the first of Sept. instead of Jan., which change will bring the annual meeting on the 4th of Sept.

Something for the boys to read: clean, bright, and interesting: "The Argosy," a monthly magazine for boys, has just been added to the papers already to be found in the Reading Room.

Our boys were beaten in the ball game at Chelsea last Saturday, score: 6 to 13. But when we consider that the average age of the members of their team was three years more than ours, it is not so bad after all, and we should like to try them again.

"A Square Deal" will be the subject of the address to be given at the 4 o'clock meeting for men next Sunday afternoon in Concert Hall. Mr. H. Matthews, a renowned gambler who has been engaged in evangelistic work for some years, will speak. Special music has been arranged. Men only.

During the past 4 months the cornerstones of three large and expensive Association buildings have been laid. Fitchburg and Springfield are erecting handsome buildings for the local work, and the third was the Training School gymnasium. On July 4 the cornerstones of the Melrose building was being making the fourth within a short time. In view of the general business depression this speaks eloquently for the Association work and the generosity of Christian people.

Camp Wobegon.

NEWFOUND LAKE, Bridgewater, N. H., Aug. 8, '94. EDITOR OF JOURNAL: Camp Wobegon is now pitched on the shores of Newfound Lake. The first contingent arrived at Uncle Hiram's Saturday about 6 p. m. and after a hearty meal of baked beans and potatoes we put up two tents and got our sleeping arrangements ready for the night. There were in the party Messrs. Wier, Dow, Crosby, Buchanan, Sawyer, Bonelli and Buck.

The next day the camp was put in good order, and in the afternoon was ready to receive visitors.

We have had several callers, among them Mr. C. Alonzo Pierce and Mr. Walter D. Richardson, members of the Towanda Club, who are riding through N. H. on their wheels. They came at supper time Monday and stopped over night in our "spare chamber."

Today another member of the Wobegon arrived, viz: Sport Brown. He was met at the stage by a body guard and escorted to camp in style.

On Saturday we expect the following Woburnites: Edw. F. Brigham, Elliott F. Trull, George R. Ferguson and Arthur C. Wier. In the evening of that day we shall have a grand celebration on the point, details of which we will give you next week.

Everybody is well and enjoying themselves. "Reveille" sounds every morning at 5.30 and "taps" every night at 10.30 together with several intermediate calls suitable for a military camp.

With regards to all our Woburn friends we remain

Yours truly,
WOBEGON CAMPING CLUB,
by G. W. Buchanan.

City Government.

COMMON COUNCIL.

A special meeting was held with President Sullivan in the Chair on last Tuesday evening. But little was done.

The order for a sewer loan of $20,000 was passed a second reading, 6 to 4. This indicates clearly enough that the order cannot pass the Council finally, for it takes a two-thirds vote for that. It seems equally clear that nothing will be done on the sewers this season, although the Board of Commissioners are ready to proceed with the work when the money is forthcoming.

An effort was made to secure suitable quarters for the Board of License Commissioners, but it was no go.

The ordinance creating the office of City Engineer was advanced one step. The sticklers for a highway loan are likely to get it.

The usual amount of cross-firing was indulged in by the members.

The Aldermen were summoned to meet in conclave but a quorum could not be drummed up.

Seaside Correspondence.

SOUTH WELFLEET, MASS., August 5, 1894.

EDITOR JOURNAL: South Welfleet seems to be the principal attraction for Woburn people this summer.

The following are here at present: Mr. and Mrs. George Waters, Master Harold Waters, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Buchanan, Master Alvah Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Bartlett, Miss Madeline Bartlett, William R. Bartlett, Jr., Miss Annie Richardson, Mrs. Charles M. Howe, Miss Edith M. Howe, Mrs. B. H. Nichols, B. H. Nichols, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Rigby, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Foss, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Stone.

Among the arrivals expected this week are, Mrs. William Beggs, Miss Clara Fox.

G. R.

The Councilors.

The Councilors of Woburn have endorsed Dr. John M. Harlow of the city as a candidate for Councilor in the Sixth District to succeed Luman T. Jeffs of Hudson. Dr. Harlow served in the Senate in 1885 and 1886.

The friends of Senator Shaw of North Chelmsford are doing considerable work in his behalf, and there is going to be a very pretty contest for the place.—Lowell Citizen.

Not much of a contest according to present indications. The nomination is waiting for Hon. John M. Harlow, Citizens.

New Census Law.

Under the new census law, if adopted by a town or city, there does not appear to be much opportunity for springing a job on the voters. It is true that in too many instances the census program is "cut and dried" beforehand, but it is now provided that the State Committee gives three weeks' notice to the local committees, and the local committees must give seven days' notice. These notices must be conspicuously posted in at least five places on lines of public travel and in every post office in the town or city. The time of opening the census must be later than 7.30 p. m., and the polls must remain open not less than half an hour. It will be seen that the law contemplates the greatest publicity and plenty of time for the receipt of votes, and only the apathy of voters can give it into the control of dishonest hands.—Beverly Citizen.

Reason.

There is a reason for everything.

When the managers of the Fall River Line recently gave us the contract to carpet their magnificent new steamer "Priscilla"—the finest piece of marine architecture afloat—it was not a hap-hazard award, but it was based on careful judgment as to style, quality, and price.

It will be well to think of this when next you need goods in our line.

John H. Pray, Sons & Co.,
CARPETS AND UPHOLSTERY,
658 Washington St. (opposite Boylston St.), BOSTON.

Insure your Property in Solid Companies!
S. B. GODDARD & SON,
General Insurance and Real Estate Agency,
New Savings Bank Building, Woburn, Mass.

Assets of Companies represented over Thirty Millions.

Losses promptly adjusted and paid at this office.

Boston Office—No. 93 Water Street.

Hon. John M. Harlow Endorsed.

At a meeting largely attended by representative Republicans of Woburn, held in this city Thursday evening, August 2, the following endorsement of Hon. J. M. Harlow's candidacy for the 6th Councillor District was presented by Hon. E. F. Wier and unanimously adopted by the meeting:—

E. D. HAYNES, Chairman,
WM. W. CROSBY, Secretary.

"By the voluntary retirement of the Hon. L. T. Jeffs, the Republicans of the 6th Councillor District will be called to place in nomination his successor."

"Many of the friends of Hon. John M. Harlow of Woburn have expressed a wish that he might allow his name to go before the Convention as a candidate for the office, believing as they do that should he prove to be the choice of the convention, the party could felicitate itself upon having placed in nomination one who would add dignity and strength to the ticket."

"Dr. Harlow is well-known as a man of the highest integrity, exceptionally well-versed in business matters, endowed with a keen intellect supplemented with scholarly attainments, which with his broad and comprehensive views upon the great moral, political and social questions of the day, and his unswerving loyalty to the principles of the Republican Party in the past, attest his fitness for this position."

"Dr. Harlow served in the Massachusetts Senate in 1885 and 1886 with honor and distinction, and his friends now present his name for the suffrages of the Republicans of the Sixth Councillor District, confident in the belief that, in honoring him with this nomination, the best interests of the district will be subserved, and an honorable, conscientious and faithful public official will be secured."

There were present at the meeting the following prominent citizens and Republican leaders: Hon. Edward D. Hayden, Hon. Joseph C. Polard, Hon. E. F. Wier, Representative George F. Wier, John M. Portal, Chairman of the Republican City Committee, Col. William T. Grammer, Messrs. William Beggs, Benjamin Hinckley, Jacob Brown, Montessor T. Allen, Caleb H. Jaquith, John C. Buck, Frederic A. Flint, Alex. Grant, Chas. H. Johnson, Francis M. Pushee, Elmore A. Pierce, Henry M. Ennes, Frank E. Wetherell, J. Fred Leslie, Wm. W. Crosby, Phineas G. Hanson, B. Frank Waldron, Edward H. Lounsbury, D. Wilbur Brown, W. Frank Fowle and Mr. John Winn of Burlington.

Hon. Edwin F. Wier brought forward Hon. John M. Harlow for a home endorsement as a candidate for Councilor and made an excellent speech in support of the move. He also submitted an encouraging report of the state of the candidate's canvass in the District. He paid a high compliment to the ability, standing and integrity of Dr. Harlow and expressed confidence in his being able to achieve a handsome victory in the convention and at the polls.

The eulogium of Capt. Wier and his confidence in the success of the movement, which originated outside of Woburn, to make Hon. John M. Harlow the successor of Councilor Jeffs, were enthusiastically endorsed by the meeting.

Woburn Postoffice.
Letters addressed as follows awaited owners August 7, 1894:—
Miss Eva Field.
Mrs. Anne Hoban (Forwarded from Lowell).
Miss Josie Shes, 209 Oak St.
Mr. Arthur Turner.
A. B. WYMAN, P. M.

MEETINGS FOR THE WEEK.
TRINITY EPISCOPAL—At 10.30 A. M., Morning Prayer and sermon.
NORTH CONGREGATIONAL.—The morning services omitted. The other services as usual.
W. A. M. (Unitarian)—Will hold services at 2.30 P. M., Rev. William Jackson, pastor. All are welcome.
CONGREGATIONAL.—At 10.30 A. M., preaching by Rev. Cyrus Richardson, D. D. of Nashua. Mrs. Bailey will sing. Christian Endeavor at 6 P. M. Preaching by Dr. Richardson at 7 P. M. The usual meeting Wednesday evening.

Died.
Date, name, and age, inserted free; all other notices 10 cents a line.
In this city, August 2, Daniel, son of John and Mary McAdams, 3 years, 8 months, 20 days.
In this city, August 7, Catherine, child of Martin and Susan Fishery, aged 7 months, 27 days.
In Lexington, August 2, Mary Collins, aged 64 years.

New Census Law.
Under the new census law, if adopted by a town or city, there does not appear to be much opportunity for springing a job on the voters. It is true that in too many instances the census program is "cut and dried" beforehand, but it is now provided that the State Committee gives three weeks' notice to the local committees, and the local committees must give seven days' notice. These notices must be conspicuously posted in at least five places on lines of public travel and in every post office in the town or city. The time of opening the census must be later than 7.30 p. m., and the polls must remain open not less than half an hour. It will be seen that the law contemplates the greatest publicity and plenty of time for the receipt of votes, and only the apathy of voters can give it into the control of dishonest hands.—Beverly Citizen.

Excellent Work.
A well-known Woburn politician has been in town looking after Dr. Harlow's chances in the councillor fight now on. Senator Shaw is in it too. A meeting a night or two ago showed that excellent work had been put in.—Lowell Citizen.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
You smile at the idea. But if you are a sufferer from Dyspepsia

And indigestion, try a bottle, and before you have taken half a dozen doses, you will involuntarily think, and no doubt exclaim,

"That Just Hits It!"

"That something else is a magic touch!" Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, cures a natural, healthy desire for food, gives refreshing sleep, and in short, raises the health tone of the entire system. Remember

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Cures

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion

Strikes! Strikes!

We propose to make a Strike for a good Summer Business by offering good goods at low prices.

Clearance Sale!

As the season advances we find as usual many odds and ends of Summer Goods that must be disposed of before opening our Fall and Winter stocks, to this end we have marked many goods at very low prices. We have also devoted a counter to specialties to which we shall add attractive bargains almost daily. We think it will be to the advantage of consumers to look these goods over before purchasing elsewhere. Also one case of Blankets, good quality, at the unheard of price of 40 Cents per pair.

COPELAND & BOWSER.

355 Main Street.

Wall Papers

Latest designs for 1894
Now in Stock.

Picture Frames made to order. Paper hangers furnished.
C. E. SMITH, 439 Main St., Opp. Central House.

50 Cents

Buy a Bottle of Delicious Fruit Syrups.
ALL FLAVORS.

HIGHLEY'S PHARMACY.
304 Main Street, Woburn.

Try a bottle and be convinced.

Now Is The Time

To Have

C. M. STROUT

Put your Furnace and Stoves in Repair.

AWAY DOWN EAST.

SYDNEY, Cape Breton, Aug. 4, 1894.

DEAR EDITOR:—Uncle Sam has a peculiar family. Every summer each and every one of us goes to the Cape Breton coast, on a vacation, where they need it or not, some go to the mountains, some to the seashore, where they come to anchor for a while, eat clams, blueberries, and get through the regulation exercises with satisfied resignation. Others become rovers over sea and land like Dr. Syntax, in search of the picturesque.

Your correspondent being one of the rovers by nature, finds himself today at the jumping off place of way-down-east. This city of Sydney has the finest harbor in this part of the world. Capacious, easy of access, deep water, and it free from freezing up in winter, would be the great Eastern terminus of trans-Atlantic and coastwise travel; as it is, it is quite a place. In the harbor are four French men-of-war, an American steam yacht, two large passenger steamers, coasters and quite an assortment of small craft.

On July 21st we sailed from the planet in the fine steamer Olivette of the Boston S. S. line for Halifax, N. S. We carried the warm weather quilt out to sea. Mercury in Boston on starting 85°, at Sydney on arrival 65°, a warm day at that; sea as smooth as glass all the passage, only the long, lazy, Pacific-like of the vessel indicating that we were at sea; very few passengers having the mal de mer.

Halifax is an old, dingy city of 40,000 inhabitants on a splendid harbor heavily fortified. Leaving Halifax we took the Flying Bluebonnet express for this city via Port Mulgrave and the Bras-D'Or (arm of gold), pronounced Bras-D'Or Lake, or God's Lake, a tale, the wonder of the world in this region. At Port Mulgrave on the Strait of Canso we took a steamer down the Straits and then through Lenox passage between Cape Breton Isle and Isle-dan-Dame (Madam's Island) to St. Peter's land, through which, by a tide lock, we were landed at 10 o'clock, P. M., at the south end of Bras-D'Or Lake, close enough to answer for night in October at home. The name was given by the first discoverers, the French, who, when they saw the splendid sight, furnished by the rays of the rising sun, gave them the expressive name above mentioned. At 6 A. M., after a quiet nooze in our berth, under blankets, and a splendid view of the dawn, the steamer started on a 140 mile passage through these inland salt water arms of the sea (for the sea is really at sea) for this place. How much the summer loiterers by the sea miss by their inaction. As the boat went on, the wheel was continually in motion, now just clearing a jutting headland, now swinging round an island putting to shame many a one raved over in the States, startling ducks, cranes, geese, and other birds from their haunts, who went screaming away, and continually opening up scenes of beauty, till the eye almost weared with the never ending succession of these wonders. The shores of these "arms of the sea" rise up to mountains like those of Lake Winnepesaukee, sloping down to the water, with white, always in water, farm houses dotting the scenery with large barns, showing a quiet rural population, mostly French, and a few English, and we wound through these charming scenes stopping at Baddeck and other points, passing by Prof. Bell's summer cottage perched on a high jutting point at Baddeck, and finally, we emerged into the open ocean in a strong sea breeze which kicked up a sea, sending the passengers inexperienced in sea travel to the land, and the old men and women round headlands to North Sydney and Sydney (both in one harbor) the point of our destination.

These vast "arms of the sea" are filled with cod, mackerel, haddock and lobsters, and long as I have lived near the ocean I never realized the delicious quality of these fish till now, for here they are superb. You catch them from the ship's side in the Bras-D'Or, swing them into the pot, pull them out and eat them off the hook, but in a sweet, and luscious, while some old fogey regales you with yarns of these far off regions.

The Micmacs, a tribe of Indians inhabiting these lands, say that these fish were first given them by the Great Spirit as a special gift; that they escaped out to sea, and then all the world got them, but in a deteriorated condition, and that, at the end of the world, these fish will all return here and again become the property of the Great Spirit, and the people left will all be Great Spirit takers them, the last, the best of mankind, with their beloved fish to the "Happy Hunting Grounds" in store for them, but in a certain island here, the last of July, in a great wigwam or medicine house, where the Head Chief always resides, and go through their ancient ceremonies, war dances and rites, recount their ancient glories, tell of their glorious future, and eat their beloved cod, haddock and lobsters in a grand fish-bake every day for some time. We were fortunate enough to arrive in season to see the performance in full operation. This has always been their custom, and no doubt always will be, till they become extinct, or, as they say, till the Great

Three vast "arms of the sea" are filled with cod, mackerel, haddock and lobsters, and long as I have lived near the ocean I never realized the delicious quality of these fish till now, for here they are superb. You catch them from the ship's side in the Bras-D'Or, swing them into the pot, pull them out and eat them off the hook, but in a sweet, and luscious, while some old fogey regales you with yarns of these far off regions.

The Micmacs, a tribe of Indians inhabiting these lands, say that these fish were first given them by the Great Spirit as a special gift; that they escaped out to sea, and then all the world got them, but in a deteriorated condition, and that, at the end of the world, these fish will all return here and again become the property of the Great Spirit, and the people left will all be Great Spirit takers them, the last, the best of mankind, with their beloved fish to the "Happy Hunting Grounds" in store for them, but in a certain island here, the last of July, in a great wigwam or medicine house, where the Head Chief always resides, and go through their ancient ceremonies, war dances and rites, recount their ancient glories, tell of their glorious future, and eat their beloved cod, haddock and lobsters in a grand fish-bake every day for some time. We were fortunate enough to arrive in season to see the performance in full operation. This has always been their custom, and no doubt always will be, till they become extinct, or, as they say, till the Great

Three vast "arms of the sea" are filled with cod, mackerel, haddock and lobsters, and long as I have lived near the ocean I never realized the delicious quality of these fish till now, for here they are superb. You catch them from the ship's side in the Bras-D'Or, swing them into the pot, pull them out and eat them off the hook, but in a sweet, and luscious, while some old fogey regales you with yarns of these far off regions.

The Micmacs, a tribe of Indians inhabiting these lands, say that these fish were first given them by the Great Spirit as a special gift; that they escaped out to sea, and then all the world got them, but in a deteriorated condition, and that, at the end of the world, these fish will all return here and again become the property of the Great Spirit, and the people left will all be Great Spirit takers them, the last, the best of mankind, with their beloved fish to the "Happy Hunting Grounds" in store for them, but in a certain island here, the last of July, in a great wigwam or medicine house, where the Head Chief always resides, and go through their ancient ceremonies, war dances and rites, recount their ancient glories, tell of their glorious future, and eat their beloved cod, haddock and lobsters in a grand fish-bake every day for some time. We were fortunate enough to arrive in season to see the performance in full operation. This has always been their custom, and no doubt always will be, till they become extinct, or, as they say, till the Great

Three vast "arms of the sea" are filled with cod, mackerel, haddock and lobsters, and long as I have lived near the ocean I never realized the delicious quality of these fish till now, for here they are superb. You catch them from the ship's side in the Bras-D'Or, swing them into the pot, pull them out and eat them off the hook, but in a sweet, and luscious, while some old fogey regales you with yarns of these far off regions.

The Micmacs, a tribe of Indians inhabiting these lands, say that these fish were first given them by the Great Spirit as a special gift; that they escaped out to sea, and then all the world got them, but in a deteriorated condition, and that, at the end of the world, these fish will all return here and again become the property of the Great Spirit, and the people left will all be Great Spirit takers them, the last, the best of mankind, with their beloved fish to the "Happy Hunting Grounds" in store for them, but in a certain island here, the last of July, in a great wigwam or medicine house, where the Head Chief always resides, and go through their ancient ceremonies, war dances and rites, recount their ancient glories, tell of their glorious future, and eat their beloved cod, haddock and lobsters in a grand fish-bake every day for some time. We were fortunate enough to arrive in season to see the performance in full operation. This has always been their custom, and no doubt always will be, till they become extinct, or, as they say, till the Great

Three vast "arms of the sea" are filled with cod, mackerel, haddock and lobsters, and long as I have lived near the ocean I never realized the delicious quality of these fish till now, for here they are superb. You catch them from the ship's side in the Bras-D'Or, swing them into the pot, pull them out and eat them off the hook, but in a sweet, and luscious, while some old fogey regales you with yarns of these far off regions.

The Micmacs, a tribe of Indians inhabiting these lands, say that these fish were first given them by the Great Spirit as a special gift; that they escaped out to sea, and then all the world got them, but in a deteriorated condition, and that, at the end of the world, these fish will all return here and again become the property of the Great Spirit, and the people left will all be Great Spirit takers them, the last, the best of mankind, with their beloved fish to the "Happy Hunting Grounds" in store for them, but in a certain island here, the last of July, in a great wigwam or medicine house, where the Head Chief always resides, and go through their ancient ceremonies, war dances and rites, recount their ancient glories, tell of their glorious future, and eat their beloved cod, haddock and lobsters in a grand fish-bake every day for some time. We were fortunate enough to arrive in season to see the performance in full operation. This has always been their custom, and no doubt always will be, till they become extinct, or, as they say, till the Great

Three vast "arms of the sea" are filled with cod, mackerel, haddock and lobsters, and long as I have lived near the ocean I never realized the delicious quality of these fish till now, for here they are superb. You catch them from the ship's side in the Bras-D'Or, swing them into the pot, pull them out and eat them off the hook, but in a sweet, and luscious, while some old fogey regales you with yarns of these far off regions.

Special Notice!

TO PURCHASERS:

We will deliver free of expense all purchases amounting to one dollar or more in any part of Reading, Wakefield, Stoneham, or Woburn, embracing the following:—

Wakefield, Greenwood, Montrose, Reading, North Reading, Woburn, North Woburn & Montvale.

Orders by Mail, Telephone, or Express will receive prompt attention.

HOUGHTON & DUTTON,
Cor. Tremont & Beacon Sts., BOSTON.
Telephone 951.

Boston Theatres.
BOSTON MUSEUM.

"Davey Jones" continues to be a drawing attraction and will remain until Sept. 1. The changes in several scenes during the run have all tended to give additional interest to the production. The prominent concerts in the great foyer continue to find favor with the patrons. Some new songs and dances will be given this week which will tend to make "Davey Jones" more attractive than ever.

AUSTIN'S PALACE THEATRE.

Another big continuous performance will be given next week at the Palace Theatre in Woburn. The show will commence at 8 o'clock and run without intermission until 11 o'clock at night. The attraction will be Atwood's Fun Makers in conjunction with which there will be a big bill of specialty and living pictures. The Atwood company is one of the best vaudeville organizations on the road and for several seasons has toured the country with marked success. The show as a whole will be found first class.

KEITH'S NEW THEATRE.

The magnificent series of Living Pictures given at Keith's are a grand success and have filled the theatre to its utmost capacity. The specialty is of the best and none but high class artists engaged to represent the pantomime comedienne, Mlle. Plar-Morris, is a wonder and one of the leading attractions this week. Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, are the highest salaried team in America. The Lars Larsen family of Danish acrobats, Bogert & O'Brien the black face musical team, the Johnson trio, and many others make a long and varied bill for this week.

THE WOBURN SQUARE.

The opening of this beautiful theatre last Saturday evening with Walter Sanford's grand scenic production, "The Power of Gold," was a grand event. The house was filled to overflowing. The cast was large and the scenic effects magnificent. Following "The Power of Gold" "Lost in New York" will be given. Some of the attractions given at Keith's are a grand success and have filled the theatre to its utmost capacity. The specialty is of the best and none but high class artists engaged to represent the pantomime comedienne, Mlle. Plar-Morris, is a wonder and one of the leading attractions this week. Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, are the highest salaried team in America. The Lars Larsen family of Danish acrobats, Bogert & O'Brien the black face musical team, the Johnson trio, and many others make a long and varied bill for this week.

THE WOBURN SQUARE.

The opening of this beautiful theatre last Saturday evening with Walter Sanford's grand scenic production, "The Power of Gold," was a grand event. The house was filled to overflowing. The cast was large and the scenic effects magnificent. Following "The Power of Gold" "Lost in New York" will be given. Some of the attractions given at Keith's are a grand success and have filled the theatre to its utmost capacity. The specialty is of the best and none but high class artists engaged to represent the pantomime comedienne, Mlle. Plar-Morris, is a wonder and one of the leading attractions this week. Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, are the highest salaried team in America. The Lars Larsen family of Danish acrobats, Bogert & O'Brien the black face musical team, the Johnson trio, and many others make a long and varied bill for this week.

THE WOBURN SQUARE.

The opening of this beautiful theatre last Saturday evening with Walter Sanford's grand scenic production, "The Power of Gold," was a grand event. The house was filled to overflowing. The cast was large and the scenic effects magnificent. Following "The Power of Gold" "Lost in New York" will be given. Some of the attractions given at Keith's are a grand success and have filled the theatre to its utmost capacity. The specialty is of the best and none but high class artists engaged to represent the pantomime comedienne, Mlle. Plar-Morris, is a wonder and one of the leading attractions this week. Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, are the highest salaried team in America. The Lars Larsen family of Danish acrobats, Bogert & O'Brien the black face musical team, the Johnson trio, and many others make a long and varied bill for this week.

THE WOBURN SQUARE.

The opening of this beautiful theatre last Saturday evening with Walter Sanford's grand scenic production, "The Power of Gold," was a grand event. The house was filled to overflowing. The cast was large and the scenic effects magnificent. Following "The Power of Gold" "Lost in New York" will be given. Some of the attractions given at Keith's are a grand success and have filled the theatre to its utmost capacity. The specialty is of the best and none but high class artists engaged to represent the pantomime comedienne, Mlle. Plar-Morris, is a wonder and one of the leading attractions this week. Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, are the highest salaried team in America. The Lars Larsen family of Danish acrobats, Bogert & O'Brien the black face musical team, the Johnson trio, and many others make a long and varied bill for this week.

THE WOBURN SQUARE.

The opening of this beautiful theatre last Saturday evening with Walter Sanford's grand scenic production, "The Power of Gold," was a grand event. The house was filled to overflowing. The cast was large and the scenic effects magnificent. Following "The Power of Gold" "Lost in New York" will be given. Some of the attractions given at Keith's are a grand success and have filled the theatre to its utmost capacity. The specialty is of the best and none but high class artists engaged to represent the pantomime comedienne, Mlle. Plar-Morris, is a wonder and one of the leading attractions this week. Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, are the highest salaried team in America. The Lars Larsen family of Danish acrobats, Bogert & O'Brien the black face musical team, the Johnson trio, and many others make a long and varied bill for this week.

THE WOBURN SQUARE.

The opening of this beautiful theatre last Saturday evening with Walter Sanford's grand scenic production, "The Power of Gold," was a grand event. The house was filled to overflowing. The cast was large and the scenic effects magnificent. Following "The Power of Gold" "Lost in New York" will be given. Some of the attractions given at Keith's are a grand success and have filled the theatre to its utmost capacity. The specialty is of the best and none but high class artists engaged to represent the pantomime comedienne, Mlle. Plar-Morris, is a wonder and one of the leading attractions this week. Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, are the highest salaried team in America. The Lars Larsen family of Danish acrobats, Bogert & O'Brien the black face musical team, the Johnson trio, and many others make a long and varied bill for this week.

THE WOBURN SQUARE.

The opening of this beautiful theatre last Saturday evening with Walter Sanford's grand scenic production, "The Power of Gold," was a grand event. The house was filled to overflowing. The cast was large and the scenic effects magnificent. Following "The Power of Gold" "Lost in New York" will be given. Some of the attractions given at Keith's are a grand success and have filled the theatre to its utmost capacity. The specialty is of the best and none but high class artists engaged to represent the pantomime comedienne, Mlle. Plar-Morris, is a wonder and one of the leading attractions this week. Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, are the highest salaried team in America. The Lars Larsen family of Danish acrobats, Bogert & O'Brien the black face musical team, the Johnson trio, and many others make a long and varied bill for this week.

THE WOBURN SQUARE.

The opening of this beautiful theatre last Saturday evening with Walter Sanford's grand scenic production, "The Power of Gold," was a grand event. The house was filled to overflowing. The cast was large and the scenic effects magnificent. Following "The Power of Gold" "Lost in New York" will be given. Some of the attractions given at Keith's are a grand success and have filled the theatre to its utmost capacity. The specialty is of the best and none but high class artists engaged to represent the pantomime comedienne, Mlle. Plar-Morris, is a wonder and one of the leading attractions this week. Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, are the highest salaried team in America. The Lars Larsen family of Danish acrobats, Bogert & O'Brien the black face musical team, the Johnson trio, and many others make a long and varied bill for this week.

THE WOBURN SQUARE.

The opening of this beautiful theatre last Saturday evening with Walter Sanford's grand scenic production, "The Power of Gold," was a grand event. The house was filled to overflowing. The cast was large and the scenic effects magnificent. Following "The Power of Gold" "Lost in New York" will be given. Some of the attractions given at Keith's are a grand success and have filled the theatre to its utmost capacity. The specialty is of the best and none but high class artists engaged to represent the pantomime comedienne, Mlle. Plar-Morris, is a wonder and one of the leading attractions this week. Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, are the highest salaried team in America. The Lars Larsen family of Danish acrobats, Bogert & O'Brien the black face musical team, the Johnson trio, and many others make a long and varied bill for this week.

THE WOBURN SQUARE.

The opening of this beautiful theatre last Saturday evening with Walter Sanford's grand scenic production, "The Power of Gold," was a grand event. The house was filled to overflowing. The cast was large and the scenic effects magnificent. Following "The Power of Gold" "Lost in New York" will be given. Some of the attractions given at Keith's are a grand success and have filled the theatre to its utmost capacity. The specialty is of the best and none but high class artists engaged to represent the pantomime comedienne, Mlle. Plar-Morris, is a wonder and one of the leading attractions this week. Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, are the highest salaried team in America. The Lars Larsen family of Danish acrobats, Bogert & O'Brien the black face musical team, the Johnson trio, and many others make a long and varied bill for this week.

THE WOBURN SQUARE.

The opening of this beautiful theatre last Saturday evening with Walter Sanford's grand scenic production, "The Power of Gold," was a grand event. The house was filled to overflowing. The cast was large and the scenic effects magnificent. Following "The Power of Gold" "Lost in New York" will be given. Some of the attractions given at Keith's are a grand success and have filled the theatre to its utmost capacity. The specialty is of the best and none but high class artists engaged to represent the pantomime comedienne, Mlle. Plar-Morris, is a wonder and one of the leading attractions this week. Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, are the highest salaried team in America. The Lars Larsen family of Danish acrobats, Bogert & O'Brien the black face musical team, the Johnson trio, and many others make a long and varied bill for this week.

grin was being played on the piano. The house was beautifully decorated with plants, ferns and flowers, amid which the young couple stood, while the following relatives and friends were grouped about to witness the ceremony: Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Poole, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Poole, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Poole, Mr. Parker Poole, Mr. Andrew R. Linscott, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Linscott, Messrs. A. H. Lewis, Harry and Robert Linscott, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Linscott, Mr. and Mrs. George Linscott, Miss Sadie Linscott, Mrs. Lizzie Thomas of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Linscott of Chicago, Mrs. Henry Thornton and Miss Mabel Thornton of Providence, Mrs. Nellie DeLace of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Huntington Porter, Mr. Ed Porter, Miss Florence Porter, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Levers, Miss Mary Eaton, Mr. Davis of Birmingham, England. After the ceremony the company were invited to an elegant repast, such as Belcher, the only, can supply. The presents were numerous and costly, and as they were arrayed in the large dining room they presented a rare collection which Mr. and Mrs. Poole may well feel proud of. At 10 o'clock the happy couple drove from the house to the station and the Central, amid showers of rice and good wishes, where they took the train at 10.30 for a two weeks' trip. On their return they will reside at their future home on Tidd avenue, which has been tastefully fitted and furnished.

Wilmington.

News Agent Ames is meeting with great success in his business this summer. He is popular with everybody, being prompt, courteous, and fully alive to the wants of the people.

The 7th annual meeting of the Gowing Family Association will be held at the residence of Mr. William H. Carter, 2d, in this village on Aug. 30, instant, to which a cordial invitation is extended to all persons bearing the family name and all connected with the family by marriage. Mr. Robert Gowing is President of the Association, and Mr. C. W. Swain, Secretary. The affair will take the shape of a Basket Picnic, and coffee to be provided by the Wilmington members. A pleasant re-union is anticipated.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Gordon & Co.

WINCHESTER.

Eugene Tappan is at Seaside. Mr. J. N. Merrill is at Duxbury. Mr. C. E. Conant is at Manset, Me. W. I. Plummer is at Meredith, N. H. Miss Elna Dearborn is at Asbury Park. Mr. George A. Fernald is at Beach Bluff.

W. D. Middleton and family are at York Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Eben Caldwell are at York Beach.

Hugh E. Rice is spending his vacation at Beachmont.

Rev. A. W. Littlefield is at Chatham for his vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith visited Portland, Me.

Miss E. E. Marston is visiting at South Linscott, Me.

W. H. Horrick and family are summering at Ocean Spray.

Dr. Adeline Church arrived at Bologne, France, on July 17.

Frank A. Locke and family are at Lake Winnepesaukee, N. H.

Mrs. H. W. Messer and Lucy Hargrove are at Ellingham, N. H.

A. C. Vinton and family are at East Jeffrey, N. H., for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Snellie have gone to Hartford for several weeks.

The Selection will probably reinstate the telephone at police headquarters.

Mrs. R. C. Whitten is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Eva D. Crowder, at Winthrop.

Sunday services have been discontinued at the Unitarian church until Sept. 2.

Mrs. Thomas F. Wells of Main street has returned from a visit to Portland, Me.

Mrs. H. E. Cutting and her daughters Ada and Minnie left last week for Montreal.

Messrs. W. D. Richards and J. Murray Marshall are making a tour to Nova Scotia.

Henry, Anthony, Earl and Leroy Richardson are camping out at Bridgewater, N. H.

Miss Mary E. Symmes of Niagara Falls is visiting Miss Alice Symmes at 70 Main street.

Mrs. S. M. Kilder of Manchester, N. H., the guest of Mrs. J. W. Jarvis, 9 Myrtle street.

Mrs. Charles Sleeper with Master Richard Sleeper are passing a week at Newport, Vt.

Rev. W. S. Hubbell of Buffalo occupied the pulpit at the First Congregational church last Sunday.

Mrs. T. C. Hard gave a very enjoyable whist party to the Ways and Means Club last Friday.

Mr. J. N. Merrill sailed last Saturday on his 21st European trip. He makes the Merrill parties.

Alph K. Sweet of Hartford is spending his vacation at the home of his parents, 4 Hillside avenue.

The beautiful home of the late General John M. Curran is now occupied by Mr. E. A. Buck formerly of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Stone and family will occupy for the rest of the season, their charming cottage at Point Allerton, Md.

The Mason estate is being taken out into house lots. Selectman E. H. Stone will erect a handsome house thereon at a very early day.

J. Rogers Rich was enjoying himself at last accounts at Etretat on the coast of Normandy. He expects soon to join his brother Thomas in Paris.

Mr. H. C. Underwood has just broken ground for a handsome residence, corner of Main and Cottage streets, east side, opposite the old Hamilton mansion.

Miss Linda A. Fitch, who has been visiting relatives in Ohio for the past two years, has returned home. Mrs. George F. Fitch of Fernbrook, O., accompanies her.

Cards received in town announce the intended marriage on August 17, of Charles Fisk McKnight, formerly of this town, but now of Nashville, and Miss Minnie B. Hill of that city.

Fish Commissioner Brackett is engaged in raising English Pheasants with which to stock the Middlesex Fells, part of the Metropolitan Park system. Speaking of parks where is the Winchester Park "at" now days?

JACOB M. ELLIS, CONTRACTOR.

WOBURN, MASS., July 26, 1894.
I am prepared to do all kinds of work at prices lower than ever before, and would solicit the patronage of the people of Woburn and neighboring towns requiring anything in the following lines:—

Stone Masonry, Grading, Heavy Teaming, Safe and Furniture Moving, Concreting, Roofing, Cementing Cellars, etc.

REAL ESTATE.

I have For Sale 20 HOUSE LOTS on Salem street, from 2 to 10 cents a foot.
15 Lots on Wade Ave. and land adjoining from $400 an Acre and down.

J. M. ELLIS, Residence, Office and Stables, Salem St.
Telephone 2.

Education & Employment
Arnold Veinot, employed by R. C. Evans, while riding a bicycle in the square yesterday morning, fell from the wheel, sustaining a fracture of the leg bone of his right leg, just above the ankle. He was attended by Dr. March.

The Rev. J. W. Sturtevant, pastor of the Church of the Epiphany, with his charming family are at their summer home, "The Dreyer," near the shore of Lake Umbagog, Mass. Mr. Sturtevant recently purchased the Dreyer residence and will occupy it on his return in September.

Mr. Charles N. Bacon has commenced the erection of a new house on his estate at Mystic. It will be occupied when completed by his son Mr. Louis Bacon and his charming family, (that is to be), Miss Hattie Horton of Canton, Mass.

Mr. J. Frank Dorsey has become quite an expert wheelman and many an outing has enjoyed this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey accompanied by Wm. C. Henry and Miss Mary Richards have just returned from a most delightful canoe trip up the Concord and Sudbury rivers.

The east side of the town is fast becoming the site of new and handsome buildings erected and in contemplation. The west side will have to look after its laurels. The new residence of Mr. William C. Richards, just completed on the Black Horse circle—the site of the famous Black Horse Tavern—is quite an addition to the locality and that once famous and historic spot.

An absolutely fireproof chimney, 50 feet high has been built of paper in Breslau, Germany. It is the only one of the kind.

In 1656 a hailstorm at Norwich, England, wrecked houses and killed many animals that could not reach shelter.

S. N. GAUT & CO., NEW STORE.

104 Canal St., near Union Depot, Boston.
Bakers of Choice
Bread, Cake and Pastry.

Lunch Counter in Store.
92 Cornhill. 40 Washington St.
120 Lagrange St. 96 W. Cedar St.

Family and Party Trade Solicited.
Telephone connection.

CITY OF WOBURN.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1894.

The Journal is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 412 Main Street, Moore & Parker, 374 Main Street, John Cummings, 24, Cummingsville, Albert Gleason, Woburn Highlands, W. A. Hanson, North Woburn, and at P. A. Littlefield's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

PRESIDENT AND HOUSE DEFEATED.

On Monday morning last the Democrats of the National House of Representatives voted in caucus, by an overwhelming majority, to accept the Senate Sugar Trust Tariff bill without change, and in the evening of the same day the House ratified the decision by a vote of 181 to 103.

Thus Senator Gorman achieved a decided victory over the President, and Chairman Wilson, Crisp and other leaders met with a crushing defeat. The general opinion is that the President will suffer the fate to become a law without his signature and give the House a scoring by letter for their treachery to him just when, in his fight with Gorman, he needed their help the most. It was a humiliating defeat for Cleveland, Wilson, and the tariff reformers in general, but a triumph for the Maryland Senator that elevates him to the highest seat in the Democratic party. He is the happiest man in it too.

The bill gives the Sugar Trust, the most dangerous monopoly in the country, all they asked for. According to Chairman Wilson in his swan-song before the final vote was taken it makes the Trust an out and out press of $10,000,000, and how much more they will clear out of it nobody can tell. It was a complete surrender by the Senate to the demands of that powerful combine. At the same time coal, iron, etc., that were promised to be free, are on the dutiable list and cannot be removed from it.

And this is the boasted "tariff reform" that the Democracy were going to give the country.

The President fought hard and worked his patronage game for all it was worth in behalf of the Nova Scotia coal syndicate and at one time it looked as though the House would stand by him to the last ditch, but they yielded to superior force, basely deserted him, and went over to Gorman and the Sugar Trust like a flock of sheep when the crisis came.

In the mean time Republicans are standing around and watching to see how the Democratic fight is coming out. They feel pretty sure that there will be a Republican majority in the next House, and there are many Democrats who think the same way.

MUST OBEY THE LAWS.

If the advance of the License Commissioners against the works of the holders of licenses of the 4th class is with a determination to have the liquor laws lived up to they will be upheld by the better part of the community. They are on the right track and it is to be hoped that the powers which they hold by virtue of their office will always be exercised in the interests of law and order.

The Board can do a great deal towards keeping the dealers within the provisions of the laws; it can break up the illegal sale of liquors by licensed persons, if any such persons are guilty of such sales; they can change the complexion of the traffic materially, and if the present move of the Board "means business" they should be encouraged and sustained in their crusade. If the accused are innocent nobody will be harmed, and the Board will have demonstrated to the public their right to exist and do business at the old stand.

The Woburn Journal says that "The Councilors in the Sixth District is waiting for Hon. John M. Harlow of Woburn." Not if Senator Shaw of Chelmsford knows it.—Lowell Citizen.

Unfortunately for Senator Shaw he does not seem to be "in it" this crop of potatoes. Outside of Lowell the District is solid for Dr. Harlow, and even in that city, which the Senator regards as his stronghold, the delegation will be divided.

The President's letter to Chairman Wilson, Wilson's speech in the House Democratic caucus where it was voted to surrender and accept the Senate Sugar Trust bill, and Burke Cockran's tirade against the Democrats for basely yielding to the arrogant demands of the upper house, bound together, is all the Republicans will need in the shape of arguments to sweep the country in the Congressional elections next November.

No suburban exchange comes to our table that appears to be so well supported by local business men as the Watertown Enterprise, and no one deserves it more. If the traders and manufacturers of Woburn would go to the trouble of comparing the advertising columns of the Enterprise with those of their home papers we think they would blush with shame at the niggardly patronage they give them.

We understand that the Councilor candidacy of Senator Shaw of Chelmsford is rather coldly received outside of Lowell. It is reported from different sections of the District that Hon. John M. Harlow of Woburn has the inside track and bids fair to distance all competitors.

The Democracy at large ought to be happy. There are now three wings to the party to either of which they can ally themselves and be thought none the worse of—the Cleveland, the Senate, and the House factions. Woburn Democrats have not yet made up their minds which one to join.

In his famous letter to Chairman Wilson concerning the Senate tariff bill President Cleveland said: "It represents party party and party dishonor." That is about the size of it, but the country have got to swallow it, all the same, Mr. Cleveland included.

President Cleveland has given out word that he will not veto Gorman's Sugar Trust tariff bill. What will he do with it? He is very angry so the Washington reporters say, and no wonder at it.

The Andover Townsman, a neat and readable weekly by the way, says the political pot has begun to boil in its lidwick. It looks as though politics were going to be pretty warm this fall.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.
J. G. Maguire—Custodian.
L. E. Hanson—Worthley.
Chem. Med. Co.—Medicine.

—WASHER: Sitchers on Shirts, Overalls, Coats, etc. Apply at once. A. L. Richardson & Bro.—Hr.

—There will be two new moons this month.

—Mrs. Wm. Beggs and son Sidney are at Humarock.

—Mr. John B. Davis's health is better than it was.

—Walter Dodge is rusticating at famous Old Orchard.

—Stillman B. Shaw is taking his vacation at Bath, Me.

—Walter French has gone to Bradford, N. H., for a visit.

—The Globe says that the Loring factory will soon start up.

—Mr. R. Brooks Richardson has been visiting in this city lately.

—There was another nice thunder storm here last Wednesday afternoon.

—Dog Days end on Sept. 5, according to the "Old Farmers Almanack."

—The peaches, pears and melons at Cuneo & Crowe's are the finest in the market.

—Mr. George E. Waters went to So. Wellfleet last Saturday to visit his family.

—The Board of License Commissioners have secured good quarters in City Hall.

—Mr. Ed. Foss and wife have got back from a delightful tarry at So. Wellfleet.

—Misses Anna and Hattie Frye are passing a part of their vacation at Windham, N. H.

—Mechanics are making good progress on the Buckman and Hart buildings on Main street.

—The Greenleaf estate on Montvale ave. opposite the skating rink has been sold to Philip Smith.

—The Old Colony Bill Posting Co. will put "Peck's Bad Boy" on Lyceum Hall stage August 27.

—C. S. Fifield's family are at Onset Bay. Also Thomas Evans's family are at that popular resort.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Aldrich and their children went to Wells Beach, Maine, last Saturday.

—No work will be done on the Woburn sewers this season. Nothing is surer than that fact.

—J. Leathe is selling shoe at prices that defy competition. He keeps every style worn in full stock.

—Miss Hattie A. Kenney of 13 Church ave. arrived home yesterday from a visit to Nova Scotia.

—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the St. Charles C. T. A. S. will hold an important meeting this evening.

—The patriotic people of Charlestown have taken steps towards having June 17 made a legal holiday.

—Brooks, the druggist, took a short run into New Hampshire a little while ago and felt all the better for it.

—Miss Mamie Haggen, one of the handsomest girls in Woburn, is enjoying her outing at Newport, N. H.

—Mr. Abijah Thompson, the old salesman at Hammond's Clothing establishment, is taking his vacation.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Henry Parker will spend September in Maine. They are now at Strawberry Hill, Nantasket.

—The last we heard from them Ex-Ald. (and next Mayor) William F. Davis and family were at Clifton Heights.

—Parker Richardson has returned from a fishing and shooting among the Mt. Katahdin streams and forests in upper Maine.

—Hot midday sun and cold nights will soon fill our people chockful of ague. Some of them are well charged with it now.

—Mrs. Alvah Buckman went to So. Wellfleet last Wednesday in company with Carrie Richardson and Charles Howe.

—The Wakefield Citizen and Banner thinks Woburnites are a peculiar people "indeed" if the JOURNAL didn't lie about them.

—The number of female bicyclers is increasing quite rapidly in this city. Leathe, the bike merchant, fits them out in fine style.

—Mr. Chester R. Smith and Mr. Frank Johnson went to Falmouth Heights Wednesday for a brief rest and pleasure excursion.

—Mrs. Peter Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Kenney, Mary and Tessie Kenney, are occupying their cottage at Wilmington.

—Miss Florence Paul, an accomplished young lady, recently appointed teacher in the High School, has resigned to enter college this fall.

—Mr. George W. Holland, who is about to abandon his residence in this city, will visit the home scenes of his parents in Nova Scotia before settling down.

—Steps have been taken to obtain an injunction from the Supreme Court to prevent the successful bidders on the two new schoolhouses from going ahead on them.

—C. L. Smith is one of the best upholsterers in this city. He does the very best kind of work, is perfectly trustworthy, and moderate in his charges.

—Mong Lee, the laundry man near the JOURNAL office, is a good American. He closed up on Traders' Day and went off on a lark just the same as the rest of them.

—Vacation pilgrims are beginning to fold their tents at the beaches and in the mountains and silently steal away. They are flocking back to town in considerable numbers.

—Mr. William DeLoria, the old and accommodating salesman and driver at Durward's standard market, is taking a fortnight's well earned vacation. We hope he will enjoy it.

—Water Registrar Barrett, who does more work for less pay than any man in City Hall, will soon get out his October water bills, and may his shadow never grow less.

—Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Tripp prefer Old Orchard for their vacation to any other place; so do Hon. E. Thompson and his grandson Bertram Strout, so they are all going there.

—Hon. and Mrs. E. D. Hayden want to visit their old camp ground in the vicinity of Moosehead Lake, Maine, sometime in September, and Mr. Hayden thinks they may be able to do so.

—Miss Clara Fox and Miss Sybil Fox, the latter being the daughter of Mr. Everett Fox, left here last Wednesday for South Wellfleet, the rendezvous of many Woburn people this summer.

—The Boston Branch, Fitz & Stanley, proprietors, have stocked up with "1894 Teas"—this year's crop—and respectfully invite people to sample their quality. They make a fine beverage.

—Mr. A. V. Haynes and family of Pleasant st. spent last Tuesday at Salem Willows and enjoyed it very much. Mr. H. thinks it would be a hard job to match the Willows as a seaside resort.

—Miss Anna Cummings, book-keeper for Cummings, Chute & Co., coal dealers, and Miss Abbie Cummings, her sister, started for Nova Scotia yesterday for a visit of two or three weeks.

—Capt. J. Gearing of the Woburn Camp of the Salvation Army, who has been granted a furlough of 30 days, and family are occupying a cottage at Revere Beach, where they will stay 3 weeks.

—At least one Woburnite has been given an office under the present Democratic administration. Miss A. C. Doyle has been appointed typewriter in the office of the Collector of the Port of Boston.

—Rev. Fitz E. Peterson, pastor of the Scandinavian church, will go to New York next week to meet a celebrated preacher from Sweden and also to visit some of his schoolmates in Connecticut.

—Mr. A. A. Persons, the old proprietor of Saint's Rest at Revere Beach, where so many Woburn people have in years past been hospitably entertained, left here last Saturday for a visit to Cottage City.

—Belcher is beginning to think about winter and the oyster trade. The icecream season is still on but there isn't much left of it, and so Belcher is beginning to trim his sails for a big trade in steaks.

—Leon Vaughn, a prominent and highly efficient postoffice employee in this city, is spending his present vacation at Methuen, the very spot where he has whiled away the summer hours for a great many years past.

—The electric lines of the Lynn & Boston line of street railroad are labelled "Woburn, Lynn, Salem," and those who ride over that route say it is delightful. It is a picturesque region through which the cars pass.

—Misses Josephine and Gertrude Lang are taking their vacation delights at York Beach, Maine, which famous resort is "as full as a Concord coach" this season. It is a charming spot and no doubt the Misses Lang are enjoying it highly.

—Mr. Job Wade, a prominent leather manufacturer of New Bedford who died last Monday morning, was a Woburn man who left here and settled there in 1861. He was a Mason of high degree. He left a wife and four children.

—Mr. P. G. Hanson of Cambridge street was awarded first prize for sweet corn at a meeting of the Agricultural Society at Boston last Saturday, and a gratuity for collections. He seemed to be carrying off farming honors thick and fast this season.

—Somewhat it seems as though the Woburn Veterans have had a recordous year than common. Generally about this time in the summer the woods are full of them, but if there have been many so far they have kept mighty still about it.

—The pillows on your bed cannot be too comfortable. They should be made of genuine live geese feathers, thoroughly cleaned, and warranted without odor. Send to Paine's Furniture Co., Boston, for prices on pillows, mattresses and bedding.

—A large number of the Woburn Lodge of Knights of Columbus went to Portland, Me., last Saturday night to institute a Lodge in that city. They report a successful visit and much happiness at dinners and things among the islands of Casco Bay.

—The concert given by the Woburn Brass Band on the Common last Wednesday evening from 8 to 10 was one of the best heard there this season. The crowd was large notwithstanding the rain that preceded the concert, and they cheered the Band lustily.

—Mr. W. H. Cummings finds something to do in the real estate line all the time. He keeps on selling places and could do more at it if he had more houses on hand. A few days ago he sold a house and land on Mountain street to Bartley M. Flaherty for a good price.

—Mr. Jacob A. Ham, wife and daughter are helping Fred Stanley and family have a good time at Kennebunk Beach in Maine. Mr. Ham will visit Shepleigh in the same county where he was born but left at the early age of 9 for Massachusetts, and probably other places in Old York.

—Mr. Frederic A. Flint, proprietor of the old merchant tailoring establishment of G. R. Gage & Co., is at Camden, Maine, where he has spent his summers for more than 20 years. It would be no easy task to make him believe that Camden is not the best seaside resort in the world.

—A part of the business houses in the city were closed on Traders' Day and some of them were not. Treasurer Hayward kept his latestest out as usual and was busy paying out city creditors all day. Thanks to "Cleveland times" the streets looked about as lively as they do when the stores are all open.

—Druggist Brooks has secured the services of Cecil Duncan, late with Samuel Higley, for prescriptionist and general utility man. He understands all the ins and outs of the medical compounder's art and is just as reliable as an 8-day clock. The public like his ways too. The best is none too good for Brooks.

—Mrs. Fred J. Brown of Canal street was taken suddenly ill on Thursday morning of last week and for a time her condition was considered critical. Dr. Frank Graves attended her and lived in consultation Dr. Harlow, and although she suffered intensely she came through safely and is now rapidly recovering.

—Miss Alice M. Huse who graduated from the Woburn High School in June and had been up to that time one of the Literary Editors of The Bugle, the School's organ, will probably adopt journalism for a livelihood. The bent of her mind is in that direction and she has the ability to make a successful newspaper man.

—The Boston Courier says "A pleasant season is progressing at the Jerusalem Spring House at Canaan, N. H.," among whose guests are: Henry M. Aldrich, William F. Davis, S. Frankford Trull, Elliott F. Trull, Mrs. S. F. Trull, Mrs. D. G. Trull, Miss Bertha P. Trull, Master Clifford Trull, of Woburn.

—Mr. James A. Roulo, an estimable young man a barber by trade, died in this city last Sunday after an illness of considerable duration. He left a wife and one child to mourn the loss of a kind husband and fond father. The funeral took place at St. Charles church on Tuesday and was largely attended. The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

—The Woburn Co-Operative Bank sold at its last meeting $6,000, two-thirds of which was for building purposes. Secretary Whitcher says the Bank has sold all its money up to October and will have none for sale at the September meeting. The Bank is doing well for itself and the people who want to build homes.

—Mr. Edgar B. Thompson, son of L. Thompson, Esq., has returned to his home in Chicago where he has long been in the employ of the C. & N. W. Railroad Company as a mechanical engineer. His brother L. Waldo Thompson says Edgar lived on claims here a couple of weeks and not only enjoyed them but had a good time generally.

—On the outside pages of this week's JOURNAL besides "Force of Habit" many palatable literary gleanings will be found, both in poetry and prose. Give us your own, or an excellent family paper. "Force of Habit" is from the pen of a bright ex-Harvard Annex girl who writes gracefully and is sure to make her mark in the field of literature one of these days.

—Woburn Drug Store wishes to call the attention of the public to the fact that it has associated itself with Mr. Ira N. Moody of Newton Upper Falls, and Mr. John Gage of Woburn, formerly in the employ of Gordon Parker, both Pharmacists. We have a night bell in our store and any prescriptions coming at night will be carefully put up. J. P. DELANY, & Co.

—Mr. Charles Cummings of Cambridge st. has raised in his hotheouses this season the biggest, juiciest and sweetest melons that have graced a Woburn dinner-table in several months of Sundays. The beauty of it is, many people out that way declared that Charlie couldn't raise anything in his hotheouses, not even cabbages. But they have found out their mistake.

—The School Board, at a meeting held last Friday evening, accepted the resignation of Supt. Frank B. Richardson and chose a committee to prepare suitable resolutions for the occasion. The committee consisted of Kennedy, Richardson, and Adams. Each member expressed regret at the resignation of Mr. Richardson and were loth to accept it. It will not be an easy thing to find one to fill his shoes.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Taylor of Pleasant st. returned from North Berwick, Me., a few days ago where they visited the well-known Greenleaf family of that pretty little village and also the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivory Hatch of Bald Hill, Old Wells, a few miles from N. B. They were received with open arms at both homesteads and treated like Lords and Ladies all the time they were there.

—C. Willard Smith has just received an unusually large and varied stock of new carpets and in order to sell them rapidly the prices have been marked away down. A lady desirous of buying a carpet has really no call for going to Boston to get better quality, style or price because she can do equally as well at Smith's and in some lines better. Mr. Smith has an excellent trade in carpets, rugs, upholstering goods, etc.

—Mr. J. William Ellard of Cummingsville, who has been a resident of Butte City, Montana, for some time past, has returned to this city, and if reports are reliable, he has come to stay. We hope it is true for Mr. Ellard was one of our best citizens and is the kind of man Woburn didn't want to part with permanently. He is looking as though life in the far West agreed with him. Many friends welcomed his return.

—Our old and esteemed friend, Rev. Hugh Montgomery of Lowell, has a happy faculty of setting the menagerie in motion whenever and wherever he mounts a rostrum or enters a pulpit to lecture or preach. A little more than a week ago he stirred up the animals in good shape down at Ashby Grove. He will probably get a suit in the blasted hopes of a gentleman who is laying wires for the Majority of Salem. Rev. Hugh was not greatly in evidence during the scrimmage but he had hold of the strings all the same, and the ambitious politician didn't make more than four times out of it. Although an Irishman with a brouge our Rev. friend is American through and through.

Forethought.

"In time of peace, prepare for war."

This, being interpreted, means—

Just because it's warm today, don't forget that Autumn is close at hand—and fast getting closer.

There'll be carpets and upholstery to buy then. Is it too soon to begin to think it over now? What do you say?

John H. Pray, Sons & Co.,

CARPETS AND UPHOLSTERY.

658 Washington St. (opposite Boylston St.), BOSTON.

Regular Monthly Visit

N. T. WORTHLEY, Jr., Optical Specialist,

Linwood E. Hanson's Jewelry Store,
409 Ma'n St., WOBURN.

Wednesday and Thursday, August 22 and 23.
Eyes Examined Free!

And suitable lenses prescribed when required. Mr. Worthley is too well known to the citizens of Woburn to need introduction. He guarantees satisfaction. Remember that Aug. 22 and 23 at Hanson's Jewelry store. 100 WES—Wednesday, 8 A. M. to 6 P. M. Thursday, 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. Patients will please come as early as possible.

Insure your Property in Solid Companies!

S. B. GODDARD & SON,

General Insurance and Real Estate Agency.

New Savings Bank Building, Woburn, Mass.

Assets of Companies represented over Thirty Millions.

Losses promptly adjusted and paid at this office.

Boston Office—No. 93 Water Street.

—Yesterday was one of the days which go to make life worth living. Talk about your windy air! In that respect yesterday couldn't be touched with a 10-foot pole.

—The National Band will give a Concert on the Common next Wednesday Evening, Aug. 22.

PROGRAM.
1. March, Augusta. Perkins.
2. Overture, Martha. Fenton.
3. Baritone Solo, "Trump, Trump, By Lawrence. H. H. Robinson.
4. Selection, "Robin Hood. De Koven.
5. Paraphrase on "My God to thee." Reeves.
6. Vocal Quartet by Sage, Leighton, Began, and Robertson.
7. Medley, "Crucifixion." Laurendeau.
8. Serenade, "I still think of thee." Sherman.
9. Skit Dance, "Lull." Walcott.
10. Finale, Solo. Hedley.

—Last Tuesday at noon Mr. John K. Murdoch, Mrs. Murdoch and J. Max Murdoch left here for a visit to the Maratime Provinces. They will be away three weeks or more. They went by steamer to Yarmouth, N. S.; "did" the beautiful Annapolis Valley by rail, trying en route to enjoy places and things of interest; and make their headquarters at Pictou. The party will return by the St. Lawrence River and stop long enough at Quebec, Montreal, and other prominent points to see the sights.

—Fowle & Clemson are building a large addition to their factory on Salem street and will materially increase their business. It is the purpose of the firm to manufacture saws in addition to belt-knives, in the production of which they have been very successful. The products of their establishment find ready sale in England and other leather-producing countries as well as the United States. The proprietors are enterprising gentlemen and with increased facilities will turn out a large amount of manufactured goods.

—N. T. Worthley Jr., the popular Optical Specialist, whose success in treating the eyes of several hundred of our citizens has been so remarkable, will be at Hanson's jewelry store, 409 Main st., Woburn, on Wednesday and Thursday, 22d, and 23d, inst., and may be consulted free of charge by all persons whose eyes trouble them in any way. Mr. Worthley was obliged to omit his regular visit in July on account of a pressure of business at his office at Bath, Me. He will hereafter however arrange to devote all necessary time and attention to his Woburn patients. Remember, Wednesday and Thursday, 22 and 23.

—Several prominent gentlemen of both political parties are incubating "Peoples Movement" for our next city election which will sweep the present incompetent (if no worse) government out of existence and put in their places men who know how to do business. "Rum and Politics" are on top all the time at City Hall under the present administration. The men over there seem to think there is nothing else that amounts to anything. Rum, politics and unscrupulous warfare engage the attention and command the energies of the powers that be constantly, or nearly so, and it is time for a change. Influential citizens are determined that there shall be one with the coming in of 1895 and are working together to that end. May they succeed.

—The local reporter of the Boston Globe has discovered a mare's nest of huge dimensions in this city. It is the existence of an A. P. A. organization, armed and equipped as the law directs, threatening dire things at the polls next December, and making itself a grave menace to the peace and happiness of this community. He has got it "figured down fine" and is able to prognosticate with great accuracy the complexion of the next Woburn city government. If he had asked us about it we could have informed him that a Lodge of A. P. A. has been in good running order here for more than one year, and also that it is strong and mighty in numbers. At least we have had it given to us in that way by people who can't lie, and have good reason to believe it.

—One of the largest sales of residential property that has been made in this city for several years was closed up through Mr. E. J. Gregory's Real Estate Agency a few days ago. It was the transfer of the Mr. Charles B. Bryant residence on Montvale Avenue to Mr. Thomas Moore, the Main street grocer, who is one of the largest owners of residence property in Woburn. The house was built in 1864 by Mr. Henry Taylor and cost a large sum of money. Since its purchase by Mr. Bryant some $6,000 has been laid out in improvements on it, of which about $2500 was expended on the library alone which was paid to Paine, the widely known furniture dealer in Boston. The house has all the modern improvements and is first-class. Mr. Gregory has been several months in bringing about this important sale, and he managed it in a manner to satisfy all parties.

—A public exhibition of the work of the Woburn Industrial School will be given next Tuesday, August 21, beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning, at the rooms in Warren Academy, to witness which the public are cordially invited. Each department will take part in the exhibition, and Principal Carter is extremely desirous that there shall be a large attendance of ladies and gentlemen to observe and pass judgment on the fruits of the study of the present term. A great many prominent citizens are deeply interested in the School and it is fair to presume that there will be a large gathering at the exhibition next Tuesday. Each department bears on its rolls a larger number of pupils than ever before, showing an increasing interest in the institution, and their progress has been highly satisfactory to Principal Carter and the teachers.

—Last Monday a certain prominent Woburn Legal Luminary spent the day on Horn Pond fishing. He stuck to it steadily from early in the forenoon until well along towards sunset. During the day he calculated he rowed about 4 miles. He didn't feel a bite, that is, not a fish bite. "Patience on a monument smiling at Grief" was a prominent motto on his mind. Not a catch all day! And yet he fished patiently, persistently, and spit on the bait regularly. Not a nibble! Every nook and corner of the Pond was explored. The hook was cautiously dropped in every cove and inlet. Worms were examined, tested and proved satisfactory. But not a bite! Just as he was beginning to get a little discouraged and his wife, alarmed at his prolonged absence, was calling him from the shore to come home to supper, our L. L. felt a nibble, or thought he did. His hopes arose and his bosom heaved. It must be an eel, and a big one at that. He played his catch with great skill. In imagination he was already eating fresh eel for supper. At last he landed it. It proved to be a wad of grass about as large as an axe handle. Supreme disgust corresponded to his disappointment, recently boasting with hope and pride. Another call from the good wife and Legal Luminary wound up his line, paddled for shore, hitched the boat, and went home.

J. Henry Hutchings, M. D.

Ophthalmic and Aural Surgeons, devote special attention to diseases of the Eye, Ear, Throat and Nose. Glasses fitted and all errors of refraction corrected. Office, 516 Main street. Hours, 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 P. M.

Hope He will get it.

Judge Johnson of the Fourth District Court, Woburn, is a candidate for the additional Judge of Probate for Middlesex County, and we hope he will get there.—Stoneham Independent.

Are You going to Buy a Carpet This Fall?

We want to sell it to you. You can save money buying of us. Our new Fall Stock is larger than usual. The Style, the Quality, the Price are right. REMEMBER! We sew your carpet free of charge.

C. Willard Smith</

Clearance Sale!

As the season advances we find as usual many odds and ends of Summer Goods that must be disposed of before opening our Fall and Winter stocks, to this end we have marked many goods at very low prices. We have also devoted a counter to specialties to which we shall add attractive bargains almost daily. We think it will be to the advantage of consumers to look these goods over before purchasing elsewhere. Also one case of Blankets, good quality, at the unheard of price of 40 Cents per pair.

COPELAND & BOWSER.

355 Main Street.

Wall Papers

Latest designs for 1894
Now in Stock.

Picture Frames made to order. Paper hangers furnished.

C. E. SMITH, 439 Main St., Opp. Central House.

50 Cents

Buy a Bottle of Delicious Fruit Syrup.
ALL FLAVORS.

HICHEY'S PHARMACY,
304 Main Street, Woburn.

Try a bottle and be convinced.

Now Is The Time

To Have

C. M. STROUT

Put your Furnace and Stoves in Repair.

Y. M. C. A.

Record for the 100 yard dash made last week, 11 2/5 seconds.

Record for three quick jumps without weights 30 feet 1 inch.

The Training Class will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The record on the standing high jump has been raised to 4 feet 2 inches.

Ten new members have joined the boys department during the last week.

The Woburn Y. M. C. A. ball team will play the Chelsea team next Saturday afternoon at the park.

A key was found last week on the tennis grounds the owner of which may receive it by calling at the office.

The record on the 12 lb. hammer throw has been raised to 30 feet. We should like to see the man who can beat that.

Rev. Robert G. Smith of the Episcopal Church will speak to the young men in Concert Hall next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Association will be held next Tuesday evening, Aug. 21, at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. parlor.

The athletic field is proving a strong attraction, a large number of members are using it every day. C. E. Haskell, physical director of the Cambridge Association who called last week, said that he wished Cambridge had such privileges for the summer months.

Some forty of the Woburn people went to the Moonlight Excursion with the Somerville people, and although moonlight was rather scarce yet a jolly good time was the general report of those who attended and the sunset was certainly worth the cost of the trip. Woburn's delegation was larger than either Stoneham or Winchester.

Traders Day.

A large share of the merchants and shopkeepers of this city celebrated Aug. 15 as Traders Day, as they have done for several years past to the delight of some and deep disgust of others. The weather was ideal for the occasion.

The railroad trains from 7 to 10 A. M. were filled with Beach pilgrims and pleasure seekers of all grades, each quota containing large delegations of ladies and children. Their steps were light and happy, illumined their countenances, for were they not out for a frolic?

If a large majority of the business men of the place could only muster up the courage of their convictions there wouldn't be any "Traders Day." Before the first Monday in Sept. was made a legal holiday there was some excuse for it. It afforded tired merchants and their clerks an opportunity for a mid-summer jollification and a happy 24-hours respite from work; but there is no reasonable call for such a holiday now.

A few restless spirits started the ball in motion last Wednesday; the rest of them were submissive and fell into the ranks, although exceedingly reluctant to do so. They were afraid of being called odd and heinous and so shut their stores, dressed up, went somewhere, and pretended they never had such a good time being in their lives.

Labor Day falls due on Sept. 3, when another outing will be in order. And so it goes.

After this one, it is likely that Traders' Day will be suffered to relapse into "innocuous desuetude."

Buckley's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Gordon Parker.

Special Notice!

TO PURCHASERS:

We will deliver free of expense all purchases amounting to one dollar or more in any part of Reading, Wakefield, Stoneham, or Woburn, embracing the following:—

Wakefield, Greenwood, Montrose, Reading, North Reading, Woburn, North Woburn & Montvale.

Orders by Mail, Telephone, or Express will receive prompt attention.

HOUGHTON & DUTTON,
Cor. Tremont & Beacon Sts.,
BOSTON.

Telephone 951.

Camp Woburn.

BRIDGEWATER, N. H.

WOBURN JOURNAL.—Since announcing our sale arrival and settlement in camp we have by no means been idle. Many times when camp is once pitched there is a great tendency to let around and do nothing more than absolutely necessary, but this year something has been going on continually. In fact, with the example of our Woburn commandant, there has been left but little else to do than follow suit.

One of the most noticeable things is the policing of the parade ground and street. This is attended to every morning by the commandant and his able assistant François, the Grand Pasha.

We have no sea-serpent here, but in its place is the great American Gannet. He escaped from his keeper, the Grand Pasha, just at the end of the Camp of '93 and has successfully eluded us since that time.

On Friday night 5th of August we had an invitation to attend the "Minstrels" at Elmwood Cottage. The troupe consisted of Mr. Geo. H. Wiley of Manchester, N. H. This gentleman is a Government official but when time permits is very successful in putting through entertainments of this nature.

The first was very enjoyable not only in the first part but also in the dance which followed. During the dance the "Minstrels" for although there are other campers at the Lake, we are always introduced as "The Campers," and this is the entire into whatever is going on. During the dance we had cut nearly all the wood for the bonfire and dragged it into position. The fire was built on the "Nesqueh" plan and the body of the pile was almost entirely of maple. The back ran up about ten feet and the whole pile was sure no less than fifteen feet high.

Saturday afternoon Sawyer, Buck, Dow and Bonelli played in a picked nine against the Bristol. G. W. Buchanan scored and Wm. W. Crosby captured but even that was not enough to make the score right for us; for the Bristol were victors, 9 to 7.

If the score card were at hand it would be seen that the Bristol had 8 errors while we had but 5. The building of our tent was excellent especially at the bases but the hitting was weak. Sawyer, as usual, easily did the van in hitting, and made one run and three batters without assistance other than an error by the Bristol, which let him home.

At 5 1/2 the party from home arrived and we received them arrayed in our uniform of white ducks. There were E. T. Brigham, Elliott F. Trull, George R. Ferguson and Arthur C. West. Of these the first two were for two weeks while the others were here for Sunday only. Camp was dressed in its finest and everything put in order for the evening's entertainment. The guests were received by Buchanan, Dow and Crosby and after registering, were shown to seats on the bank in view of the point where the bonfire and fireworks were located.

They were under the charge of Messrs. Brown, Brigham, Wyer and Bonelli. During the first half of the fireworks, the Woburn "quartet" composed of Sawyer, Trull and Crosby furnished several instrumental selections, trios, duets and solos.

The second half was devoted to the singing of songs, and the singing was very good. The songs were sung by the Woburn quartet, and the singing was very good.

The engagement of Mr. Frank B. Richardson for General Superintendent is in line with the general conduct of the College and administration of its affairs. He is eminently fitted for the position, as 10 years of successful supervision of the Woburn schools prove. Nothing short of "the best" satisfies the Burdett, and they have secured it in Mr. Richardson.

Long may Burdett's Business College flourish.

Burlington.

Through the generosity of Mr. D. W. Lathrop of No. Windthrop st., Medford, the Public Library of this town has lately been made the recipient of valuable additions for which the Library Committee, Mr. Aug. Prosser, Chairman, feel very grateful and from which the town will be greatly benefited. Chairman Prosser received a letter written by Mr. Lathrop, the contents of which were suggested by a conversation with Librarian Cuffer of the Woburn Public Library, in which the liberal handed writer offered to donate to our Library a bound set of the New England Farmer in 15 vols. 8vo., issued from 1847 to 1862, first edited by M. Cole, and later by Hon. Simon Brown of Concord. They contain some of the earliest writings of Mr. Lathrop on agriculture, horticulture, etc., and are duly prized on that account. They will constitute a notable acquisition to our small but growing Public Library. Mr. Lathrop also, in the same letter, offered to give a volume of the Genesee Farmer, a standard publication; a volume of "Pilot's Agriculture of Massachusetts"; some Public Documents and other works; the whole forming a liberal and valuable donation to our institution. The Library Committee were not slow in availing themselves of Mr. Lathrop's generous offer.

Substitute Choir.

The Unitarian church choir are taking a vacation and their place is being supplied by the following vocalists: Soprano, Miss Stella M. Lincoln of Woburn; alto, Miss Kathleen M. Russell of Boston; tenor, George Brigham of Boston; bass, A. G. Watson of New York. This substitute choir never sang together before they came here, but each is a vocalist of power and the congregation are much pleased with their singing. The organist and director, per tempore, is Frederick H. Lewis of Woburn, formerly of Bradford.

Two of our prominent musical people taking leading parts in the choir of the largest church of New Bedford is a feather highly approved, which shows that the New Bedford church-goers know how to appreciate first-class musical ability, for organist Lewis and soloist Watson are well known in the art and stand at the head of the profession. Not only are the church pleased with Mr. Lewis's playing but the press of that city speak warmly in his praise as an organist.

Woburn churchmen in looking around for organs would do well to best these facts in mind.

Remedy.

Mr. Thomas Barke, editor of the Graphic, Texarkana, Arkansas, has found what he believes to be the best remedy in existence for the flu. His experience is well worth remembering. He says: "Last summer I had a very severe attack of flu. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and the flu was entirely cured. I am now recommending this remedy to any person suffering with such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Higley's Drugstore, Woburn.

minity. Although of a modest and retiring nature he had during his residence here made many warm friends who will sincerely mourn his loss. He was a good man. He was upright, conscientious, kind, and generous. In manners he was an old time gentleman—courteous and courteous towards all. He was interested in church, society, and all matters that go to make a good community, and never shirked public duty when properly called upon to discharge it.

His bereaved widow and son and other relatives, to whom he was dear and who will cherish his memory, have the profound sympathy of the public in their great sorrow.

Those Figures.

The following figures representing the bids of Cambridge street and Randolph schoolhouses are suggestive. The bids were opened on Monday, Aug. 6, viz:—

CAMBRIDGE ST.
W. J. Singer, $3,365 00
A. J. McKay, 3,400 00
F. W. Graydon, 3,385 00
Geo. E. Brown, 3,829 93
T. R. Corbett & Son, 5,149 50
J. S. Bonnell, 5,149 50

REMPOND.
J. S. Bonnell, 9,977 50
T. R. Corbett & Son, 9,977 50

Consideration was postponed until Wednesday, Aug. 8, when Mr. McKay reduced his bid on the Cambridge street schoolhouse to $3,315, and T. R. Corbett & Son to $4,140. On the Randolph school J. S. Bonnell reduced his bid to $8,771.50 and A. J. Simerson put in a bid for $7,475.

The work was given to T. R. Corbett & Son for the Cambridge street, and J. S. Bonnell for the Randolph.

The Mayor, Aldermen Hickey, and Councilmen Sullivan, Corcoran and Lind were with the majority in each case. Mr. Corcoran was the principal speaker. He urged the choice of the majority on account of the superior responsibility of the highest bidder. Movements are on foot to secure an injunction to restrain the successful bidders from going on with the work.—X.

All Complete.

The mammoth Union Depot on Causeway street, Boston, now under the train and the north roads, the Fitchburg having made the change at 12 o'clock last Saturday night.

The large, imposing granite structure on Causeway street, long occupied by the Fitchburg Railroad as a passenger station, has been abandoned. There were no signs of life, inside or out.

All passenger service had been transferred to the new Union Station, where tracks numbered 10, 11 and 12 are now in use. The 110 trains to and from the Fitchburg Road will bring the daily total up to 578 trains.

Up to Sunday 468 trains entered and departed from the Union Station. The 110 trains to and from the Fitchburg Road will bring the daily total up to 578 trains.

The machine operating the Union Station terminal, which is the largest of its kind in the United States. Every inch of track and every train and engine is scheduled. It is known exactly which engine will make up each train, the system being almost automatic.

There will be few changes in the present system of shifting passenger cars, which is being so well looked after by Transmitter Robinson.

Last Monday the extensive additions to the Union Station restaurant were opened for business. It is double the size of the old restaurant.

It is said that the Union Depot is the largest railway structure and handles more trains than any other in the world. There is no one in the United States that equals it in the Union Depot.

At first and last one leaves a train arrives and departs every two minutes, and yet so perfectly does all parts of the machinery work that not the least confusion or delay arises from this immense passenger traffic. In its appointments and regulations it is a perfect terminal railroad depot.

Boston Theatres.

BOSTON MUSEUM.

Last Tuesday the 50th performance of "Davy Jones" was given to the largest audience yet seen in the city. The play more can be given to "Davy Jones" as the regular season opens Sept. 17. The accession of Mr. Robert Graham to the cast as Commander Jones, has proved a strong addition. "Don't Get Gay With Shays" as sung by him adds new interest to this popular piece. Mamie Gilroy has returned to the stage, and a new life to the place she is connected with. "Davy Jones" will visit the large cities throughout New England later on.

AUSTIN'S PALACE THEATRE.

The regular season at the Palace Theatre in Boston opened last Monday with a grand continuous performance contributed by two big separate companies. The London Belles for the past two or three seasons have been the attraction of the theatre. They are a specialty organization on the road will appear in conjunction with the splendid specialty show of the Palace Vaudeville Stars making a new life to the place. The entertainment will commence at one o'clock and continue without intermission until 11 o'clock at night.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The regular season of 1894-5 at the Grand Opera House opened last Saturday evening and a very large and enthusiastic audience was present to witness the grand production of A. Y. Pearsone's melodrama, "The White Squall." It was only to be seen the balance of the week. The attraction for the coming week will be "In the Name of the Czar," his first time in Boston, direct from Alibi's Garden. New York, where he has made a great hit. The stage settings are superb and all the scenery was used in this production. This house will give mainstays Tuesdays and Saturdays.

THE BOWDOIN SQUARE.

The grand production of "Lost in New York" is drawing full houses. The scenes representing the East River by moonlight, Gramercy Square, Hudson River, and the Asylum, and New York Harbor, are magnificent. Next week Manager Atkinson's company will be Tony Pastor and his own celebrated company. Tony Pastor is so well known here that comment by the press is not needed to insure a large welcome. His company has been selected with great care and a rare treat is in store for patrons of the Bowdoin Square Theatre next week.

CRITIC'S NEW THEATRE.

Since the opening of this new Theatre a phenomenal business has been done which goes to show that the theatre people appreciate the efforts of the managers to provide a first class entertainment. Living pictures will continue to be one of the leading features of this, "Rock of Ages" being one of the new ones added. The vaudeville artists for this week include Rommie, a modern Hercules and only living rival of Sandow, Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, James Rankin, the favorite Irish comedian, James Rankin, who was formerly of Edward Harrigan's company will make fun in large quantities. Masand & Rankin will also appear. A new list of talented artists will all be seen at Kott's this week.

OF Interest to Mothers.

The success of Mrs. Annie M. Beam, of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, in the treatment of diarrhoea in her children will undoubtedly be of interest to many mothers. She says: "I spent several weeks in June, Pa., after the great flood on account of my husband being employed there. We had several children with it, two of whom took the diarrhoea very badly. I got some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. It cured both of them. I have known several other cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be overpraised and cheerfully recommend it to all mothers who have children at home." For sale at Higley's Drugstore, Woburn.

Mr. Clewley will be missed in this community.

WINCHESTER.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Johnson are at Breezy Point.

Mr. Handel Pond and family are at Hull for August.

Miss Carrie Rice is at York Beach for her vacation.

Charles H. Moseley and E. R. Ray are at Boothbay, Me.

Persons posting show bills on shade trees will be prosecuted.

Mrs. George W. Richardson of Cross street is visiting in N. Y. City.

Mr. Jay B. Benton and his mother will pass the last weeks of this month at Guild hall, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bradstreet have returned from Saratoga where they have been for the past two weeks.

Messrs. Ralph Redfern, James and Fred Russell and John Armstrong start next week for their summer outing at their camp on the shores of Lake Umbagog.

Commander John Stark Newell, U. S. N., has been visiting his brother, Mr. William C. Newell, of Wintrop street the past week. The Commander's next voyage is to Norfolk, Va., to assume command of the U. S. S. "Detroit."

Mr. Harold Huntress, the former President of the W. H. S. Debating Society, is summering at the Centre Harbor House, near Lake Winnepesaukee. He made a flying visit to Boston last week to attend the opening night of the season.

Mr. Walter Robie of Ruggely Park is hard at work perfecting himself in the character he is to impersonate in Denham Thompson's "Old Homestead" Company. He will receive a favorable reception at his first appearance by his friends in Winchester whose name is legion.

The Y. M. C. A. rooms will not be closed as was feared a few days ago. Owing to the efforts of Mr. Dunham, Mr. Armstrong and others, arrangements were satisfactorily made with the owner of the building, consequently the rooms as well as the "gym" will remain open. The young men should appreciate the efforts made on their behalf by these gentlemen and aid them in the future in the same way which young men can, to make the Y. M. C. A. in our town a success and put it on a permanent basis.

Winchester.

Mrs. Dr. Hiller is building a large store on her premises which will prove quite an addition to the village.

The 7th annual meeting of the Woburn Family Association will be held on August 20. Extensive preparations are under way for it. There will be an oratory, music, and any quantity of good eating, besides pleasant social greetings and intercourse.

Up to Sunday 468 trains entered and departed from the Union Station. The 110 trains to and from the Fitchburg Road will bring the daily total up to 578 trains.

The machine operating the Union Station terminal, which is the largest of its kind in the United States. Every inch of track and every train and engine is scheduled. It is known exactly which engine will make up each train, the system being almost automatic.

There will be few changes in the present system of shifting passenger cars, which is being so well looked after by Transmitter Robinson.

Last Monday the extensive additions to the Union Station restaurant were opened for business. It is double the size of the old restaurant.

It is said that the Union Depot is the largest railway structure and handles more trains than any other in the world. There is no one in the United States that equals it in the Union Depot.

At first and last one leaves a train arrives and departs every two minutes, and yet so perfectly does all parts of the machinery work that not the least confusion or delay arises from this immense passenger traffic. In its appointments and regulations it is a perfect terminal railroad depot.

Boston Theatres.

BOSTON MUSEUM.

Last Tuesday the 50th performance of "Davy Jones" was given to the largest audience yet seen in the city. The play more can be given to "Davy Jones" as the regular season opens Sept. 17. The accession of Mr. Robert Graham to the cast as Commander Jones, has proved a strong addition. "Don't Get Gay With Shays" as sung by him adds new interest to this popular piece. Mamie Gilroy has returned to the stage, and a new life to the place she is connected with. "Davy Jones" will visit the large cities throughout New England later on.

AUSTIN'S PALACE THEATRE.

The regular season at the Palace Theatre in Boston opened last Monday with a grand continuous performance contributed by two big separate companies. The London Belles for the past two or three seasons have been the attraction of the theatre. They are a specialty organization on the road will appear in conjunction with the splendid specialty show of the Palace Vaudeville Stars making a new life to the place. The entertainment will commence at one o'clock and continue without intermission until 11 o'clock at night.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The regular season of 1894-5 at the Grand Opera House opened last Saturday evening and a very large and enthusiastic audience was present to witness the grand production of A. Y. Pearsone's melodrama, "The White Squall." It was only to be seen the balance of the week. The attraction for the coming week will be "In the Name of the Czar," his first time in Boston, direct from Alibi's Garden. New York, where he has made a great hit. The stage settings are superb and all the scenery was used in this production. This house will give mainstays Tuesdays and Saturdays.

THE BOWDOIN SQUARE.

The grand production of "Lost in New York" is drawing full houses. The scenes representing the East River by moonlight, Gramercy Square, Hudson River, and the Asylum, and New York Harbor, are magnificent. Next week Manager Atkinson's company will be Tony Pastor and his own celebrated company. Tony Pastor is so well known here that comment by the press is not needed to insure a large welcome. His company has been selected with great care and a rare treat is in store for patrons of the Bowdoin Square Theatre next week.

CRITIC'S NEW THEATRE.

Since the opening of this new Theatre a phenomenal business has been done which goes to show that the theatre people appreciate the efforts of the managers to provide a first class entertainment. Living pictures will continue to be one of the leading features of this, "Rock of Ages" being one of the new ones added. The vaudeville artists for this week include Rommie, a modern Hercules and only living rival of Sandow, Weber & Fields, the Dutch comedians, James Rankin, the favorite Irish comedian, James Rankin, who was formerly of Edward Harrigan's company will make fun in large quantities. Masand & Rankin will also appear. A new list of talented artists will all be seen at Kott's this week.

OF Interest to Mothers.

The success of Mrs. Annie M. Beam, of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, in the treatment of diarrhoea in her children will undoubtedly be of interest to many mothers. She says: "I spent several weeks in June, Pa., after the great flood on account of my husband being employed there. We had several children with it, two of whom took the diarrhoea very badly. I got some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. It cured both of them. I have known several other cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be overpraised and cheerfully recommend it to all mothers who have children at home." For sale at Higley's Drugstore, Woburn.

Mr. Clewley will be missed in this community.

By HOLBROOK & FOX, Auctioneers,
12 Post Office Square, Boston.

Mortgagee's Sale —OF— REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Maurice W. Carroll, the Pioneer Cooperative Bank, dated April 24, 1893, and recorded in Middlesex ss., Dist. Deeds, Lib. 2186, Fol. 216, for breach of the conditions closing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises described in said mortgage on September 4th, A. D., 1894, at three o'clock in the afternoon all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, viz:—A certain parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situated in Woburn, in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, in the third thereof named North Woburn, School street, comprising lot numbered forty-two (42) on a plan of lands in said Woburn, drawn by Cyrus Thompson, Surveyor, dated May 4th, 1863, and bounded and described as follows, viz:—Beginning on the easterly side of said school street, at a stake at land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, then running northerly on said school street, one hundred (100) feet; thence running westerly by land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, three hundred and eleven (311) feet to the point of beginning. Being a part of the premises conveyed to said Albert W. Wyman by John R. Kyrren by deed dated March 1st, 1893, and thence running and running southerly on said land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, one hundred (100) feet; thence running westerly by land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, three hundred and eleven (311) feet to the point of beginning. Being a part of the premises conveyed to said Albert W. Wyman by John R. Kyrren by deed dated March 1st, 1893, and thence running and running southerly on said land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, one hundred (100) feet; thence running westerly by land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, three hundred and eleven (311) feet to the point of beginning. Being a part of the premises conveyed to said Albert W. Wyman by John R. Kyrren by deed dated March 1st, 1893, and thence running and running southerly on said land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, one hundred (100) feet; thence running westerly by land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, three hundred and eleven (311) feet to the point of beginning. Being a part of the premises conveyed to said Albert W. Wyman by John R. Kyrren by deed dated March 1st, 1893, and thence running and running southerly on said land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, one hundred (100) feet; thence running westerly by land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, three hundred and eleven (311) feet to the point of beginning. Being a part of the premises conveyed to said Albert W. Wyman by John R. Kyrren by deed dated March 1st, 1893, and thence running and running southerly on said land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, one hundred (100) feet; thence running westerly by land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, three hundred and eleven (311) feet to the point of beginning. Being a part of the premises conveyed to said Albert W. Wyman by John R. Kyrren by deed dated March 1st, 1893, and thence running and running southerly on said land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, one hundred (100) feet; thence running westerly by land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, three hundred and eleven (311) feet to the point of beginning. Being a part of the premises conveyed to said Albert W. Wyman by John R. Kyrren by deed dated March 1st, 1893, and thence running and running southerly on said land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, one hundred (100) feet; thence running westerly by land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, three hundred and eleven (311) feet to the point of beginning. Being a part of the premises conveyed to said Albert W. Wyman by John R. Kyrren by deed dated March 1st, 1893, and thence running and running southerly on said land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, one hundred (100) feet; thence running westerly by land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, three hundred and eleven (311) feet to the point of beginning. Being a part of the premises conveyed to said Albert W. Wyman by John R. Kyrren by deed dated March 1st, 1893, and thence running and running southerly on said land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, one hundred (100) feet; thence running westerly by land now or formerly of Lewis and Charles Williams, three hundred and eleven (311) feet to the point of beginning. Being a part of the premises conveyed to said Albert W. Wyman by John R. Kyrren by deed

THE WOMAN'S JOURNAL.

Published Weekly: Every Friday Morning by George A. Hobbs. Office at 434 Main Street. $2.00 a Year. Single Copies 5 Cents.

VOL. XLIV.

WOBURN, MASS., FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1894.

NO. 87.

A necessity in every family during hot weather.

BOARDMAN'S JAMAICA GINGER.
WOBURNA PHOSPHATE.
OUR PURE A NO. 1 INSECT POWDER.

F. P. BROOKS, Pharmacist,
301 Main St., Woburn.

Boston & Maine RAILROAD.

Southern Division.

JULY 1, 1894.

Passenger Service from Woburn.

FOR BOSTON, 5.50, 6.14, 6.51, 7.18, 7.35, 8.14, 8.22, 9.00, 10.20, 11.05, A. M., 12.32, 1.10, 2.20, 3.01, 4.12, 4.59, 5.15, 6.40, 7.09, 8.15, 9.20, 10.30, P. M.
RETURN, 6.00, 7.10, 7.30, 8.00, 9.10, 10.45, 11.35, A. M., 12.10, 1.27, 2.40, 3.15, 4.30, 5.14, 5.30, 5.55, 6.10, 6.40, 7.05, 8.00, 9.10, 10.15, 11.20, P. M.
SUNDAY TO BOSTON, 9.25, 11.01, A. M., 12.05, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00, A. M., 12.40, 2.15, 4.00, 5.00, 7.35, 9.00, 10.15, P. M.

FOR LOWELL, 6.32, 8.25, 9.47, 11.11, A. M., 1.32, 4.42, 6.44, 10.44, P. M. Sunday 9.40, 11.00, A. M., 1.30, 4.40, 6.40, 10.40, P. M.

FOR LAWRENCE, 8.25, 11.01, A. M., 1.40, 4.30, 6.40, 10.40, P. M. Return at 6.25, 7.40, A. M., 12.05, 4.55, P. M.

FOR NASHUA, Manchester and Concord, N. H., at 6.32, 8.25, 11.11, A. M., 1.32, 4.42, 6.44, P. M. Sunday, 9.40, 11.00, A. M., 1.30, 4.40, 6.40, 10.40, P. M.

FOR PEACOCK, Franklin, Littleton, White River Junction, 8.25, 11.01, A. M., 1.40, 4.30, 6.40, P. M. Return at 6.25, 7.40, A. M., 12.05, 4.55, P. M.

FOR TILTON, LACONA, MERIDITH, ASHLAND, WEIR, and Plymouth, 8.25, 11.01, A. M., 1.40, 4.30, 6.40, P. M. Return at 6.25, 7.40, A. M., 12.05, 4.55, P. M.

FOR NORTH AND FAYETTEVILLE, at 6.32, 8.25, 11.01, A. M., 1.32, 4.42, 6.44, P. M. Sunday, 9.40, 11.00, A. M., 1.30, 4.40, 6.40, 10.40, P. M.

FOR WINCHESTER AND WOBURN, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

TRAIN SERVICE FROM WOBURN TO BOSTON, 6.34, 8.24, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M. Sunday, 9.44, 11.14, A. M., 1.34, 4.44, 6.54, P. M.

8 SURE CURES.

Fire Alarm Boxes.

LOCATION:
23 Cor. Main and Clinton Sts., Central Square.
24 City Avenue.
25 Cor. School and New Boston Sts.
26 Cor. Main and School Sts., North Woburn.
27 Junction Elm and Post Sts., North Woburn.
28 Cor. Grove St. and Harrison Ave.
29 Junction Burlington and Lexington Sts.
30 Cor. Willow and Bedford Sts., (Cunninghamville).
31 Cor. Elijah and Wm Sts.
32 Cor. Wm and Bedford Sts.
33 Cor. Middle and Washington Sts.
34 Junction Bow and Beach Sts.
35 Montvale Ave. opp. Vernon St.
36 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
37 Central St. opp. Schoolhouse (Montvale).
38 Salem St., Walnut Hill.
39 Cor. Green and Mt. Pleasant Sts.
40 Montvale Ave. opp. Vernon St.
41 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
42 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
43 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
44 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
45 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
46 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
47 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
48 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
49 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
50 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
51 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
52 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
53 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
54 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
55 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
56 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
57 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
58 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
59 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
60 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
61 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
62 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
63 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
64 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
65 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
66 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
67 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
68 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
69 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
70 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
71 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
72 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
73 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
74 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
75 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
76 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
77 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
78 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
79 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
80 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
81 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
82 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
83 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
84 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
85 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
86 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
87 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
88 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
89 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
90 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
91 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
92 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
93 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
94 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
95 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
96 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
97 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
98 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
99 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.
100 Cor. Cedar and Washington Sts.

The Woburn Journal

THE DEAD AND THE LIVING.

There were two brothers brought at Noonance. Squander to shoulder through that fiery hell. Storm of shot and ball and bursting shell.

Fought as two heroes, till one brother fell. Dead to the swamp, his shroud the battle smoke.

Now every year fair children deck the grave. Of him who died this country's life to save.

And mothers weep, and fathers call him brave. Who fell that day at Noonance.

It was a hero fell at Noonance! He other one who fought at Noonance.

Lived on—by chance is living still today—Old and unknown, bent, beggar, crippled.

And children nodd him in their thoughtless play. None weep for him. No orator ever spoke.

Of him as noble. No one says he gave His best in life his country's life to save.

And yet, God knows, the living was as brave As he who fell that day at Noonance.

—Fred R. Appleton in Philadelphia Press.

THE DEVIL'S SLIDE.

In the heart of the Rocky mountains there dwelt in ancient times a spirit or gnome to whom the Indian tribes around about gave the name of Hal-Walla.

He was a spirit of great power within the limits of his domain, which extended deep into the bowels of the earth.

Myriads of inferior gnomes were subject to his rule and were employed, under his direction, in administering the business of his kingdom, checking and controlling the rude force of the fires that rage in the earth's bosom.

And making it serviceable in clearing the rocky fissures with ores and minerals.

But once in awhile, in the course of the centuries, he tires of his monotonous and gloomy life, and then it is his habit to come to the surface for a holiday.

At first, in the far distant times, he found the earth inhabited by hideous monsters, and his only sport was to hunt the ichthyosaurus or to plunge deep into the pathless forests and engage in fierce encounter with a terrible biped, who is known to us only as the prehistoric man.

Hal-Walla, however, was rather peaceable than warlike, and after a few such visits he wearied of this rough sport, and many centuries came and went before he visited the upper earth again.

Great was his surprise to find that the monsters of the early times had disappeared. The glacial forests had given place to woods of much smaller growth, but what interested the gnome most of all was the sight of a number of Indian villages which clustered in the peaceful valley below.

The men, women and little children were a revelation to Hal-Walla. They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different. Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs.

Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found. They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different.

Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs. Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found.

They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different. Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs.

Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found. They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different.

Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs. Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found.

They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different. Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs.

Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found. They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different.

Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs. Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found.

They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different. Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs.

Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found. They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different.

Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs. Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found.

They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different. Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs.

Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found. They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different.

Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs. Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found.

They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different. Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs.

Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found. They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different.

Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs. Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found.

They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different. Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs.

Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found. They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different.

Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs. Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found.

They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different. Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs.

Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found. They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different.

Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs. Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found.

They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different. Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs.

Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found. They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different.

Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs. Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found.

They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different. Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs.

Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found. They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different.

Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs. Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found.

They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different. Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs.

Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found. They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different.

Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs. Their manners were gentle, for it was a peaceable Indian tribe he had found.

They reminded him of the glories of the fierce beings he had grappled with in the forests of prehistoric times, and yet they were so different. Clad in scant, bright colored garments, their red skins shone with cunningly painted designs.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1894.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 412 Main Street, Moore & Parker, 275 Main Street, John Cummings, 24, Cummingsville, Albert Goss, Woburn Highlands, W. A. Hanson, North Woburn, and at F. A. Litchfield's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

REGISTRAR OF VOTERS.

Some time in May last, we think it was, the Mayor nominated Mr. Alexander Grant, a Republican in good standing, to fill a vacancy on the Board of Registrars of Voters, and the nomination was rejected by the Aldermen 4 to 3. Since then the Mayor has twice sent in the same name and each time it failed to go through.

The four Aldermen who have persistently voted against the confirmation of Mr. Grant were elected as Republicans and are nominally such. Naturally it would be expected that they would vote for him, but they unreasonably and unwisely refuse to do so, and the Republicans of this city are indignant at their course.

Mr. Alexander Grant is a gentleman of unblemished character. His rating in business and social circles is as high as any man's in town. He is a Republican of the true stamp, and is entitled to favorable consideration by Republicans when an opportunity is given to honor him. But the four Republican Aldermen decline to confirm his nomination as a member of the Registrars of Voters.

Happily, the Republican State Committee have taken the matter in hand and there are likely to be some disclosures not altogether creditable to the four Woburn Aldermen who, from sheer personal prejudice, or perhaps for some even less worthy cause, refuse to vote for Mr. Grant. The State Committee take hold of the matter because registration for the fall election is close at hand and it is absolutely necessary that the vacancy in the Woburn Board of Registrars of Voters be filled by a Republican at once. The Republican Aldermen ought to appreciate the necessity of favorable action. Republicans demand it. Mayor Murray says no other name than Mr. Grant's will be submitted to the Aldermen and he means it. Will the Republican party of Woburn suffer these four autocrats, for no other reason than to gratify personal spite, contrary to every principle of fair play, to deprive them of a party member of the Board? The State Committee say not.

The four Republican Aldermen, a clear majority, are carrying this thing too far. They have aroused the indignation of the Republicans of this city who demand the confirmation of Mr. Grant. If the Democratic majority in this city is increased next November, as it certainly will be unless the vacancy on the Board is filled in season by a Republican, these four Aldermen who arrogate to themselves so much power and consequence, will be held responsible for it.

Are they ready and willing to accept the responsibility?

PRESIDENT SULLIVAN REMOVED.

Since last Saturday evening, when an unusual scene was enacted in the Common Council Chamber over the report of the committee on the new schoolhouse contracts, rumors of the removal of President Sullivan of the Board have been rife, but the general opinion appeared to be that it would not be done. On this point however the public were in error for at a meeting held on Tuesday evening the office of President of the Common Council was declared vacant and immediately on the vote being announced an election was held which resulted in the choice of Councilman Fred C. Emery to fill the place.

Perhaps Mr. Sullivan has not made an ideal President; perhaps he has said and done things unbecoming the dignity of the position; perhaps in some of his rulings and actions he has not always been actuated by the highest and best motives; but he has been fairly representative of a majority of the body over which he has presided and on that score might have been permitted to serve out his term.

As usual Councilman Ela was conspicuous in the proceedings to degrade President Sullivan from his office and if any honor attaches to them he is entitled to it. He seems to be the brains of the Board.

Deposed President Sullivan has given out word that he will contest Tuesday evening proceedings in the courts and there are lawyers who think he has a good case. They contend that the reorganization of the Saturday night meeting and election of a President had no warrant in law. If not, then the proceedings Tuesday night were null and void.

MAKING GOOD HEADWAY.

The friends of Hon. John M. Harlow report that everything is looking favorable for his nomination for the Councilship. They further say that the opposition to him, never strong, is dying out, and by the time the convention is held it is expected that the little now in evidence will be withdrawn.

It is seldom that the candidacy of anyone is found to be so generally acceptable as that of Dr. Harlow. His eminent fitness for the place is recognized and admitted on all hands. His ability and integrity are undisputed. As a member of the Governor's Council he will be a credit to that body and the State.

From intelligence received from different parts of the District it is safe to conclude that the nomination and election of Hon. John M. Harlow is a foregone conclusion.

Common Councilman John W. Shaw is a friend to home industries, home protection, and home traders. The order which he introduced at the Tuesday evening's meeting of the Council providing for an equitable distribution of the city's patronage among home business men was unanimously adopted by the Board and is endorsed by the public. His author is warmly commended for taking an important step in the right direction.

The House bills passed after the Gorman tariff bill had gone through placing sugar, coal and iron on the free list, called, in derision, by some the "pop-gun" bills, were refused consideration by the Senate farther than to refer them to a committee. Thus Gorman made another point against the President.

Dr. J. M. Harlow of Woburn seems to have quite a following in support of his nomination for Councilor of the 6th District.—Stoneham News.

Yes, it looks that way. Nine-tenths of the Republicans in the District constitute "quite a following," and that is what Dr. Harlow has.

The country would like to see some of the signs of a revival of business that the Boston Globe has been telling about lately. It is singular that other people have discovered none of these signs of promise.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.
W. S. York—To Let.
F. H. Lewis—School.
A. A. Grammer—To Let.
J. H. Mather—Ex. Sale.
S. T. Madsen—Crematory.
Hicks School—Shortland.
O. C. B. Co.—Peck's Bad Boy.

WANTED: Stitches on Shirts, Overalls, Coats, etc. Apply at once. A. L. Richardson & Bro.—tf.

Yesterday was a hot day.

Will Sawyer has returned from Rockland, Me.

Mrs. John Seaver is rusticiating in New Hampshire.

Mrs. L. A. Grammer has a tenement to let. See notice.

J. Leathe continues to sell boots and shoes at bottom prices.

A small sum of money is awaiting an owner at this office.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stanley have returned from Kennebunk Beach.

James H. Partridge left here Wednesday morning for a visit to Maine.

Particular attention is asked for the card of Mr. Madsen entitled "Must be sold."

Mr. B. A. Tripp, the undertaker, and family have returned from Old Orchard.

Hon. J. G. Pollard was registered at the Prospect House, Cottage City, on August 16.

Rev. Hugh Montgomery will deliver an address at the Sterling camp-meeting this week.

Mr. William S. York advertises his residence on Union street to let. It is one of the best in the city.

Miss Annie L. Stevens sampled a fine fish and bivalve dinner at the Rose Standish House a few days ago.

We have had some more of that "winny" weather this week. It is delicious, and with it life certainly seems worth living.

Mr. P. G. Hanson took prizes for potatoes, corn and varieties at the meeting of the Horticultural Society in Boston last Saturday.

Miss Lulu S. Paine of Auburn, Maine, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nason and Miss Huse in this city. They are mutual friends.

Frederickson Campbell, Business Manager for Prof. E. Stone Wiggins, and family are visiting at Mr. Robert Duncan's, of 9 Lawrence st.

Mr. Charles Cummings of Cambridge street has sold 53,000 cucumbers to a single Boston house this season. All raised in his hothouse too.

The Setters and Stuffers Union held an important meeting at Hibernian Hall last Tuesday evening. The business had relation to the trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Hammond, with Mr. and Mrs. McFarland of Pennsylvania, and Miss Blanche Rogers, as guests, are at Marblehead Neck.

The name of Mr. Squire B. Goddard, of Goddard & Son, Insurance Agents, appeared on the register of the Atlantic House, Nantasket, the other day.

Mrs. Charles M. Strout and son have returned from Brunswick and other interesting places in Maine. They speak well of the country and hospitality of its people.

Mr. J. M. Ellis who puts in the foundations for the new schoolhouses is all solid whether the original contracts with the builders were good for anything or not.

Druggist Higley, after a pleasant vacation, is on deck again ready and willing to furnish community with all the medicine needed with promptness and dispatch.

Postmaster Wyman has returned to his post of duty at the close of an enjoyable outing on Martha's Vineyard with his family. Order will now reign at the postoffice.

Metropolitan Market is loaded down with good things to eat. A more inviting display of meats, vegetables and fruits cannot be secured up in this section of country.

Mrs. Mary E. Plannett and Miss Bertha Smith have returned from the seashore and will finish their vacation at Sanbornton, N. H. They are having a pleasant summer.

Milne & Chalmers, granite workers at Quincy, are authors of several of the best monuments in the Woburn cemetery and they have contracts for still costlier work there on hand.

It is gratifying to learn that Mrs. E. C. Colman, who has recently been quite ill at Hotel Pemberton, Hull, is very much better. Dr. George P. Bartlett of this city visits her daily.

The Water Board, Mr. Crilly Superintendent, have recently put in new hydrants on Green and Fowler streets and are now employed in putting in other new ones on lower Main st.

Mr. Sullivan announces publicly that he will preside at any and all legal meetings of the Common Council. If he attempts it, unless what he calls the "rump" council back down, of which there are some indications, there will be a circus in the chamber that will be worth seeing.

The Phalanx held their first drill since the annual muster at Framingham at the Army last Monday evening. There was a good turnout, and the boys acquitted themselves in fine style.

Rev. Alfred B. Whitney and wife of Indianapolis, Ind., are visiting Lewis L. Whitney, Esq., on Fairmount st. Rev. Mr. Whitney preached for Rev. Dr. March at the Orthodox church last Sunday evening.

A group of prominent Woburn people, namely: Celia A. Reade, Margaret J. Reade, Anastasia Reade, J. J. Mahern, John Mulhern, were guests of the Weymouth, Nantasket, one day last week.

Mr. Leon L. Dorr, head salesman at Copeland & Bowser's dry goods store, has gone down to Maine for a vacation. He will flutter in and around Lewiston on the Androsoggin most of the time while away.

The Boston Herald says the loss on leather stock in the store of Stephen Dow & Co., at No. 4 High st., Boston, at 1 o'clock yesterday morning was $500. The fire originated in F. W. White & Co.'s store.

Miss Carrie N. Turnbull, daughter of Mr. R. P. Turnbull of 58 Union st., and her friend, Miss Annie Bachelier of Stoneham, are going on a visit to Chelsea and Northfield, Vt., tomorrow, where they expect to have a pleasant outing.

If you are in doubt go and see for yourself that Charles R. Rosenquist, 36 Green street, Woburn, sells brandnew sewing machines from $12.00 up. Any first-class make he sells for $27.50, the lowest price, to any figure desired.

This is St. Bartholomew's Day. St. Bartholomew was one of the Apostles, sometimes called Nathaniel, and labored for the spread of Christianity with Philip in Phrygia. He was finally put to death at Abreanope in Great Armenia.

Miss Minnie Simonds left here last Monday for York Beach and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Simonds, followed for the same destination on Tuesday. They went away with the fond hope of passing a pleasant vacation.

Hon. E. E. Thompson and his grandson, Bertram Thompson, who have been traveling through portions of the State of Maine during the past fortnight or three weeks, returned to this city last Wednesday, hale and hearty and brown as berries.

There are 19 lawyers in this city all of whom do more or less local business and only a part have of whom have Boston offices. If 7 good men could have saved the city of Sodom from destruction what ought not the 19 Limbs of the Law be able to do for Woburn?

The demand at Belcher's famous icecream parlors for the delicious goods he manufactures has been greater than ever of late. It takes several horses to fill his Sunday dinner orders, but he makes connections everytime, and everyone approves of the cream they get from him.

The Shepard, Norwell Co. baseball team of Boston will play the Woburn Clothing Co. team at 3 o'clock tomorrow, Saturday, afternoon on the Park. Look out for the most exciting game of the season. Capt. John Dunne of the latter team will see fair play all over the field.

Mr. Edward J. Gregory, the Auctioneer, will sell a large lot of household goods at vendue tomorrow, Aug. 5, at 2 in the afternoon, at No. 79 Salem st., this city. The sale will be positive and everything go to the highest bidder. A great many useful goods are included in the list.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Manroe and the boys returned from York Beach last week well pleased with their August outing. They were delighted with York as a summer resort and spoke in terms of praise of everything there. Every hotel and boarding house were filled with guests during their stay.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Brooks returned a few days ago from Boothbay, Maine, after having enjoyed sea breezes and fresh fish at that popular resort for a fortnight or so. It was cool and comfortable all the time they were there, and the fishing, boating and driving were all that the heart could desire.

If you want a new dining room table, listen to this extract from the catalogue of Paine's Furniture Co., 48 Canal St., Boston: A new 1894 Dining Table, solid oak, 8-foot extension pattern, with full case of leaves, box frame, double centre-legs, extra cross braces, a strictly fine quality, only $9.00.

Mr. Erskine Ames did not buy the old Mishawum House on Kilby street as reported in some of the papers. He bought the land on which it stands and the building is to be removed by Dec. 1, next. The Mishawum once stood and did business as a tavern near or on the site of Mr. Griffin Place's present elegant residence.

In the cases of Kenney & Co. and Kerrigan & Co. summoned before the Board of License Commissioners to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked, Kenney & Co. were discharged, and the license of Kerrigan & Co. was taken away. There was nothing against the former firm and their arraignment before the Board was a mistake.

Mr. Charles R. Rosenquist is selling a new piece of furniture for the babies that "takes the cake." It is a high chair, a low chair, reclining chair, a bed, a swing, a jumper, a pair of steelyards, and several other things, and when once seen, as for Mrs. Winlow's soothing syrup, "the babies cry for it." It is an ingenious piece of mechanism.

Eliza D. Kendall of Fitchburg, cousin of Ald. Kendall of Ward 5, is visiting the family of Mr. William Lewis, No. 2 Highland st. She has just closed a pleasant summer sojourn with her cousin, Mr. Seth Stockwell, at Grafton, Mass., and has come to Woburn, her birth place and early home, for a fortnight's stay among old friends. At the close of her visit here Miss Kendall will return to Fitchburg.

Officer Charles F. McDermott will go out on vacation next Monday. His plan is to go to Washington and Baltimore with J. Howard Nason's Knight of Pythias excursion which leaves Boston this day. Editor John M. Wallace of the News and Mrs. Wallace intend to avail themselves of the advantages of Mr. Nason's excursion and visit the South.

Premontions of autumn are not lacking these days, but more particularly when the nights come on. Insect music has a fall-like tone; here and there is seen a little patch of foliage that has entered "the serene and yellow leaf" the drop of fruit in the orchards is heard; and there are many other signs of the approach of autumn which we have not space to mention.

To-morrow the Regimental Team of the 5th Regiment and the Team of the First Corps Cadets of Boston will engage in a bout of rifle practice at Brookside Rifle Range in this city at 200 and 500 yards preparatory to the State shoot which is to take place at the Mass. Rifle Ass'n Range at Walnut Hill, Woburn on Sept. 3 and 4.

If our School Board should elect Mr. Thomas Emerson to succeed Mr. F. B. Richardson they would not be guilty of making a bad move. We have heard that Mr. Emerson has regained his health and perhaps it might be possible to induce him to resume his old place over the Woburn schools. He would "come high," but then he would be worth all the city would have to pay.

Brother Gilman F. Jones, who for several years has held the supervision of all Woburn roads, in his possession, up. Any first-class make he sells for $27.50, the lowest price, to any figure desired.

Mr. Simon Blake of Wakefield, N. H., has been visiting his former neighbors and present friends here this week. He made money enough in the leather business in Woburn to retire several years ago and sensibly went to the Granite State to enjoy it. This is what he is doing up there these years. Mr. Blake comes down to Woburn and Boston a few times a year so as not to lose the run of things here.

The Woburn Brass Band will give a concert on the Common on Wednesday evening, Aug. 29.

PROGRAM.
1. March, 20 Regt. P. M. Offenberg
2. Overture, Orpheus. Offenberg
3. Cornet Duo, Swiss Boy. Vert
4. Selection, Nabucco. Vert
5. Cornet Duo, Swiss Boy. Vert
6. Fantasia, Kentucky Home. Dohly
7. Waltz, Symphonie. Bendix
8. Concert Schottische. Laurendson
9. Selection, Lullaby. Wallace
10. Meditation. T. H. MARSHMAN, Director.

It will be well for the ladies who still wish to learn the National Garment Cutting System to take advantage of these good days and join the class at once. No lady can afford to be without the knowledge of this system. One small dressmaker's bill will more than pay for your system and instructions. Be wise, and prepare yourselves to do your fall dressmaking. If you will call at Room 6, Mechanic Building, we will gladly show you the system.—X.

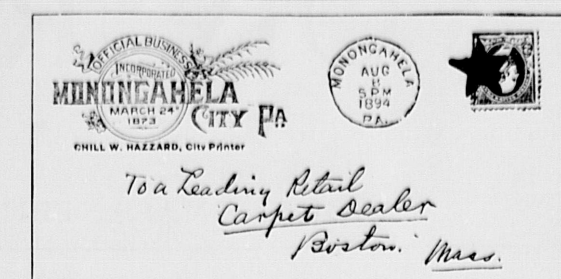

It is getting to be a pass when the people take but slight interest in the meetings of our Common Council. They expect to hear of a fight when even one is held and seldom do the expectations go amiss. The Council chamber has become a gladiatorial arena wherein fierce battles of words are fought, where members meet to measure tongues, and where object lessons in the art of "how not to die" are given free gratis. This is a great country.

Mr. Amos Cummings and Mrs. Cummings returned last Monday from a somewhat prolonged and every way delightful tarry at Old Orchard both very much improved in health and spirits. Mr. Cummings, who was pretty well played out when he went away, comes back with youthful ardor and vigor renewed, looking fine, feeling good, and ready to tackle trade with a will just as soon as some of it comes his way—that is, when the vacation is over.

Last Wednesday was "Ladies Day" of the Hull Yacht Club which is the annual swell social event at Hull. Ten yachts participated in the sail one of which was Mr. Edward A. Dow's Norma which had on board Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Dow, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Dodge, Miss Carolyn Crane, the bell of Wren; Miss Clara Foster, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lewis, and Mrs. C. A. Grammer was invited. The sail was followed by a collation, concert and dancing.

Mr. John Ferguson is of the opinion, or professes to be of the opinion, that, taking into account the amount of work which they do, and the quality, and also its importance to the public, the City Assessors are paid less than the incumbents of any other Departments at City Hall. It is probably true that Col. W. T. Grammer and Mr. E. Prior, the three constituting the Woburn Board of Assessors, would agree with Mr. Ferguson in the statement. Which suggests the question: What are you going to do about it?

The Goldenrod, America's National Flower, "a tall, coarse looking herb," according to Webster, the famous lexicographer, is now to be seen in all its glory by the sides of country roads, along country lanes, and also as fringes to fields and pastures. Its bloom is not nearly so beautiful as that of many other plants and shrubs, and it is odorless, and only the universality of its habitat, we imagine, secured for it the proud position of a National Flower. Notwithstanding its lack of floral charms—beauty and perfume—many people, especially New England people, affect to prize it above all other flowers of the field or garden, and some go so far as to rank it along side of "Old Glory" itself. We imagine that this is largely due to the spirit of which fads are born and is not true worship of the wild plant; and it would not be at all strange if, in a few years, the Goldenrod were compelled, by force of public sentiment, to yield its regal position and honors to a more deserving flower.

The above is a facsimile of the envelope containing a letter recently received at the Boston post-office. It was immediately forwarded to us. Is not that action highly significant? Has it not a suggestiveness for you, in making future purchases in our lines of goods?

John H. Pray, Sons & Co.,
CARPETS AND UPHOLSTERY,
658 Washington St. (opposite Boylston St.), BOSTON.

Insure your Property in Solid Companies!
S. B. GODDARD & SON,
General Insurance and Real Estate Agency.
New Savings Bank Building, Woburn, Mass.

Assets of Companies represented over Thirty Millions.
Losses promptly adjusted and paid at this office.
Boston Office—No. 93 Water Street.

Where are the scholars of the Cambridge street and Rumford districts going to school this fall? Did ever anyone see such a batch as our city authorities have made of this business? But when Rum and Politics rule the roost what matters it whether there are schools or not? Parents, guardians, recent people? Look at it, situation! Isn't it disgraceful? How long we ask, are you going to stand this sort of thing? Are you content to see every public interest—schools, roads, local improvements—sacrificed to the interests of Rum and Politics? Well, the remedy is in your own hands.

On next Wednesday evening, Aug. 29, "Peck's Bad Boy" will be presented on Lyceum Hall stage in the style as it was ever given anywhere. The Old Colony Bill Posting Co. bring it out, and it will be worth going to see. Almost everybody has heard of "Peck's Bad Boy" both while he figured in his father's paper at Milwaukee and in the play; but if they would see just what kind of a chap he is, and nearly die a laughing at his oddities and mischievous tricks—get thoroughly acquainted with the real, living "Bad Boy"—they must go to Lyceum Hall next Wednesday evening. See advertisement.

Mrs. P. J. Goodrich, with the family, except the head, has been at Hardwick, Vt., for a fortnight and will remain there 3 or 4 weeks longer. Hardwick is Mr. Goodrich's old stamping ground, and next year he proposes to build a hotel near by for the accommodation of the hundreds of summer visitors who swarm over that beautiful region every year. They come chiefly from New York, but many Boston people prefer the hills and lakes and streams of Northern Vermont to the crowded and rowdy seaside and spend the hot months there. Mr. Goodrich, no doubt, will make the summer hotel business pay.

Young seaside and lakeside loiterers are straggling back to the Long Ingleside in considerable numbers. A large share of the Woburns have returned from Newfound Lake, Bridge-water, N. H., after what Commodore W. W. Crosby reported to the JOURNAL as the most enjoyable season they have ever had there. A few remained to come back later on. On Monday Albert E. Maguire, Frank H. Smith, Benjamin H. Hinkley, Fred T. Dow, Abby M. Carter, a fine batch of young men, returned from Edgartown, and there came with them Mr. Arthur B. Wyman, P. M.; William Murdoch and Miss Cecil Wyman. And so they come.

Mr. Frederic A. Hartwell is looking round for a suitable store to do business in while his new one is being built. Possibly he will take the one recently vacated by Miss Bailey in Mechanic Block, which will make a good one. Mr. Hartwell has concluded to demolish his present market and build a good brick one on the site to correspond with the Buckman and Hart buildings now approaching completion, and only waits for some place to move into to begin operations. The location is one of the best for business in the city and Mr. Hartwell proposes to cover the lot with a building to correspond, and when completed he will own and occupy one of the most desirable market stores in the county.

Principal Owen of the High School returned last week from Maine where he went on a visit of fortnight or 3 weeks before. He, with his son, Master Owen, travelled as far as the upper part of Aroostook county where he found the crops in excellent plight and giving promise of abundant yield. The potato fields were just in bloom when he was there and presented a handsome appearance. A large hay crop of excellent quality had already been housed. Principal and Master Owen also went to Oakland, and there, before her departure, she married, and to Waterville, and other places in Kennebec and Somerset counties. Principal Owen is now getting in form for the fall term of school which will begin on September 11.

The 50th Regiment and 4th Battery are holding their annual reunion at United States Hotel in Boston today. Veterans Benjamin F. Smith and W. H. Bartlett of this city, members of the Battery, and George W. Bruce and Joseph Fields, members of the Regiment, are in attendance. They all belong to Post 101, G. A. R., of Woburn, and were good soldiers. Conrad Smith enlisted at Salem, his native place, in 1861, and kept right on marching and fighting until 1865, when he was honorably discharged from the service. He takes a lively interest in the annual reunions of the Veterans and always attends the 4th Battery's unless it is absolutely impossible for him to do so.

New Registration Law.
The new law of this year, Chapter 271, contains provisions which may be studied by all who wish to vote at the next election.

The Registrars of Voters may place upon the lists only the names of persons assessed a poll tax for this year, and those whose names were on the voting lists in December, 1893. Applicants for registration must present a certificate from the Assessors, a tax bill or notice from the Collector of Taxes, showing an assessment for a poll tax as a resident of the city or town on the preceding first day of May. Every one should find out before Sept. 1, if he has been assessed for a poll tax this year, and if he has not and will get assessed before Sept. 10, the Registrars can place his name on the revised voting list, provided his name was on in December last. Those not placed on the revised list, must, in order to vote, apply for registration at one of the advertised meetings of the Registrars. A poll tax can be assessed only in the place where the person lived on May first.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Be Sure to get HOOD'S and Only HOOD'S.
Hood's Pills are especially prepared to be taken with Hood's Sarsaparilla. See per box.

FEATHERBONE CORSETS AND WAISTS.

Correct Shapes. Best Materials. Latest Styles. Most Comfortable. Recommended by Ladies who wear them.

FEATHERBONE CORSET CO.
SOLE MANUFACTURERS,
KALAMAZOO, MICHIGAN.

FOR SALE BY
C. Willard Smith.

BOYS' SHOES.

Boys, when you get your feet into a pair of our shoes you will find something that will stand a good deal of rough usage before giving out. We have chosen our boys' shoe on the theory that the boy wants the best material and work we can give him. A good boy can't keep from rapidly destroying a bad shoe. Don't blame the boy when the shoe is at fault. They will make the boy proud and please the parent by saving his purse, both in the first cost and in time of wearing.

REPAIRING DONE.
J. LEATHE, 425 Main St., Woburn.

Agent for Standard Sewing Machines.

PIANO-FORTE INSTRUCTION.

MISS BANCROFT,
12 Franklin St., Woburn.

MISS IRMA G. TAY,
Private Instruction
—IN—Modern Piano Playing.
56 Bow St., Woburn, Mass.

WALTER W. CASE,
Insurance,
No. 30 Congress St., Boston.

Fire, Life, Accident, Plate Glass and Employers' Liability Insurance.
Bonds furnished for Contractors, Executors and persons occupying positions of trust.
Insurance placed in Woburn and vicinity.

Cool Drinks

FOR THE Summer Season!

Ginger Ale, 90c per dz.
Noris Malt, 20c pr bt, $2.25
Lime Juice, 20c per bot.
Bryant's Root Beer Ex, 10c
Knapp's " " " 15c
Hire's " " " 15c

Well Known in Texas.
Mr. J. C. Boswell, one of the best known and most respected citizens of Brownwood, Texas, suffered with diarrhea for a long time and tried many different remedies without benefit. He used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and he found them to be the only remedy that relieved him at once. For sale at Higley's Drugstore, Woburn.

Fun Coming.
The Old Colony Bill Posting Co., next attraction at the Lyceum Hall will be Peck's Bad Boy Co. who will appear on next Wednesday, August 29. Mr. Fred P. Wilson, the manager, has had the play entirely rewritten and improved, has introduced new characters, and without doubt is carrying the strongest company of comedians ever with the play. The specialties are all bright and catchy, and they carry quite a number of charming ladies who sing tuneful songs, and wear elegant costumes.

There is danger in delay.
Since 1861 I have been a great sufferer from catarrh. I tried Ely's Cream Balm and to all appearances am cured. Terrible headaches from which I had long suffered are gone.—W. J. Hinchcock, Late Major U. S. Vol. and A. G. B., Buffalo, N. Y.

Ely's Cream Balm has completely cured me of catarrh when everything else failed. Many acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Alfred W. Stevens, Caldwell, Ohio.
Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

MEETINGS FOR THE WEEK.
CONGREGATIONAL.—At 10:30 A. M., preaching by the pastor, Christian Endeavor at 7 P. M. Preaching by the pastor at 7 P. M. Wednesday evening, Preparatory Lecture.
METHODIST.—At 10:30 A. M., preaching by the pastor, AT F. M. Chapel. Prayer service led by the pastor. Prayer Meeting Wednesday evening, General Class Friday evening.
UNITED BRETHREN.—At 10:30 A. M., Morning Prayer and Sermon.

W. A. M. E. CHURCH.—Will hold services at Pleasant Grove, Vernon street, at 10:45 A. M. and 2:45 P. M. Rev. William Jackson, pastor. All are welcome.

Died.
Date, name, and age, inserted free!

Clearance Sale!

As the season advances we find as usual many odds and ends of Summer Goods that must be disposed of before opening our Fall and Winter stocks, to this end we have marked many goods at very low prices. We have also devoted a counter to specialties to which we shall add attractive bargains almost daily. We think it will be to the advantage of consumers to look these goods over before purchasing elsewhere. Also one case of Blankets, good quality, at the unheard of price of 49 Cents per pair.

COPELAND & BOWSER.

355 Main Street.

Wall Papers

Latest designs for 1894
Now in Stock.

Picture Frames made to order. Paper hangers furnished.
C. E. SMITH, 439 Main St., Opp. Central House.

50 Cents

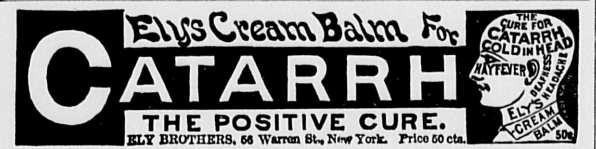

Buy a Bottle of Delicious Fruit Syrups.

ALL FLAVORS.

HIGLEY'S PHARMACY.

394 Main Street.

Woburn.

THE POSITIVE CURE.

ELY BROTHERS, 69 Warren St., New York. Price 60 cts.

Now Is The Time

To Have

C. M. STROUT

Put your Furnace and Stoves in Repair.

City Government.

COMMON COUNCIL.

An adjourned meeting was held on Tuesday evening, August 21. President Sullivan was absent.

On the agenda of the last meeting (August 18) showed that Councilman Corcoran made the motion to adjourn at the last meeting, and he desired a correction, stating that that motion was made by Councilman Land, but the records were allowed to stand until the next regular meeting.

Councilman Ellis offered the following order:

"Be it ordered, by virtue of the power vested in the Common Council by the charter, acts of 1888, chapter 374, sec. 14, the office of President of the Common Council, now held by Councilman Daniel J. Sullivan, be and hereby is declared vacant."

A motion by Councilman Corcoran to lay on the table was then defeated and the order passed. There was but one name, Mr. McDonough, who was absent.

Councilman Ellis offered a motion, which was passed unanimously, to proceed to the election of a President. Councilman Corcoran left the chamber, and Councilman Sullivan arrived. Matthew J. McDonough had 1, Daniel J. Sullivan 1, and Fred C. Emery 0.

Councilman Ellis then offered the following order:

"That all the members of each and all of the committees of the Common Council, and all the members on the part of the Common Council, of each and all of the joint standing committees, and of the committee on schoolhouse construction, be and are hereby discharged from all further service on said committees."

This was passed by the following vote: Yea, Ellis, Fox, Little, Shaw, Noyes, McCarthy, 7; nay, McDonough; absent, Sullivan, Corcoran, Land.

A motion by the Aldermen there came two orders providing for additional school accommodations and giving the committee full powers; concurred.

Councilman Shaw offered the following order, which was adopted:

"That committees and heads of departments, in connection with the work of support, and for mechanical labor, be and are equally as possible the same among citizens of the city of Woburn."

The Council then adjourned to Thursday evening next at 8 o'clock.

ALDERMEN.

The Aldermen, with Pres. Cutler in the Chair, passed the schoolhouse orders, referred the petition to widen and straighten Middle street to the Highway Committee, and drew the following resolutions: John Conolly, 13 Bennett st.; Edward P. Carr, 1098 Main st.; George Conole, 77 Park st.; and Daniel W. Bond, 30 Ward street.

Lewis Music School.

The JOURNAL has heretofore improved opportunities to refer to the Lewis Music School of this city in terms of commendation and to lay before the public the value of the institution to this community.

We do not call to mind a single city in the State of the size of Woburn that supports a school of the kind, or enjoys the advantages of obtaining a musical education which such a school affords. We have often said, and now repeat it, our people have reason to feel proud of the Lewis Music School, and owe it a large and liberal support.

The next term of the Lewis Music School will open on Sept. 10. The prospect for a large attendance is encouraging, as the reputation of the institution spreads; as its pupils, thoroughly equipped, go out from the school, and as the people at home become better acquainted with its high character and real worth; as Mr. and Mrs. Lewis increase their efforts to reach perfection in teaching; its patronage increases; its usefulness is enlarged; it becomes more solid on its foundation.

In our advertising columns Director F. H. Lewis imparts useful information respecting the coming term of the School. While the regular charges for tuition are no higher than Boston teachers of reputation and ability on a par with the Lewises are paid, still, in consideration of the hard times the Director offers to make a liberal discount from them to pupils on the piano, an offer which we do not but be eagerly taken advantage of by parents and guardians.

This reduction for piano pupils, be it borne in mind, will hold good only for this season, or until other arrangements are made. Two pupils, thoroughly equipped, go out from the school, and as the people at home become better acquainted with its high character and real worth; as Mr. and Mrs. Lewis increase their efforts to reach perfection in teaching; its patronage increases; its usefulness is enlarged; it becomes more solid on its foundation.

In our advertising columns Director F. H. Lewis imparts useful information respecting the coming term of the School. While the regular charges for tuition are no higher than Boston teachers of reputation and ability on a par with the Lewises are paid, still, in consideration of the hard times the Director offers to make a liberal discount from them to pupils on the piano, an offer which we do not but be eagerly taken advantage of by parents and guardians.

This reduction for piano pupils, be it borne in mind, will hold good only for this season, or until other arrangements are made. Two pupils, thoroughly equipped, go out from the school, and as the people at home become better acquainted with its high character and real worth; as Mr. and Mrs. Lewis increase their efforts to reach perfection in teaching; its patronage increases; its usefulness is enlarged; it becomes more solid on its foundation.

In our advertising columns Director F. H. Lewis imparts useful information respecting the coming term of the School. While the regular charges for tuition are no higher than Boston teachers of reputation and ability on a par with the Lewises are paid, still, in consideration of the hard times the Director offers to make a liberal discount from them to pupils on the piano, an offer which we do not but be eagerly taken advantage of by parents and guardians.

This reduction for piano pupils, be it borne in mind, will hold good only for this season, or until other arrangements are made. Two pupils, thoroughly equipped, go out from the school, and as the people at home become better acquainted with its high character and real worth; as Mr. and Mrs. Lewis increase their efforts to reach perfection in teaching; its patronage increases; its usefulness is enlarged; it becomes more solid on its foundation.

In our advertising columns Director F. H. Lewis imparts useful information respecting the coming term of the School. While the regular charges for tuition are no higher than Boston teachers of reputation and ability on a par with the Lewises are paid, still, in consideration of the hard times the Director offers to make a liberal discount from them to pupils on the piano, an offer which we do not but be eagerly taken advantage of by parents and guardians.

This reduction for piano pupils, be it borne in mind, will hold good only for this season, or until other arrangements are made. Two pupils, thoroughly equipped, go out from the school, and as the people at home become better acquainted with its high character and real worth; as Mr. and Mrs. Lewis increase their efforts to reach perfection in teaching; its patronage increases; its usefulness is enlarged; it becomes more solid on its foundation.

In our advertising columns Director F. H. Lewis imparts useful information respecting the coming term of the School. While the regular charges for tuition are no higher than Boston teachers of reputation and ability on a par with the Lewises are paid, still, in consideration of the hard times the Director offers to make a liberal discount from them to pupils on the piano, an offer which we do not but be eagerly taken advantage of by parents and guardians.

This reduction for piano pupils, be it borne in mind, will hold good only for this season, or until other arrangements are made. Two pupils, thoroughly equipped, go out from the school, and as the people at home become better acquainted with its high character and real worth; as Mr. and Mrs. Lewis increase their efforts to reach perfection in teaching; its patronage increases; its usefulness is enlarged; it becomes more solid on its foundation.

In our advertising columns Director F. H. Lewis imparts useful information respecting the coming term of the School. While the regular charges for tuition are no higher than Boston teachers of reputation and ability on a par with the Lewises are paid, still, in consideration of the hard times the Director offers to make a liberal discount from them to pupils on the piano, an offer which we do not but be eagerly taken advantage of by parents and guardians.

This reduction for piano pupils, be it borne in mind, will hold good only for this season, or until other arrangements are made. Two pupils, thoroughly equipped, go out from the school, and as the people at home become better acquainted with its high character and real worth; as Mr. and Mrs. Lewis increase their efforts to reach perfection in teaching; its patronage increases; its usefulness is enlarged; it becomes more solid on its foundation.

In our advertising columns Director F. H. Lewis imparts useful information respecting the coming term of the School. While the regular charges for tuition are no higher than Boston teachers of reputation and ability on a par with the Lewises are paid, still, in consideration of the hard times the Director offers to make a liberal discount from them to pupils on the piano, an offer which we do not but be eagerly taken advantage of by parents and guardians.

This reduction for piano pupils, be it borne in mind, will hold good only for this season, or until other arrangements are made. Two pupils, thoroughly equipped, go out from the school, and as the people at home become better acquainted with its high character and real worth; as Mr. and Mrs. Lewis increase their efforts to reach perfection in teaching; its patronage increases; its usefulness is enlarged; it becomes more solid on its foundation.

In our advertising columns Director F. H. Lewis imparts useful information respecting the coming term of the School. While the regular charges for tuition are no higher than Boston teachers of reputation and ability on a par with the Lewises are paid, still, in consideration of the hard times the Director offers to make a liberal discount from them to pupils on the piano, an offer which we do not but be eagerly taken advantage of by parents and guardians.

This reduction for piano pupils, be it borne in mind, will hold good only for this season, or until other arrangements are made. Two pupils, thoroughly equipped, go out from the school, and as the people at home become better acquainted with its high character and real worth; as Mr. and Mrs. Lewis increase their efforts to reach perfection in teaching; its patronage increases; its usefulness is enlarged; it becomes more solid on its foundation.

In our advertising columns Director F. H. Lewis imparts useful information respecting the coming term of the School. While the regular charges for tuition are no higher than Boston teachers of reputation and ability on a par with the Lewises are paid, still, in consideration of the hard times the Director offers to make a liberal discount from them to pupils on the piano, an offer which we do not but be eagerly taken advantage of by parents and guardians.

This reduction for piano pupils, be it borne in mind, will hold good only for this season, or until other arrangements are made. Two pupils, thoroughly equipped, go out from the school, and as the people at home become better acquainted with its high character and real worth; as Mr. and Mrs. Lewis increase their efforts to reach perfection in teaching; its patronage increases; its usefulness is enlarged; it becomes more solid on its foundation.

In our advertising columns Director F. H. Lewis imparts useful information respecting the coming term of the School. While the regular charges for tuition are no higher than Boston teachers of reputation and ability on a par with the Lewises are paid, still, in consideration of the hard times the Director offers to make a liberal discount from them to pupils on the piano, an offer which we do not but be eagerly taken advantage of by parents and guardians.

Special Notice!

TO PURCHASERS:

We will deliver free of expense all purchases amounting to one dollar or more, in any part of Reading, Wakefield, Stoneham, or Woburn, embracing the following:—

Wakefield, Greenwood, Montrose, Reading, North Reading, Woburn, North Woburn & Montvale.

Orders by Mail, Telephone, or Express will receive prompt attention.

HOUGHTON & DUTTON,

Cor. Tremont & Beacon Sts., BOSTON.

Telephone 951.

Boston Theatres.

KEITH'S NEW THEATRE. The same large patronage that has been bestowed upon Keith's palatial home theatre for the past four weeks was again in evidence Monday, and the quality of the entertainment was such that the most captious critic could hardly find fault to which exception could be taken. The "Living Pictures" were received with the same favor of old, and the new additions to the groupings are all beautiful and worthy the place they occupy in the grand collection. The magnificent reproduction, "The Rock of Ages," is really one of the most bewilderingly lovely examples of stage representation ever seen in Boston, and the light effects are brilliant in the extreme.

THE EIGHTH SUCCESS. The eighth success of "Davy Jones," the catchy, nautical opera, opened auspiciously at the Museum last evening, and the new additions to the groupings are all beautiful and worthy the place they occupy in the grand collection.

THE PROMENADE. The grand foyer, one half hour previous to the stage performance, was one greatly enjoyed and fully appreciated by the large audience in attendance. On Sept. 3, Mr. Chauncey Olcott will bring to the Museum his new play, "The Irish Artist," written expressly for him.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE. "In the Name of the Czar" the new Russian melodrama which received its first Boston presentation last Monday night has been greeted by large audiences throughout the week. The thrilling scenes were all rapidly received and the clever players were most heartily welcomed. The engagement closes on Saturday evening. Beginning Monday evening, "The Derby Mares" a sensational drama now being presented at Minors' People's Theatre New York city will receive its first presentation on any Boston stage. Of this play too much cannot be said in praise. According to all reports it combines the better features of comedy, drama and the vaudeville and is provided with every equipment, necessary to success.

THE BOWDOIN SQUARE. Gustave Frohman's greatest comedy success, "Jane" will be seen at the Bowdoin Square Theatre next week, and there is every reason to believe that the magnificent financial and artistic success of last year will be repeated. "Jane" is a screaming farce in three acts. Humor, wit and gaiety is its distinguishing characteristic. The humor is of a kind that causes you to explode as soon as the curtain rises, and it keeps you in a state of bubbling laughter until it ends. When it was first produced, "Jane" made a favorable impression. "Jane" is a farcical comedy with a plot, and it is a farcical comedy with a plot, and it is a farcical comedy with a plot.

On Saturday evening the Columbia Theatre will reopen its doors for the fourth regular season. Messrs. Rich, Harris and Frohman the managers will present as the opening attraction "Young America" from the pen of William Young who was awarded the "Rajah" and "Gendron." "Young America" is a story of love and adventure. It is not a war play nor even a historical drama. The action takes place in the vicinity of Charleston, S. C., during the occupation of that city by the British in 1775-6.

The company which will present "Young America" has been carefully selected and includes such actors and actresses as Joseph E. Whiting, Frank Nelson Drew, R. M. F. Channing, Miss Eleanor Carey, Miss Marie Durrell, Miss Agnes Fricke and others. Seats now on sale.

AUSTIN'S PALACE THEATRE. The management of the Palace Theatre is being commended upon all sides for the excellence of its big continuous performance, and the big increase in the attendance demonstrates beyond a doubt that the show is meeting with general approval. When the enormous expense of maintaining two separate companies is taken into consideration it is remarkable that there is any profit in the venture. The management is doing well on the theory that if the proper kind of entertainment was given that the increase in the clientele of the theatre would be more than enough to pay the large salaries which are found now or shine at every performance. The show warrants the patronage it is receiving by the large audiences which are found now or shine at every performance. The show warrants the patronage it is receiving by the large audiences which are found now or shine at every performance.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

President Sullivan affirms that the action of the members of the Common Council taken subsequent to the adjournment was of no earthly account and if the new elected committee had been allowed to hold office, it would have been a great deal of trouble to the city in trouble. He wanted to know where those members got their authority to hold that meeting, and says that he had declared it adjourned, and that meeting were not only voidable but absolutely void. He would like to know, he is going to find out, where they got the right to treat the meeting as still in session after he had declared it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned, and what right they had to declare it adjourned.

At a later hour on Saturday evening the Board of Aldermen met and concurred with the Building Committee in discharging the duties of the new one, namely: Cutler, Phillips, Hickey.

Y. M. C. A.

The Training Class meets next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The standing high jump has been raised and the record is now 4 ft. 3 in. The

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 1894.

The Journal is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 412 Main Street, Moore & Parker, 374 Main Street, John Cummings, 24 Cummings Street, Albert Gibson, Woburn Highlands, W. A. Hanson, North Woburn, and at F. A. Litchfield's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

SHIRKED THE RESPONSIBILITY.

The Democratic tariff bill became a law at 12 o'clock last Monday night, but not by the President's signature. He refused to the last to sign it and in a letter to Congressmen Catchings set forth his objections and told why he withheld his name from the bill.

The fact is the President dodged. He couldn't master courage enough to give the Democratic bantling his approval. It would have been more manly to veto it but he was afraid to do it and so the thing became a law by time limitation. The President's course towards the measure shows that he still considers himself better and bigger than his party.

LEAVES THE FIELD TO KNOX.

The withdrawal of handsome Capt. Francis H. Appleton of Peabody as a candidate for the Republican nomination to Congress in the Fifth District leaves the field entirely to Hon. William S. Knox of Lawrence, the candidate of two years before. Mr. Knox is one of the best campaigners in the State, and will undoubtedly be elected this fall.

It looks as though Mr. Knox would be nominated by acclamation. As to his election no doubt of it exists in the minds of intelligent people. If Congressmen Stevens is wise he will retire from the field with as much grace as he can command under the circumstances.

A MISTAKE.

Items in some of the Boston papers to the effect that ex-Alderman Walker of Malden is a candidate for Councilor from this District are not true. That gentleman was some time ago mentioned for the place, but his friends now say he is not an aspirant for it.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES.

The Woburn Republicans City Committee have decided to have the caucuses held on Wednesday evening, Sept. 19. Further particulars will be given in the JOURNAL next week.

Last Saturday's Boston Evening Record had a rattling good piece on Woburn's Common Council meeting held the evening previous and matters afloat the same. The Record had a great sale here that day. The article was elaborately illustrated and the story took up a couple of columns of that spicy little paper. It did not seem possible that the "bright young man" they sent out to do the work was "equal to the emergency," for he was of delicate build and wore his trousers legs turned up, dithering, but he proved himself to be a veritable "singlet" and made a real bright, readable story out of about as poor material as ever a reporter had to work on.

From the best information which we are able to obtain we are led to think that the nomination of Hon. John M. Harlow for the Councilorship in this District is a sure thing. Senator Shaw is his only opponent and he has but little strength outside of Lowell where the delegation will be divided between him and Dr. Harlow.

The discharge of the Common Council Committee and the appointment of new ones by President Emery, which was not a necessary sequence to the deposition of President Sullivan, is likely to produce snarls in public business and perhaps lead to lawsuits. It was one of Councilman Ela's astute moves.

The anti-Sullivan members of the Common Council are reported as not entirely clear concerning the legality of their proceedings and therefore it is expected City Solicitor Curran will be appealed to for an opinion.

Mr. George E. Fowle will be renominated for the Legislature and elected. He made a good record during his first term and will poll a larger vote this fall than last.

Gorman's Sugar Trust tariff bill was a bitter pill for the President to swallow but he had to take it. His protest embodied in the Catchings letter was a weak affair.

It is said that Mr. Robert J. W. Phinney of Warren, Ct., can have the Democratic nomination for Representative to the Legislature this fall if he will consent to accept it.

The Republican State Committee have a notice for caucuses in this paper to which particular attention is called.

Ex-Mayor Phil. Richardson of this city is putting in some campaign work in aid of the Senatorial aspirations of Mr. Brigham of Hudson.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

R. Carter—For Sale.
P. O. Box 28—To Let.
Coop. Bank—Meeting.
Ayer & Son—Sole Agents.
J. A. Long—Piano-forte.
Ayer & Son—Sole Agents.
J. G. Maguire—Matt. Sale.
—Wanted: Stitches on Shirts, Overalls, Coats, etc. Apply at once. A. L. Richardson & Bro.—off.
—Councilman Ela was on deck.
—Read Higley's change of ad in this paper.
—Miss Stella Lincoln was at Cottage City last week.
—Col. A. L. Richardson visited Cottage City last Sunday.

—Mrs. Henry F. Bulfinch is visiting her old home in Canada.
—Mr. W. S. York offers for rent No. 38 Union street. See ad.
—Belcher's peach flavored icecream "takes the cake." It is luscious.
—Mrs. Nellie Shaw and daughter are enjoying sea breezes at Seaside.

—Read the card "Board and Rooms" in our advertising columns.
—Mr. Charles F. Linscott of Chicago has been visiting in Woburn this week.

—Frank Ballou, salesman at the Boston Branch, has gone down on the Cape.

—Mr. Henry Moody is visiting the Partridge family and other friends in this city.

—Mr. George G. Hart contemplates improvements on his Main St. business property.

—Contractor J. M. Ellis has bought the Hartwell building and is moving it on to Wade ave.

—Mr. Thomas Dolliver of San Francisco, Cal., left here for home on Thursday, Aug. 30.

—Representative George E. Fowle will please accept our thanks for valuable public documents.

—Mr. Luke Warren Fowle and family have gone to famous York Beach for rest and pleasure.

—The Woburn Clothing Co. are selling an all wool double breasted suit for $7.00, former price $10.00.

—Mr. Henry Bulfinch left on Thursday for a visit of a few weeks to Buffalo, N. Y., and Niagara Falls.

—Charles W. Pollard of New York is visiting relatives and friends in this city. People were glad to see him.

—Mr. Francis A. Buckman and family and several Woburn rovers returned from Wellfleet last Saturday.

—Henry H. Leathe and family have just got home from Bass Point where they have been living in their cottage.

—Miss Sadie McDonald, with her aunt, Mrs. Thomas J. Devlin, has returned home from a visit to New York.

—We venture to say there is not a more inviting fruit store in this country than Cuneo & Crowe's. Nor in Boston, either.

—Miss Avis Hill of North Woburn was the guest of Miss Christine Kelley, at Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Putnam's, yesterday.

—Fred Smith was thrown from a runaway team on Pleasant St. last Tuesday and had one of his legs badly broken.

—The Woburn Co-operative Bank will hold a meeting on Sept. 13, according to Clerk Whitche's notice in this paper.

—Mr. Edmund Andrus and wife of Court st. took an excursion trip to Newport, R. I., last week and enjoyed it very much.

—Mr. Frank Gould of Bennett st. has returned from his vacation visits and is preparing for school work in good earnest.

—The Woburn Clothing Co. have placed on their counters their full line of fall and winter clothing at prices to meet the times.

—William DeLoria, the accomplished manipulator of fruits and vegetables at Durward's market, has returned from his vacation.

—West Young, driver of Hook & Ladder No. 1, has gone to Maine for his outing. Frank Irving takes his place on the carriage.

—Gregory keeps right on buying and selling real estate and does business every day in the week. He is "old reliable" all the time.

—Mrs. Henshaw is about to build a fine residence on Salem street near Beach street on land recently bought by her of Mr. Harris Munroe.

—We have had some real late September weather this week. The extremes of heat and cold this summer have been great and trying.

—The School Board think the scholars in the Cambridge st. district and at North Woburn can be accommodated this fall on a pinch.

—Mr. and Mrs. Messors T. Allen and the Misses Hoover are at the Black Rock House, Jerusalem Road. Lawyer Allen is improving slowly.

—Mr. Cyrus Lamb, builder, has made a handsome residence of Mr. Calnan's home on Winn st. He is a competent architect and careful workman.

—Capt. Larock is happy for Co. G's ranks are full, 61 members, rank and file, being on the roll. Next week teams try titles for medals at Walnut Hills.

—Mr. Frank C. Nichols, the ice merchant, and family have got back from Casco Bay and settled down into a quiet, industrious and happy life once more.

—Brewster Colony and Miles Standish Colony, Pilgrim Fathers, will picnic together in the shade of Durgin's Grove, Stoneham, on Labor Day, Sept. 3.

—Mr. C. S. Menchin has broken ground for a house near his residence. It will be occupied when completed by his son Frank, and family.—Winchester Star.

—Mr. R. B. Richardson's partner in the piano business from 1870 to 1885, Ward H. Jewett, died at his home at Leominster last Monday at the age of 75 years.

—Mr. P. G. Hanson of Cambridge st. captured several premiums for fruit and vegetables at the meeting of the Horticultural Society in Boston last Saturday.

—Rev. Homer E. Mariett of Little Falls, N. Y., brother of Mrs. Henry F. Bulfinch, made a flying visit at his sister's home in this city on Wednesday, Aug. 29.

—We are indebted to Mr. J. H. Nason, personal conductor of the Nason excursions, for a copy of the Washington (D. C.) Evening Star containing portraits and biographies of scores of prominent Knights of Pythias now assembled in National convention at the National Capital.

—Officer Thomas Mulkeen has returned from his vacation in prime condition, several pounds heavier than when he went away, handsome, and ready for work.

—LABOR DAY. The Woburn Centre postoffice will be open on next Monday, Sept. 3, Labor Day, from 6.30 to 10 A. M.; and from 6 to 7 P. M. A. B. WYMAN, P. M.

—Mr. A. O. Hopkins, late proprietor of the Garment Cutting establishment in this city, has bought a residence in Malden. He is engaged in business in Boston.

—We are in receipt of copies of the Atlanta (Ga.) Living Progress, containing contributions from the Woburn man, Mr. H. G. Randall.

—Dr. Geo. H. Hutchings and wife have gone to spend a week by Lake Memphremagog. The Doctor has just returned from Long Branch and will be ready for business after this outing.

—Mr. Richard Carter offers for sale his horse and carriage and will give somebody a good bargain. The horse is a fine family animal, kind and easily managed by a woman. See ad.

—No work will be done on the Woburn sewers this season. Progress does not seem these days to be one of the characteristics of our neighbor. What is the reason?—Winchester Star. You say.

—Mrs. Edward F. Bryant and children of Pullman, Illinois, are visiting Mr. E. F. Bryant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver F. Bryant, on Salem St. Mrs. E. F. B. is a New Hampshire lady.

—Montvale Park is flourishing. Three new houses are being built there at the present time and others are contemplated. It is as pleasant as any section of the city and handy to everything.

—Rev. H. C. Townley, pastor from 1864 to 1868, preached for Rev. W. C. Barrows at the Baptist church last Sunday. He received a warm greeting from his old friends and parishioners.

—Fitz & Stanley of the Boston Branch, like the Father of his country, can't tell a lie. What they say in their new ad is strictly true, and we hereby endorse their statement right up to the hilt.

—Hickok's Shortland School, Copple Square, Boston, has the unparalleled record of having placed every graduate during the past three years in a position, at a starting salary of not less than $10 a week.

—Miss A. Josephine Lang is one of the most popular and successful teachers of the piano-forte in this city. She is never at a loss for a plenty of pupils, for everyone likes her and she does first class work.

—A boys choir has been organized for Trinity church and will sing there in the future. It is some of Rector Marquis's work, who is a progressive gentleman and means to have the best of everything that is going.

—Mr. J. M. Ellis waters 5 miles of streets and instead of the city paying him anything toward it, except about $40 for services on public property, it charges him $120 for water. That don't seem to be just right.

—Mrs. Flanders, wife of a former Woburn druggist, and daughter of Mr. John Maxwell, now a resident of Chicago, is visiting her parents at Winchester, and has met several of her old Woburn friends this week.

—Mrs. Henry Bulfinch has been in Lyndboro, N. H., five weeks and will stay two or three longer. Miss M. Eliza and H. Milton, children of Mr. Henry F. Bulfinch and grandchildren of Mrs. Henry Bulfinch, are with her.

—Mr. John Connolly, the main spoke in the City Hall big wheel, will serve as a jurymen at the Civil Term to begin at Lowell next week. He would have preferred East Cambridge, but must take it as it comes.

—The alarm from box 27 at about 1.45 yesterday morning was for a fire in a dwelling house just over the line in Burlington owned by a C. W. Hawkin and occupied by a family named Murphy. The house and contents was a total loss.

—Mr. Edward E. Parker, who does a good deal more in the line of furnishing heating apparatus in this vicinity than any other dealer, has been awarded the contract for furnishing the Stoneham Armory with heating machinery. It will be O. K.

—The National Band will give their next and last concert of the season on the Common Wednesday evening, Sept. 12. They have given a fine series of concerts this summer, for which the public owe them a debt of gratitude, and something more substantial.

—"Peck's Bad Boy" was played to a good house at Lyceum Hall last Wednesday evening, and gave first rate satisfaction. The Old Colony Bill Posting Co. put it on and they have never given us a play from witnessing which more pleasure was derived.

—Book Cabinets are cheaper than ever before. At Pain's Furniture Warehouses, in Boston, a double cabinet of solid oak, with glass doors, Colonial molding, galleried back, and five shelves, carrying 175 volumes, is offered at only $14. Why not secure one?

—The Woburn Brass Band gave a rattling good concert on the Common last Wednesday evening and one of the largest crowds of the season were present to enjoy it. They executed in fine style a staving good programme, and Conductor Marriann was at his best.

—Mr. Michael Kelley died at his home 41 Everett street last Saturday evening after a long and distressing illness, the effects of a severe attack of the grip some two years ago. He was for many years a resident of Richmond, Maine, where his first wife died and where he married his second wife, the present Mrs. Kelley, and came to Woburn over 20 years ago. He was a quiet, industrious man, of exemplary habits, and a kind husband and father. He was about 70 years old when he died. A widow and three children (by his first wife) are left to mourn his death. The funeral on Tuesday was largely attended.

—The second case of Kerrigan & Co. before the License Commissioners was postponed from last Tuesday to last evening. The first proceedings of the Board against them were quashed by Judge Johnson of the District Court, for informality in service of notice, which was taken advantage of by John P. Feeney, Esq., counsel for the accused. This compelled the Board to prick anew, which they did and the hearing was to have come off last evening. Lawyer Feeney again appeared for Kerrigan & Co.

—Mr. David Ronco and Mr. George S. Hudson, both of Woburn, held a symposium at Cottage City last Thursday week which proved a great pleasure to both. Mr. Hudson is the Boston Herald's able Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard summer correspondent, and just returning from his trip to New York, Philadelphia and neighboring regions on last Friday, and his son Cole had a few days later. The especial object of their going away was to visit the Maddox family in Philadelphia between whom and the Andrews family a strong friendly feeling exists having had its origin at the time of the American Centennial in 1876 and the relations having been continued with mutual pleasure ever since. Henry and his son Cole had a delightful visit, especially with their Philadelphia friends, and are now ready for business at the old stand.

—Mr. T. Marvin Parker left early this week for the family connected at Lebanon, York county, Maine, where he expects to visit with his mother and go fishing for several weeks. He pretends that there are several brooks rich in trout down in the neighborhood of the old farm that nobody knows anything about but himself into the pellucid waters of which not a hook has been dropped for two years and the fish are just itching to have him come and catch them. This may or may not be so; Mr. Parker is entitled to the usual latitude when talking about fish; and it is not for the JOURNAL to attempt to draw the line between fact and fiction in stories of that kind. Good luck to the story.

—Rev. W. C. Barrows and family have got through with their vacation and returned home. They have passed the month at Cottage City very pleasantly, and the pastor has gained 10 pounds of good flesh in that time. He will occupy his pulpit next Sunday as usual.

—Dr. E. L. Hayford, formerly of city but for the past five years located in Chicago where he is engaged in medical practice, has been spending a few weeks in Woburn visiting his family. The Doctor returns to Chicago in a short time accompanied by Mrs. Hayford and their daughter.

—Mr. David Hoskins, who died here a few days ago after a long sickness, was well known in this community. He was a large hearted, genial man and had many friends. Years ago he used to drive the Cummingsville stage for Mr. G. F. Jones, and he was liked so well that the patrons one time gave him a silver watch.

—On Sept. 2 and 3 Capt. E. C. Leathe will lead the Towanda Cycle Club on a 2-days tour to Mount Wachusett, and on the latter day a run will be made to Waltham to take in the Press Club races which promises to be a notable affair. Towanda has some fast riders and Capt. Leathe is an enthusiastic leader.

—Mr. William S. Whitford, the provision dealer, is building a fine residence on Canal street corner of Lawrence street, which when completed will make a handsome and pleasant home. The new estate of Mr. Joseph H. Buck further up the hill on Lawrence street is neat and commands one of the most pleasing views in the city.

—Hon. E. E. Thompson, the "old and reliable" stand by at the Savings Bank, was present at the preliminary opening at the Maine Republican campaign at Old Orchard last week and liked it. He had almost a good mind to go down and hear Tom Reed at the real opening a week later. The ex-Mayor is a Republican to the backbone.

—Edward F. Bryant of Pullman, Ill., who testified before the committee which is investigating the labor troubles in that state, is a Woburn boy, and son of Oliver F. Bryant of this city. He was for some years an employee of the First National Bank in this city, leaving the position to accept of the trusteeship of the Pullman savings bank.—Boston Globe. And a first class young man he is too.

—The generous people who contributed money, at the solicitation of Miss Jennie E. Skinner and Rev. George A. Crawford, D. D., to pay the passage of sailor Neil, wife and daughter to their native city, Southampton, England, recently, will be interested to learn that the contributions were promptly applied to that purpose and that the Neils sailed on the steamship New York last Wednesday.

—Mr. Fred A. Hartwell, the old, well-known and popular marketman, has moved into the store lately occupied by a fish market a few doors west of the Journal office. This is only a temporary arrangement to last until his new store on the site of the old stand is completed—the matter of a couple of months, or so. He is a little cramped for room in the present quarters but customers are promptly and satisfactorily served, all the same.

—Why is not the money received from the liquor licenses transferred to the Highway Department so that laborers can have something to do? They were all discharged last Saturday night and not a stroke of work has been done on the streets since, because there is no money to do it. The present champions of the workmen in our city government care for the day laborers! Turn them out! And the workmen will do it next December.

—Mr. W. R. Cutter, Librarian, is taking a part of his fortnight's vacation this week, the remaining week to be enjoyed later on. In September he and Leonard Thompson, Esq., of the Board of Library Trustees, will attend the National Convention of Librarians at Lake Placid, Adirondacks, which is a noted annual gathering. It is generally attended by people from foreign shores, as guests, and many in this country are interested in and connected with libraries.

—R. J. Phinney, Esq., and wife of Woburn, are guests of his father, Major S. B. Phinney. They have just returned from the Provinces where they passed the late heated term. Mrs. Phinney, who has a state-wide reputation as an accomplished singer, favored the Unitarian audience Sunday morning with two solos which were greatly appreciated.—The Barnstable Patriot, Aug. 21.

—The Barnstable Patriot, Aug. 21. This worthy Academy Hill couple seem to be enjoying life this summer. They deserve to.

—Barring some fraternity picnics, family gatherings, and a patriotic games, Labor Day will not be observed in this city. Of course all business houses will be closed and the town will be still and dull, but there will be nothing that resembles a celebration. Neighboring towns and cities will be sought for the pleasures and sports of the day. In the evening the Boston theatres will be crowded with Woburn people. A number of them give matinees at 2 P. M.

—The case of Kerrigan & Co. before the License Commissioners was postponed from last Tuesday to last evening. The first proceedings of the Board against them were quashed by Judge Johnson of the District Court, for informality in service of notice, which was taken advantage of by John P. Feeney, Esq., counsel for the accused. This compelled the Board to prick anew, which they did and the hearing was to have come off last evening. Lawyer Feeney again appeared for Kerrigan & Co.

—Mr. David Ronco and Mr. George S. Hudson, both of Woburn, held a symposium at Cottage City last Thursday week which proved a great pleasure to both. Mr. Hudson is the Boston Herald's able Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard summer correspondent, and just returning from his trip to New York, Philadelphia and neighboring regions on last Friday, and his son Cole had a few days later. The especial object of their going away was to visit the Maddox family in Philadelphia between whom and the Andrews family a strong friendly feeling exists having had its origin at the time of the American Centennial in 1876 and the relations having been continued with mutual pleasure ever since. Henry and his son Cole had a delightful visit, especially with their Philadelphia friends, and are now ready for business at the old stand.

—Mr. T. Marvin Parker left early this week for the family connected at Lebanon, York county, Maine, where he expects to visit with his mother and go fishing for several weeks. He pretends that there are several brooks rich in trout down in the neighborhood of the old farm that nobody knows anything about but himself into the pellucid waters of which not a hook has been dropped for two years and the fish are just itching to have him come and catch them. This may or may not be so; Mr. Parker is entitled to the usual latitude when talking about fish; and it is not for the JOURNAL to attempt to draw the line between fact and fiction in stories of that kind. Good luck to the story.

—The case of Kerrigan & Co. before the License Commissioners was postponed from last Tuesday to last evening. The first proceedings of the Board against them were quashed by Judge Johnson of the District Court, for informality in service of notice, which was taken advantage of by John P. Feeney, Esq., counsel for the accused. This compelled the Board to prick anew, which they did and the hearing was to have come off last evening. Lawyer Feeney again appeared for Kerrigan & Co.

—Mr. David Ronco and Mr. George S. Hudson, both of Woburn, held a symposium at Cottage City last Thursday week which proved a great pleasure to both. Mr. Hudson is the Boston Herald's able Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard summer correspondent, and just returning from his trip to New York, Philadelphia and neighboring regions on last Friday, and his son Cole had a few days later. The especial object of their going away was to visit the Maddox family in Philadelphia between whom and the Andrews family a strong friendly feeling exists having had its origin at the time of the American Centennial in 1876 and the relations having been continued with mutual pleasure ever since. Henry and his son Cole had a delightful visit, especially with their Philadelphia friends, and are now ready for business at the old stand.

—Mr. T. Marvin Parker left early this week for the family connected at Lebanon, York county, Maine, where he expects to visit with his mother and go fishing for several weeks. He pretends that there are several brooks rich in trout down in the neighborhood of the old farm that nobody knows anything about but himself into the pellucid waters of which not a hook has been dropped for two years and the fish are just itching to have him come and catch them. This may or may not be so; Mr. Parker is entitled to the usual latitude when talking about fish; and it is not for the JOURNAL to attempt to draw the line between fact and fiction in stories of that kind. Good luck to the story.

—The case of Kerrigan & Co. before the License Commissioners was postponed from last Tuesday to last evening. The first proceedings of the Board against them were quashed by Judge Johnson of the District Court, for informality in service of notice, which was taken advantage of by John P. Feeney, Esq., counsel for the accused. This compelled the Board to prick anew, which they did and the hearing was to have come off last evening. Lawyer Feeney again appeared for Kerrigan & Co.

—Mr. David Ronco and Mr. George S. Hudson, both of Woburn, held a symposium at Cottage City last Thursday week which proved a great pleasure to both. Mr. Hudson is the Boston Herald's able Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard summer correspondent, and just returning from his trip to New York, Philadelphia and neighboring regions on last Friday, and his son Cole had a few days later. The especial object of their going away was to visit the Maddox family in Philadelphia between whom and the Andrews family a strong friendly feeling exists having had its origin at the time of the American Centennial in 1876 and the relations having been continued with mutual pleasure ever since. Henry and his son Cole had a delightful visit, especially with their Philadelphia friends, and are now ready for business at the old stand.

—Mr. T. Marvin Parker left early this week for the family connected at Lebanon, York county, Maine, where he expects to visit with his mother and go fishing for several weeks. He pretends that there are several brooks rich in trout down in the neighborhood of the old farm that nobody knows anything about but himself into the pellucid waters of which not a hook has been dropped for two years and the fish are just itching to have him come and catch them. This may or may not be so; Mr. Parker is entitled to the usual latitude when talking about fish; and it is not for the JOURNAL to attempt to draw the line between fact and fiction in stories of that kind. Good luck to the story.

—The case of Kerrigan & Co. before the License Commissioners was postponed from last Tuesday to last evening. The first proceedings of the Board against them were quashed by Judge Johnson of the District Court, for informality in service of notice, which was taken advantage of by John P. Feeney, Esq., counsel for the accused. This compelled the Board to prick anew, which they did and the hearing was to have come off last evening. Lawyer Feeney again appeared for Kerrigan & Co.

—Mr. David Ronco and Mr. George S. Hudson, both of Woburn, held a symposium at Cottage City last Thursday week which proved a great pleasure to both. Mr. Hudson is the Boston Herald's able Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard summer correspondent, and just returning from his trip to New York, Philadelphia and neighboring regions on last Friday, and his son Cole had a few days later. The especial object of their going away was to visit the Maddox family in Philadelphia between whom and the Andrews family a strong friendly feeling exists having had its origin at the time of the American Centennial in 1876 and the relations having been continued with mutual pleasure ever since. Henry and his son Cole had a delightful visit, especially with their Philadelphia friends, and are now ready for business at the old stand.

—Mr. T. Marvin Parker left early this week for the family connected at Lebanon, York county, Maine, where he expects to visit with his mother and go fishing for several weeks. He pretends that there are several brooks rich in trout down in the neighborhood of the old farm that nobody knows anything about but himself into the pellucid waters of which not a hook has been dropped for two years and the fish are just itching to have him come and catch them. This may or may not be so; Mr. Parker is entitled to the usual latitude when talking about fish; and it is not for the JOURNAL to attempt to draw the line between fact and fiction in stories of that kind. Good luck to the story.

—The case of Kerrigan & Co. before the License Commissioners was postponed from last Tuesday to last evening. The first proceedings of the Board against them were quashed by Judge Johnson of the District Court, for informality in service of notice, which was taken advantage of by John P. Feeney, Esq., counsel for the accused. This compelled the Board to prick anew, which they did and the hearing was to have come off last evening. Lawyer Feeney again appeared for Kerrigan & Co.

—Mr. David Ronco and Mr. George S. Hudson, both of Woburn, held a symposium at Cottage City last Thursday week which proved a great pleasure to both. Mr. Hudson is the Boston Herald's able Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard summer correspondent, and just returning from his trip to New York, Philadelphia and neighboring regions on last Friday, and his son Cole had a few days later. The especial object of their going away was to visit the Maddox family in Philadelphia between whom and the Andrews family a strong friendly feeling exists having had its origin at the time of the American Centennial in 1876 and the relations having been continued with mutual pleasure ever since. Henry and his son Cole had a delightful visit, especially with their Philadelphia friends, and are now ready for business at the old stand.

—Mr. T. Marvin Parker left early this week for the family connected at Lebanon, York county, Maine, where he expects to visit with his mother and go fishing for several weeks. He pretends that there are several brooks rich in trout down in the neighborhood of the old farm that nobody knows anything about but himself into the pellucid waters of which not a hook has been dropped for two years and the fish are just itching to have him come and catch them. This may or may not be so; Mr. Parker is entitled to the usual latitude when talking about fish; and it is not for the JOURNAL to attempt to draw the line between fact and fiction in stories of that kind. Good luck to the story.

—The case of Kerrigan & Co. before the License Commissioners was postponed from last Tuesday to last evening. The first proceedings of the Board against them were quashed by Judge Johnson of the District Court, for informality in service of notice, which was taken advantage of by John P. Feeney, Esq., counsel for the accused. This compelled the Board to prick anew, which they did and the hearing was to have come off last evening. Lawyer Feeney again appeared for Kerrigan & Co.

—Mr. David Ronco and Mr. George S. Hudson, both of Woburn, held a symposium at Cottage City last Thursday week which proved a great pleasure to both. Mr. Hudson is the Boston Herald's able Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard summer correspondent, and just returning from his trip to New York, Philadelphia and neighboring regions on last Friday, and his son Cole had a few days later. The especial object of their going away was to visit the Maddox family in Philadelphia between whom and the Andrews family a strong friendly feeling exists having had its origin at the time of the American Centennial in 1876 and the relations having been continued with mutual pleasure ever since. Henry and his son Cole had a delightful visit, especially with their Philadelphia friends, and are now ready for business at the old stand.

—Mr. T. Marvin Parker left early this week for the family connected at Lebanon, York county, Maine, where he expects to visit with his mother and go fishing for several weeks. He pretends that there are several brooks rich in trout down in the neighborhood of the old farm that nobody knows anything about but himself into the pellucid waters of which not a hook has been dropped for two years and the fish are just itching to have him come and catch them. This may or may not be so; Mr. Parker is entitled to the usual latitude when talking about fish; and it is not for the JOURNAL to attempt to draw the line between fact and fiction in stories of that kind. Good luck to the story.

—The case of Kerrigan & Co. before the License Commissioners was postponed from last Tuesday to last evening. The first proceedings of the Board against them were quashed by Judge Johnson of the District Court, for informality in service of notice, which was taken advantage of by John P. Feeney, Esq., counsel for the accused. This compelled the Board to prick anew, which they did and the hearing was to have come off last evening. Lawyer Feeney again appeared for Kerrigan & Co.

—Mr. David Ronco and Mr. George S. Hudson, both of Woburn, held a symposium at Cottage City last Thursday week which proved a great pleasure to both. Mr. Hudson is the

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Callonette, Druggist, Beaver-ville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and said I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at Gordon Parker's Drug Store.

The best straw in the world is grown in China and Japan, and is made into braid in England and Belgium.

The opinions of wise men ripen into judgments, while the opinions of the fool become hardened prejudices.

Use It in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in tact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected coids in the head almost invariably proceed catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucous discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath severe pain across forehead and about the ears, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and, oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

No child would love its mother if its mother treated it as badly as it often treats its mother.

One of the most delightful things about an apple blossom is that it promises some delicious fruit.

The torture of dyspepsia and sick headache, the agonizing itching and pain of salt rheum, are removed by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We can never give the flowers what they give us.

Learn to laugh; but not at a disgruntled rival.

The opportunity of a lifetime may not last five seconds.

Man is naturally inclined to believe in his own whiskers.

Get as much advice as you can, and use as little as you can.

Nature never refuses her hand to those who would take it.

The man with the push beats the man with the pull any day.

A monument sometimes speaks loudest for the relatives who erect it.

Some men tell lies because it is their only means of getting quoted.

There is no rest for the man who does nothing to make himself tired.

A wise man is one who knows when his prejudices are leading him astray.

Men and women waste half their time commenting on each others' comments.

A woman loves a man because she loves him, and that is reason enough in her mind.

One of the greatest pleasures in life is found in counting the money one is about to make.

When a man puts on a new suit of clothes he thinks the whole world takes notice of it.

Here to Stay.

BILL

Tobacco
Is a chew that suits,
and it never changes.

Education & Employment

COMER'S
FOUNDED
COMMERCIAL 1840
COLLEGE.

Reopens September 4th.

A thorough and practical course of study in BUSINESS AND SHORTHAND,
preparing young people to earn their own living.
Individual instruction, most famous for pupils; experienced teachers. Our record of
54 YEARS AND 29,000 PUPILS speaks for itself. Prospectus free by mail or at office.

COMER'S COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,
606 Washington St., cor. Beach,
BOSTON, MASS.

SHORT ELEMENTARY
COURSE
Free by mail or orally.
HAND

At Hickox's Shorthand
College, Copy No. Boston, the leading and the largest exclusive shorthand school in the United States. Send for particulars.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, SEPT. 7, 1894.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 412 Main Street, and at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 412 Main Street, and at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 412 Main Street.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All Advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

GENERAL BANKS.

General Nathaniel P. Banks passed peacefully away at his home in Waltham last Saturday morning.

He was born in 1816 and was about 78 years old.

His demise was not unexpected and when the end came the family and friends were fully prepared for it. He had been losing ground mentally and physically for about two years, but the final collapse came only a few days before he expired.

The history of General Banks is an open book. He has been a public figure in almost every political capacity for nearly 60 years, and those who are familiar with the political annals of America for the 45 years must know who and what he was, for in those annals he stands out as one of the most conspicuous figures. The greatest contest for the Speakership of the National House of Representatives was won by him in 1856. His place as a military leader has never been settled.

From the humble position of "Bobbin Boy" in the factory at Waltham of which his father was Superintendent he rose to be many times Congressman, Governor of Massachusetts, and to other distinguished positions. He was a born political orator.

The people of Woburn felt an especial nearness to the General. He seemed to be one of them, because he had represented them so many times in Congress, and their intercourse had been long and agreeable.

The military conducted the funeral at Waltham on Tuesday, the 5th. Mass. Regt. of which Co. G. of Woburn is a member, did escort duty.

PRESENT COUNCIL SU-S-TAINED.

In response to an official call City Solicitor F. P. Curran, Esq., furnished an opinion at a meeting held last Saturday evening which sustained the present Common Council in changing their President from Sullivan to Emery.

The points in the case were carefully considered by the Solicitor and the reasons for the decision lucidly stated. The official opinion was doubtless largely in accord with public sentiment, but there are good lawyers whose views of the case are entirely different from those of the City Solicitor. It is said that ex-President has accepted the decision in good faith and will let the matter drop.

A FIRST-CLASS ENDORSEMENT.

The Lawrence Emerson is an enthusiastic supporter of Hon. John M. Harlow for the office of Councilor for this District and in this respect is in full accord with the Republican party in that city. We extract the following first-class notice from the editorial columns of the American of Sept. 4:

"Personally Dr. Harlow is in every way qualified for the office. He is acquainted with men and affairs throughout the State, and has attained an eminence in his profession that will make his services very valuable in connection with the State institution which come more or less under the supervision of the Councilors. He is not an office seeker and has become a candidate in the present instance because Woburn Republicans feel that they are entitled to recognition and have united upon him as the man to receive it."

ABLE AND POPULAR.

For Councilor in the Sixth District Dr. John M. Harlow of Woburn appears to be the favorite candidate for nomination. The doctor is a very able man and popular everywhere.—Reading Chronicle.

No man in the District is better qualified for the place than Dr. Harlow and his nomination and election are as good as assured.

The destruction of life and property by forest fires in Minnesota and Wisconsin last Saturday and Sunday was perfectly appalling. The number of people who lost their lives was variously estimated from 500 to 1200. An exact count will probably never be made.

LOCAL NEWS.

The License Commissioners revoked the license of P. F. Kerrigan & Co. after due deliberation and protracted hearing.

Vermont rolled up 25,000 Republican majority last Tuesday. Not bad for an "off year," eh?

LOCAL NEWS.

License Com.—App. R. Barton—For Sale. J. L. Munroe—For Sale. J. G. Maguire—Citation. Pottingill & Co.—Kerrigan. Pulse Fur Co.—Furniture. J. G. Maguire—Tax Notice. C. H. Hall & Co.—Furniture. Fidelity Wash. Co.—Furniture. Capt. John Read—Auction.

WANTED: Stitches on Shirts, Overalls, Coats, etc. Apply at once. A. L. Richardson & Bro.—H.

There was a fine rain early yesterday morning.

Officer McDermott has returned to his post of duty.

The Unitarian church will resume services next Sunday.

Lawyer M. T. Allen isn't feeling any too well these days.

James Oliver has gone down to Maine to spend his vacation.

Editor Wallace of the News will get home about the 15th inst.

Republicans, bear in mind the caucuses to be held on Sept. 19.

Mr. Richard Carlton offers a good horse and carriage for sale. See ad.

—Edward Callahan, prescriptionist at Whiteher's, is taking his vacation.

—Rev. George Gerrish, son of Mr. J. M. Gerrish, is visiting his people here.

—Next Monday afternoon the Police and Drug Clerks will play ball in the Park.

—Miss Bessie Grammer has returned from a five weeks' vacation at Wilton, N. H.

—Peruse carefully the advertisement of Capt. John Read's auction sale in this paper.

—Mr. Eugene Brooks and wife of Somerville visited in this city last Sunday and Monday.

—The Aldermanic Board held a regular meeting last evening, the first since the vacation.

—Miss Maud Wood of Salem st., has gone back to her classes in the Chelsea High School.

—One day last week Charles Nichols, son of Mrs. Flora Nichols, fell from a fence and broke his leg.

—Mr. Frank Johnson of Court st., expects to return to his teaching in New York in about two weeks.

—Miss Mertena Bancroft will enter on her duties as organist at the Unitarian church next Sunday.

—William H. Bowers and Charles M. Howe have returned from a visit to Maine and the Provinces.

—Everett G. Place, of G. & E. G. Place, has returned to this city after a six weeks' trip abroad.—Leather.

—The Atlanta (Ga.) University Quartet will give a concert at Concert Hall on Tuesday evening, Sept. 20.

—Mr. George G. Hart's building on Main st. has been very much improved by the addition of a new front.

—Yesterday Mrs. John Connolly of Bennett st. favored us with a nice lot of fine pears for which we thank her.

—Mrs. S. E. Hubbard is in Marshfield, Cape Cod, engaged as nurse, by Mrs. C. G. Beebe of Beacon st., Boston.

—The National Band will give a dance at Lyceum Hall at the close of their finishing opera concert on Sept. 12.

—Mrs. Marshall Richardson of Church ave. also generously remembered the Editor with a basket of delicious pears.

—Mr. Winthrop Hammond has been to New York this week to buy goods for J. W. Hammond & Son, Principal Clothiers.

—On Monday men had to put on overcoats to keep comfortable and on Tuesday and Wednesday it was as hot as summer.

—A son of Officer Clarence Keen accidentally put a bullet through one of his feet last Tuesday, but with no dangerous consequences.

—Misses Daisy and Anna Pollard of Albany, N. Y., were visitors at the residence of Mr. A. S. Hayward on Fairmount st. last week.

—Mr. F. Chandler Parker of Canal st. had a valuable dog killed by a horse last Tuesday. He is highly prized by Mr. Parker and family.

—Rev. Mr. Chickering who will preach at the Orthodox church next Sunday morning is the grandson of Rev. Joseph Chickering, former pastor.

—Leonard Thompson, Esq., and Mr. W. R. Cutter, Librarian, will attend the Public Library convention at Placid Lake, Adirondacks, on Sept. 15.

—Rev. Mr. Berle, pastor of the North Congregational church, returned from his vacation last Wednesday in the best possible physical and mental plight.

—If Mr. L. Waldo Thompson lives through the summer of 1895 he will have the Unitarian church lawn look better than it now does or perish in the attempt.

—Last Monday Mrs. Nathaniel Simonds of Church ave. gathered very fine peaches from a tree, the seed from which it grew having been planted by her own hands a few years ago.

—Conductor E. E. Taylor was a member of the Railroad Conductors excursion to the famous New Hampshire summer resorts last week. About 250 people comprised the party.

—Rector Samuel S. Marquis of Trinity church went away on a vacation in July and returned a few days ago with a wife. The JOURNAL extends congratulations to bride and groom.

—Miss Anna Cummings, head bookkeeper at the coal establishment of Cummings, Chute & Co., and her sister Abbie have returned from a pleasant visit to Nova Scotia. They had a rare good time.

—Mr. W. S. Whitford, the provision dealer, and Mrs. Whitford have got into their new home, No. 66 Canal st., and will no doubt enjoy it. It is one of the neatest and pleasantest residences in Woburn.

—John I. Munroe has a good 7 room house 5 minutes walk from Centre, only $1200. Also, new 5 room house 3 minutes from station, only $1100. Easy terms. These are bargains and will go quick.

—Supt. Thomas Emerson is already on the ground prepared to strip to the work on Sept. 11. He came down from the White Mts. last week and is in prime condition for hard work and a good deal of it.

—The party of Post 33, G. A. R., and Relief Corps of which they visited the Soldiers Home at Chelsea last Wednesday evening numbered 95. They had the jolliest kind of a time and a fine entertainment to boot.

—Mr. Joseph B. McDonald and family returned from their summer home on the Maine coast looking and feeling a great deal better than when they went away. The family have passed the summer very pleasantly there.

—Supplementary bids for the new schoolhouses have been received as follows: Cambridge st. Corbett $4149; Spinger $3366; Brown $3829; McKay $3315; Rumford school, Bonnell $8777; Brown $7805; Simonson $7200.

—Miss Elsie Francis, daughter of Mr. John W. Francis, and Mr. Edwin C. Cotton were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's brother in Concord Mass. yesterday. Our young friends will please accept the best wishes of the JOURNAL. Mr. Cotton has been elected General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., at Rockland, Me., where he and Mrs. Cotton will make their home.

—When you want printing of any kind done neatly, cheaply and promptly, just take it to Harry M. Call, 67 Elm street. You will not regret it. If you have not the time to go, just drop him a card and he will call and take your order.

—Sunday, Sept. 2, 1894, was hardly a repetition of Sept. 6, 1881, but everything wore a ghastly look. A greenish yellow hue pervaded objects and the cause was the same as that which produced the "Dark Day" 13 years ago, smoke and water in the air.

—The Misses Lizzie F. Smith, Annie Clancy, Annie T. Shea, Mary L. McKee, Sarah M. Hammond and Mrs. William Cavanaugh of Woburn are staying at Taylor's Tavern, Nantasket Beach. They are accompanied by Miss Mary F. Kennedy of Boston.

—Mr. George S. Hudson, the accomplished summer seaside romancer for the Boston Herald, told his farewell fish story at Cottage City last Tuesday and immediately thereafter packed his trunks and came home. He says it has been a great year for summer resort reporting.

—We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of a copy of last Sunday's St. Louis (Mo.) Republic from our old friend, Mr. Samuel H. Leathe, which contained a full illustrated description of the new Union RR. depot in that city—the largest in the world. It is a huge affair.

—Mr. Forest Hooper, the well known plumber, went down to Breton last Saturday to join his family who have been there several weeks. Mr. Hooper will also visit in Nova Scotia, for being a successful plumber he has money enough to take him wherever he wants to go.

—Mr. J. M. Ellis has been awarded the contract for putting in a new railroad bridge at Walcutt st., Somerville, which we understand will be quite a large job. He has recently closed other contracts with the Boston & Maine Railroad Co. for stonework which will require considerable time to finish.

—Mr. L. E. Hanson of this city has been given the contract by the Stoneham Cycle Club for furnishing the prizes for their great Road Races on Sept. 15. They amount to $300, and consist of gold and silver medals, watches, etc. It is quite a feather in the cap of our enterprising Woburn jeweler.

—After an absence of 17 years, broken by only one visit to his old home here, Dr. Frank Hosmer of Sandwich Island is coming back to look over the ground where he passed his boyhood days. He is a brother of Miss Marian T. Hosmer, and a nephew of Rev. Leander Thompson and brothers.

—Here is something from the Boston papers which will interest many of our readers. A full size Oak Chiffonier, with adjustable beveled French plate mirror, six drawers of two sizes, toilet closet, jewel drawer, etc., complete, is offered this week by Palmer's Furniture Co., 48 Canal st., at the unheard of price of $15.

—The Chicago Daily News of Aug. 27 contained a condemnation of the test which Mr. Edward F. Bryant gave before the Pullman Strike Investigation Committee on that day accompanied by a snapshot portrait of him taken while he was testifying, which was very good. We were favored with a copy of the paper.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sumner Jones will attend the Stark family gathering at Manchester, N. H., on Oct. 3. Mrs. Jones is a descendant of Gen. John Stark, by which token she and her husband have received invitations to attend the meeting. The purpose is to form a permanent Stark family organization.

—Mr. Alonzo L. Perham has been elected Superintendent of the Repairs Department of the Boston & Maine Railroad system with headquarters in Boston. He is competent and faithful and will fill the bill in the very best manner. The promotion is a good one for Mr. Perham and will prove equally beneficial to the Company.

—Mr. Edward J. Gregory has been doing considerable selling of real estate lately. If there is any business going on anywhere Gregory is sure to have a big finger in the pie. Among other property disposed of by him lately may be mentioned the Michael McCarron estate on Elijah st., Ellen Flaherty's lot on Centre st., Patrick McHugh on Carter and Arlington sts., M. W. Carroll on Main st., and the personal property of the late P. E. Tenney on Salem st.

—Yesterday morning we received a call from our old friends Mr. and Mrs. William Kenworthy of Franklin Falls, N. H., formerly of this city. They came to Winchester on Wednesday afternoon to bury their daughter, Rose E. Kenworthy, aged 22 years, who died at home on Sept 3, in Wildwood cemetery. She attended the Woburn schools and many of her young associates will learn with sorrow of her death.

—It will be seen by her card in this paper that Miss Mertena Bancroft will resume her classes in piano-forte instruction on Oct. 1, next. She desires that applications for admission to them be made at an early date in order to enable her to make proper arrangements and begin the term in a condition for prompt and good work. It is needless to say that Miss Bancroft stands in the front ranks of music teachers in this State.

—A particularly malicious piece of incendiary was developed on Vernon street yesterday morning in the burning of the new Blackwell house there. The first alarm was at 12.35 from box 52 which was promptly responded to and the fire extinguished. About 3.55 another alarm was rung in and again the house was found to be on fire, and this time it fared badly. It was a fine residence, just completed, and never occupied. The object of the incendiary is not known.

—Mr. Thomas Emerson of Newton has been chosen Superintendent of the Woburn schools. Mr. Emerson was born in Winchester in 1834. After teaching in the Winchester High School he went to Woburn as Principal of its High School, and for several years was Superintendent of the schools also. Mr. Emerson has been Superintendent of the Newton schools.—Winchester Star. How do you make it out that Mr. Emerson was born in Winchester? There wasn't any Winchester in 1834.

—We received a call from Mr. Charles Chute of Hyde Park last Tuesday and was glad to see him looking so fresh and vigorous. Major J. W. McDonald, Mr. Chute and Mr. William Carter of Burlington built the Montvale ave. skating rink which was subsequently bought by Mr. Carter who carried it on until roller skating went out of date. Mr. Chute went back to Hyde Park and took his old place in the ironworks and has been there ever since. He has been manager of one of the departments of the works 30 years.

—Mr. Geo. W. Nichols, watchmaker, claims that the Waltham Free Press made a mistake when it announced him as the Populist candidate for the State Senate from this District. It was true that he had been imported to take the nomination by Messrs. Fowler, Allen, Springer, Waldron, and other leaders of the Populist party here, and it may have been that the Free Press story grew out of that fact. Mr. Nichols, however, steadfastly declined to accept the tender and the leaders aforesaid are now looking around for another man to take the place.

—The National Band will give their last concert on the Common next Wednesday evening, Sept. 12, and will be followed by a dance in Lyceum Hall.

PROGRAM.
1. March, Waterville. H. H. T. 2. Overture, Tamber De Garde. H. H. T. 3. Cornet Duet, The Two Friends. Bagley 4. Waltz, Venus Recluse. H. H. T. 5. Paraphrase on Nearer My God to Thee. Gungl 6. Vocal Quartet by Leighton, Regan and Robertson. Bousfield 7. Selection, Tobacco. Casey 8. Schottische, You will come. Casey 9. Medley, Popular Airs. Casey 10. American Republic. Casey

—The next term of the Lewis Music School will open for business on Sept. 10, with the following corps of teachers: Frederic H. Lewis, Principal, will teach piano-forte, organ, harmony, sight reading, composition, etc.; Mrs. Lewis, piano-forte; Mr. Remond, of the Temple street Quartet, Boston vocal; Mr. Fisher, violin; Mrs. Halford, guitar, mandolin and banjo; and others will be added as circumstances may require. The prospect for a large attendance next term is good. We read in the New Bedford Mercury that some of Mr. Lewis's compositions have been sung at the Unitarian church in that city where he has been organist this summer. The Mercury also said of Durgin's Grove: "The singing has been very satisfactory and Mr. Lewis, as organist and director, has given conscientious and efficient service."

J. Henry Hutchings, M. D.
Ophthalmic and Aural Surgeon, devotes special attention to diseases of the Eye, Ear, Throat and Nose. Glasses fitted and errors of refraction corrected. Office, 516 Main street. Hours, 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Our city was pretty well deserted last Monday because there was no attractions to keep people at home. The streets were quiet and peace held sway.

Brewster Colony, P. F., joined the Stoneham Colony and held a picnic in Durgin's Grove in Stoneham and passed a delightful day.

The Woburn Daughters of Liberty and the Stoneham Council had a fine picnic at Chipman's Grove.

Division 3, A. O. H., picnicked at Baldwin's Grove. A great many people attended it.

Many wheelmen went to the bicycle races at Waltham, while others enjoyed the festivities and games at Spy Pond.

Towards evening the trains headed Boston ward were filled with Woburn theatre-going people, and at midnight they were all at home once more.

The Fifth District.
The announcement in a Boston paper that Mr. Stevens had announced his intention of declining a renomination for Congress in the fifth district would indicate that Mr. Stevens has been reading some of the kindly advice given him by the wide-awake newspaper men of his district. The Woburn JOURNAL of last Friday pointed out the condition of affairs by saying: "It looks as though Mr. Knox would be nominated by acclamation. As to his election no doubt it exists in the minds of intelligent people. If Congressman Stevens is wise he will retire from the field with as much grace as he can command under the circumstances."

And then comes the Lawrence American which says: "Perhaps Stevens won't be a candidate. The appointment of a Republican postmaster in North Andover would indicate a disregard of party considerations."—Boston Traveler.

See Stevens's letter. Plain case of cause and effect.

Y. M. C. A.
The Training Class will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The quartette will sing at the 4 o'clock Gospel Meeting next Sunday afternoon.

There will be a meeting for boys only in Y. M. C. A. Hall, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Baseball reports. Last Friday, Woburn 21, Warren 8. Last Saturday, Woburn 11, Chelsea 29. Last Monday, Woburn 11, Stoneham 29. On Saturday of this week our team expect to play the Winchester at the Park.

For some of a quorum the annual meeting, which was to have been held last Tuesday evening was adjourned for this week and will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 11, at 8 p. m. Will all members please make an effort to be present. The subject of the evening will be "The Study of the English Language." This first lesson is open to all, and no fee will be charged.

Chains that bind young men. The recital of the series of talks will be given in Concert Hall next Sunday afternoon, Sept. 9, at 8 o'clock. The subject: "A Deadly Serpent" will be handled by Henry H. Warner, Esq., a business man from Lowell. Fifty men were present last Sunday. All Woburn men and strangers are especially welcome.

Prefers to Stay, etc.
Congressman Stevens prefers to stay at home and try to see if his mill can do no better under the German law than they seemed likely to do under the Wilson bill.—Boston Record.

MONDONACHELA
CITY PA
To a Leading Retail Carpet Dealer
Boston, Mass.

The above is a facsimile of the envelope containing a letter recently received at the Boston post-office. It was immediately forwarded to us. Is not that action highly significant? Has it not a suggestiveness for you, in making future purchases in our lines of goods?

John H. Pray, Sons & Co.,
CARPETS AND UPHOLSTERY.
658 Washington St. (opposite Boylston St.), BOSTON.

Insure your Property in Solid Companies!
S. B. GODDARD & SON,
General Insurance and Real Estate Agency.
New Savings Bank Building, Woburn, Mass.

Assets of Companies represented over Thirty Millions.
Losses promptly adjusted and paid at this office.
Boston Office—No. 93 Water Street.

City Government.

ALDERMEN.

Board met on evening of Aug. 30. President Cutler occupied the Chair.
Petition referred: Dr. F. B. K. Marter for plank edge and gravel sidewalk at 402 Montvale Ave., to Com. on Highways.—Of Patrick H. Groney for pool table license at 11 Main street, to Com. on Police.—Of Harris Munroe et al. to have land on Salem street properly located and dedicated to Com. on Highways.
Adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

Adjourned meeting of the Board on evening of Aug. 30, with President Emery, Chairman.
Concurred with Aldermen in report for widening Main street at Woodbury's Corner.—Ordered that a Committee shall expend an amount not exceeding $100 except for ordinary running expenses until authorized by a concurrent vote of the City Council.
The Mayor sent the official opinion of City Solicitor Curran on the question of depositing President Sullivan be obtained and an adjourned meeting be held on Saturday evening to receive it. Councilman Ellis spoke.
President Emery named the following list of Committees:

Accounts: Shaw, Noyes, McCarthy.
Alms-house and Poor: Corcoran, Noyes, Shaw.
Assessment and Collection of Taxes: Fox, Sullivan.
Claims: The President, Little, Lund, McDonough.
Finance: The President, Fox, Lund, Ellis, Shaw.
Fire: McDonough, Lund, Shaw.
Highways: McDonough, Little, McCarthy.
Health: Fox, Sullivan, Corcoran.
Highways: Noyes, Ellis, McCarthy.
Ordinances: Corcoran, Ellis, Shaw.
Printing: The President, Noyes.
Public Property: McCarthy, Fox, McDonough.

Salaries: Little, Noyes, Ellis, Lund.
Sewerage: The President, Ellis, Lund.
The Mayor is in accord with the Council in the Highway Department was passed. The table before the vote was very editing. Adjourned to Saturday evening, Sept. 1.

A special meeting of the Board was held on Tuesday evening, Sept. 4.
The Mayor sent the following veto to the Board of Aldermen:
To the Honorable Board of Aldermen: Gentlemen.—On Aug. 21, 1894, an order passed your honorable body, and was concurred in by the Council, authorizing the construction of four additional rooms to the Rumford school building at North Woburn, and the construction of a new schoolhouse on School street.

The Mayor is in accord with the Council in the Highway Department was passed. The table before the vote was very editing. Adjourned to Saturday evening, Sept. 1.

The order was passed over the veto of the Council and a request to be provided with polling places for caucuses, which are to be held Sept. 19.

The Common Council order providing for a transfer of $4500 from Miscellaneous to Highways was laid on the table.

The Common Council order relating to the expenditure of money by committees, after Alderman Hickey had offered an amendment, was tabled.

The Mayor is in accord with the Council in the Highway Department was passed. The table before the vote was very editing. Adjourned to Saturday evening, Sept. 1.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

The nomination of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected.

Corset Department.

We give special attention to this Department. We think we can please you With some of the many different Styles of Corsets we sell.

Here are a few of the Leaders.

Featherbone Corset Waists, C-B-A La Spiritie, Tricora Sun Flower, Dr. Warner's Coralline, Equipoise Waist, Children's Corset Waists, W. B. Corsets, Ball's Corsets, Summer Corsets, Good Sense, Her Majesty's Corset, Misses' Corset Waists.

Our Bargain Corsets, 50c. a pair.

C. Willard Smith
399 & 401 Main Street, WOBURN.

Get The Baby Some!

No toes need be out of shoes when we are offering Children's Footwear at the present astonishing prices. Our stock is so complete in styles and sizes that the youngest baby and the oldest child will find something suitable without probability of failure. An additional attraction in these shoes is the very low price put on them in every case. We know that children's shoes form an expensive item in the family account, and have made prices low enough to win the continued custom of every purchaser.

J. LEATHE, 425 Main St., Woburn.

Agent for Standard Sewing Machines.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, SEPT. 14, 1894.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 412 Main Street, Moore & Poirer, 37 Main Street, John Cummings, 24, Commingsville, Albert Goss, Woburn Highlands, W. A. Hanson, North Woburn, and at F. A. Littlefield's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

HAVE YOU HEARD FROM MAINE?

Last Monday Maine held her election for Governor, a Legislature, County officers, etc. Before it took place the Republicans claimed they would come out ahead by at least 18,000 plurality. The Democrats were willing to give them 11,000, but not a man more. The returns showed that the Republicans carried the State by over 38,000! The largest plurality ever before given a gubernatorial candidate. It was simply astounding, and to the Democracy it was a blow almost annihilating.

There was only one issue in the campaign—TAMM. On that alone the battle was fought, and if anybody has any doubts as to Maine's position on that question let him study the figures of last Monday's election.

Governor Cleaves' plurality was over 37,000; Reed's in the First Congressional District full 9,000, an increase over 4,000 from last election; Boutelle's in the Fourth District, 11,000; Dingley's and Miliken's much larger than two years ago; 137 Republicans and 14 Democrats are elected to the House; the Senate will have no taint of Democracy in it, the Republicans having elected every member; every county went Republican by overwhelming majorities; cities that have been Democratic for years—Lewiston, Biddeford, Waterville, etc.—turned square around and gave the Republican candidates the biggest kind of majorities.

It was a complete avalanche for the Democrats of the Pine Tree State. They pretend not to understand how to account for the tremendous Republican victory but they know the reason for it, all the same.

If he lives, THOMAS B. REED, the strongest statesman in America today, will be the next President of this Republic.

THE ONLY QUESTION.

The only question about the Dr. Harlow case is whether he will receive every vote in the convention on the first ballot or not. It is barely possible that there may be just a few "scattering," but the vote will be practically unanimous.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

The Fifth Congressional District Convention will be held at Huntington Hall in Lowell at 11 o'clock, Wednesday forenoon, Sept. 26, inst. For full particulars read the Committee's notice in this paper.

Wakefield has another daily paper. This time it is The Evening News, a 5-col., 4-page clean looking sheet, bristling with local news. One daily can't live in Wakefield, let alone two, and between this and New Year's the people over there will "hear something dear." Mr. M. P. Foster, proprietor of the Citizen and Banner, is Editor and Manager of the News. A good, solid, well managed weekly is a long way ahead of a little sickly daily, and the Wakefield publishers are sure to learn at considerable shrinkage of bank account if they keep on.

Hon. E. M. Thompson, Treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. Corn Festival, submitted an itemized report of the receipts and expenditures of that affair at the annual meeting held Sept. 10. From it we learn that the receipts were $3,935.55, and the expenses, $2,245.42, leaving a net balance of $1,690.13.

We reproduce this week from the editorial columns of the Malden Mirror a fratricide notice of the candidacy of Hon. John M. Harlow for the office of Councilor for this District. Evidently the Editor of the Mirror knows Dr. Harlow.

A circulation pamphlet has been lately issued by The Boston Post which shows a marvelous growth of that paper in recent years. In increase of circulation it leads all the other Boston dailies.

It is fair to presume that the Democrats of this Representative District will renominate George W. Norris, Esq., for the Legislature this fall.

Republicans will do well to read carefully the caucus advertisement published in this paper by the Woburn Republican Ward and City Committee.

LOCAL NEWS.

Box 285—Rome.
License Com.—App. City—Reg. of Voters. Nason & Russell—Treas. E. H. Hanson—Worship. Pastor Par. Co.—Furn. Mrs. C. H. Arnold—Wanted. 5th Cong. Com.—Convention. J. G. Maguire—Probate Office. Rep. W. C. Conant—Caucuses. N. S. Ayer & Co.—Hygienic Coffee.

—WANTED: Stitches on Shirts, Overalls, Coats, etc. Apply at once. A. L. Richardson & Bro.—ff.

—Cuneo & Crowe run a well filled and very attractive fruit store.

—Towanda Cycle Club will take a run this evening from their Clubroom.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Dow have returned from their summer home at Hull.

—Miss Annie M. Thompson who has been at Alton Bay for a month past has returned.

—The St. Charles C. T. A. S. Auxiliary held a business meeting on Tuesday evening.

—An official investigation of the burning of the Brown house on Vernon street is to be held.

—Mr. J. M. Gerrish of this city is in the clothing business at Newburyport, and doing well.

—Mr. Josiah Leathe has a fine stock of boots and shoes which he is selling below Boston prices.

—Mr. Charles H. Arnold and family of Canal st. returned from the seaside early this week.

—Miss Ella C. Kennedy, graduate in Class '93 W. H. S., has accepted a position as teacher at Westport.

—Dr. S. H. and Mrs. Sanborn are at the famous Bangsley lakes in Maine doing a bit of early autumn fishing.

—Mr. Munroe Ross of the Electric Light Co. and wife have gone to Providence R. I., to spend their vacation.

—State Inspectors came out here from Boston last Monday to examine the sanitary condition of some of our school houses.

—Mrs. John P. Fogg recently got back from a vacation to Kennebunk and Limerick, Maine, where she enjoyed herself very much.

—City Treasurer Hayward made a business visit to North Conway a few days ago where Mr. J. M. Ellis is working a stone quarry.

—Metropolitan Market, James Durdard, Jr., proprietor, shows a fine line of meats, vegetables and fruits as can be found in Woburn.

—Mr. L. W. Perlman is superintending the moving back of the Dr. Dodge building on Main st., which means that it will be done right.

—Mr. John Duncan, Jr., General Manager of the business of the Woburn Clothing Co., has been spending his vacation in Central New York.

—Mr. F. D. Blake of Montclair, N. J., who is in business in New York, has been visiting relatives and friends here this week. He was looking robust.

—Mrs. Mary F. Plannett and her husband, Miss Bertha Smith, returned from a visit to New Hampshire last Saturday. They have had a fine outing.

—Mr. Leon W. Dorr, salesman at Copeland & Bower's dry goods store, has got back from a very satisfactory visit to Maine and is at his old stand again.

—We thank Mr. E. F. Bryant for a copy of the Pullman Journal containing the statement of Vice-President Wickers before the U. S. Labor Commission.

—Miss Nellie J. McCarthy, one of the Assistant General Superintendents of Mr. A. B. Wyman's postoffice, has returned from her vacation and is at work again.

—Our esteemed friend, Mr. Marshall Tidd of N. Woburn, and Mrs. Tidd are enjoying themselves up in New Hampshire. They are great travelers, and like it.

—Mr. Copeland, of Copeland & Bower, is getting good ready for a large fall trade. He says he is going to do his part anyway and be ready for business when it comes.

—Rev. Lawrence W. Slattery rode a bike from the Swamp Road to the Common last Tuesday and fell off only once. It was his first attempt. He felt quite proud of the achievement.

—The Stoneham Cycle Club Road Races will take place tomorrow for prizes worth in the aggregate $300. Mr. L. E. Hanson of this city was awarded the contract for furnishing them.

—After a fine concert on the Common last of the season, the National Band went to the hall and had their customary closing dance. Calnan's Orchestra furnished the music. It was a successful affair.

—Everybody is glad to see Mr. Frederic A. Flint back to his old post. He had a great time at his old vacation home at Camden, Maine, as he always does. It is pleasant to see the pillars getting back home.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hayward have for guests at the pleasant home at Fairmount st. this week Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Dwinell of Cabot, Vt. Mr. Dwinell is a relative of ex-Senator Dwinell of Winchester.

—Last Saturday evening Mr. Harry F. Parker of Church Ave. brought up in a big bunch of fine asters of his own raising, for which we thank him. He made a brief visit to Nashua, N. H., his old home, last week.

—Mr. Stillman Shaw has been appointed an Inspector by the Massachusetts State Highway Commission and left here for Lancaster last Saturday to enter on the duties of his office. He is a capable young man.

—Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Greenwood of Fairmount street returned from the Northern country last Monday in prime health and spirits. They went with their own team and were gone 5 weeks. They found it a delightful trip.

—Beggs & Cobb of Woburn and Winchester are the largest tanners of high grain leathers in the United States. Their daily output is: 700 sides of pigskin; 500 sides of pebble grain; 300 sides of kangaroo grain; 1600 crimping splits.

—Hon. Alvan Barrius, a member of the Governor's Council, spent a night last week with Rev. and Mrs. George M. Gerrish in this city. He is a resident of Goshen and a member of the church of which Rev. Mr. Gerrish is the pastor.

—Mrs. James W. McDonald, after a very pleasant vacation passed in Nova Scotia and by the seaside, has contentedly settled down in her nice home, No. 54 Warren st. The outing did her a power of good in the way of rest and recuperation.

—Miss Gertrude Hertz, one of the brightest of the late graduates of our High School, has passed a successful examination for entrance into the State Normal School at Salem. She is an excellent scholar, and one of the best girls in town.

—Mr. Alex. Ellis is agent in this city for the sale of the Pillsbury-Washburn E. M. Co.'s flour as will be specified by the Company's card in this paper. Mr. Ellis is a good man to handle it, and what he says about the flour can be relied on as correct.

—Mr. E. J. Gregory has been employed by George R. Brine & Co. to sell at auction their entire stock of clothing and furnishing goods at 406 Main st. The sale began last evening and will continue until all the goods are sold. At 2 o'clock tomorrow, Saturday, afternoon there will be a special sale for ladies.

—Mrs. Jennings' Employment Office is a very busy place. Getting home from their vacations housekeepers are wanting help, and places are sought by girls. By intelligence and fair dealing Mrs. Jennings has built up a large business in this line.

—Capt. John Treecutin of New York, who formerly lived at No. Woburn, and granddaughter visited Hon. E. Thompson and family. Mr. Abigail Thompson, Mrs. E. N. Blake, and other old neighbors and friends here last Saturday and Sunday.

—Miss Florence Chase, the bright little daughter of Dr. Chase, the dentist, tells of the good time she and the family have had at the seashore this summer and waxes quite eloquent over the story of it. After a pleasant outing the family have all got back to the Abbott st. home again.

—There are on exhibition in the show windows of Whitcher's drugstore specimens of the Orchid, a rare and beautiful air plant, concerning which more has been said and written than any other. Ask Mr. Whitcher or the clerks for a pamphlet which tells all about the specimens exhibited.

—It is astonishing how little money is needed to purchase a beautiful wood mantel. Paine's Furniture Co., Boston, are advertising a large carved mantel, with full decorated frieze and massive pillars, mantel shelf and gallery complete at a cost of only $65. Send for their illustrated catalogue of mantels.

—It has leaked out that the Executive Committee of the Populist Party, at a meeting held in Mechanic's Building a few evenings since, determined not to accept the declination of Capt. George W. Nichols of the Senatorial nomination, but to hold the matter for further consideration and negotiation.

—Chief of Police of Winchester brought George P. Whitten of that town into the District Court last Monday charged with the larceny of Mr. James M. Kimball's bicycle a short while ago. Whitten is 19 years old and does not bear an enviable reputation. A decision of the case was postponed to Wednesday.—He was convicted.

—Rev. George M. Gerrish, pastor of the Congregational church at Goshen, Mass., one of the many bright young men that Woburn has sent out into the world to make it cleaner and better, and his new bride, Mrs. Gerrish, are visiting here and in this vicinity and meeting cordial greetings on all hands. They will return to Goshen in about three weeks.

—Captain Gearing and wife, who have had command of the Woburn Post of the Salvation Army for the last six months and have done a great deal towards its growth, have been ordered to take charge of the Newburyport camp and went there last Wednesday. Capt. Foley, a woman who has had a successful experience in the work, has taken Capt. Gearing's place.

—Supt. Crilly is directing a force of men who are digging on Middle street for the extension of the water main to the Lippingswell Company's property on which substantial improvements are being made. A new street 50 feet wide is being constructed from the junction of Middle and Valley streets to near the railroad. The dam at Lake Mishawum has been raised two feet.

—We learn from a copy of Among the Clouds, published on Mt. Washington, that Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Brooks were guests at the Tip-Top House there one day last week. Reporters also gave the names of Miss Mattie Bosworth and Mr. and Mrs. M. Ansart as visitors to that famous resort. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks have "taken in" quite a number of the principal summer resorts.

—Miss Mattie Bosworth told JOURNAL reporter on Tuesday morning that the view from Mt. Washington when she had the pleasure of being at Tip-Top a few days ago, was simply magnificent. Visitors cannot always count on the absence of clouds and fogs and unobstructed views but Miss Bosworth and the party with whom she enjoyed the grand sight were very fortunate in this respect.

—Miss Mertena Bancroft entered on her duties as organist at the Unitarian church last Sunday and was very successful in pleasing the audience with her playing. The organ is the largest in this city and has few equals in the suburbs of Boston. Professionals call it a superb instrument. Miss Bancroft handled it skillfully last Sunday and proved her right to be regarded, as she is, a first class organist.

—Wednesday afternoon Mr. A. L. Holdridge stood in the front door of his hardware store and addressed Mr. James Durdard, Jr., who was near the front door of his market on the opposite side of the street, in these words: "I am glad to see you on your knees, Jim, but I am afraid it is too late," showing that he takes a fraternal interest in his neighbors that cannot be too warmly admired or highly praised.

—It is with great satisfaction that we assure the ladies of Woburn that every scholar who has taken instruction of us on the National Garment Cutter has assured us that they are perfectly satisfied with this system. Mothers! You cannot do your daughters a greater lasting kindness than by having them learn to cut and make the clothes they wear, for knowledge is power. Give us a call, Room 6, Mechanics Building.—X.

—Last week Thursday a number of the Boston Water Board and invited guests took dinner at the Central House and had only good words for the fare served. They had been on the fare inspection tour of the Mystic Falls Boston water supply, which they found lower than for years at this season, and having heard that Landlord Jack McConnell bakes Boston on dinners came up to sample one. They were satisfied.

—Mr. Curtis Greenwood has submitted for our examination a very ancient bound copy of the "Acts and Laws passed by the General Court or Assembly of His Majesty's Province of New Hampshire in New England Begun and held at Portsmouth, on Monday the seventh day of August, 1669," which is a real curiosity. The volume was a present to Mr. Greenwood from his brother in New Hampshire and will be carefully preserved. It contains many unique enactments, some of which would look strange on modern statute books.

—If faithful service goes for anything then the Woburn Y. M. C. A. has no truer friend than Mr. Thomas Hertz. He is always at his post and works with an eye single to the good of the Association.

—The chap who worked the "freight" racket here and Winchester Tuesday and arrested by Officer McDermott, was arraigned in Court Wednesday and got 3 years in the House of Correction.

—Mr. Forest Hooper and family have returned from Cape Breton in good and happy mood to the Annapolis shore. Mr. Hooper says Cape Breton is a great country. It don't cut so big a figure on the map of the world as some of them do, he says, but it ought to, and would if he had his way about it. He says that houses where he visited are about 6 miles apart; the churches are few and far between; the inhabitants are bucolic to a degree; and he don't know a better place to get away from the Western Hemisphere than Cape Breton is.

—Nason & Russell, popular purveyors of excursions pleasures, have a card in this paper which is worthy of careful perusal. As a "personal conductor" Mr. Nason (J. Howard) stands in the front ranks, and the excursions which are advertised in the JOURNAL this week are of the most delightful that can be taken. Mr. Nason is going on these excursions to visit his home, No. 333 Main st., on Saturday evening, Sept. 15, and look at its beautiful scenery illustrated by the stereopticon. It will be a treat.

—We are advertising for Messrs. M. S. Ayer & Co., No. 211 State st., Boston, an article which is well and favorably known all over the country, namely, Ayer's Hygienic Coffee. The attention of our readers is especially called to the advertisement. The character and high standing of the house of M. S. Ayer & Co. is a guarantee that any article which they recommend and offer for sale is just exactly what it purports to be, which statement is strictly true of their Hygienic Coffee. This coffee will be on exhibition at the Boston Health Food Fair during October. Don't fail to try it.

—Mr. John R. Carter has returned from an extended trip through the Provinces where he owns timber tracts and mills. He says the business is jubilant over the enactment of the Sugar Trust tariff bill which allows them to send their lumber into the States duty free and in consequence thereof the price of timber lands down there have advanced. The new tariff will work well for Mr. Carter, who is a large owner and manufacturer of lumber in New Brunswick, but the overwhelming Republican majority in Maine last Monday shows what is the result of it on this side of the line. The Democratic party are famous for legislating for the benefit of foreign countries.

—Our public schools opened last Monday morning with all sails set and breezes blowing from the right quarter. The 40 or 50 teachers responded to roll call with a freshness and vigor which spoke volumes for the credit of their vacation fare and occupation; 2000 scholars or more were on deck bright and alert, and overabundant with the hilarity of the thought of going to work again; and Supt. Emerson was puzzled to find room for this army of young people. There is a serious lack of schoolroom accommodations. The school population is growing rapidly. Temporary provisions have been made for the Cambridge st. and Rumford districts so that they will be able to get on quite comfortably. The other districts are very much crowded and additional room for them will soon be necessary. It is in the air that our schools have started out this fall with a splendid prospect for progress and usefulness.

—J. Henry Hutchings, M. D., Ophthalmic and Aural Surgeon, devotes special attention to diseases of the Eye, Ear, Throat and Nose. Glasses fitted and errors of refraction corrected. Office, 516 Main street. Hours, 10 to 3 and 7 to 9 P. M.

—Sixth Councilor District. A strong movement has been started in the Sixth Councilor District, the nomination of Hon. John M. Harlow, of Woburn, for Councilor. The idea originated with several prominent Lowell citizens, and has been met with such enthusiasm by those who have been acquainted with it, that Mr. Harlow can be virtually considered as the choice of the convention which will meet early in October. His many friends throughout the District are greatly pleased that this is the choice which has been made by the honorable office. His long experience in public and financial circles makes him a valuable asset to the city, and he has the time to devote to the office, and could therefore be depended upon to reflect both credit and honor upon his District.

—His home in Somerville, and yesterday morning Patrick J. Foley, 22, was arrested. They were brought to Lowell for examination. The third man Corbin, who was arrested at Cambridge last night and taken to Lowell this morning by Chief McIntosh.

—In Memoriam. "Her son is gone down while it was yet day," might well be written of the sad and early demise of Mrs. Carrie A. Gierst, wife of Mr. John K. Gierst, aged 22 years.

—The bride of scarcely a year, an only daughter, young, useful, talented and beloved by a large circle of friends, it seemed a strange providence that called her home. Mrs. Gierst was the daughter of Joseph L. and Hannah E. Brainerd, well known of East Somerville, Mass. She was born in Somerville, Mass., 1872. Converted when hardly in her teens she was to the devoted and growing Christian.

—For several years she taught a class in the East Somerville Baptist Sunday School, giving it all when feeling health made it imperative to do so. Some months ago it became evident that consumption had fastened itself upon her and though a patient and hopeful temperate and loving woman, she grew gradually weaker until, Saturday, Sept. 1st, less than two weeks before the first anniversary of her marriage, when she passed quietly and willingly into the heavenly rest. The patient endurance and tender thoughtfulness for others, the quiet confidence in her Savior, which characterized her closing life remain as a sweet and blessed memory full of abiding comfort for husband, mother and friends.

—An interesting move has been planned by the Woburn School Board. The Common Council's row over the schoolhouse contract, the assertion of the City Solicitor that the award had been made illegally, the Board of Aldermen in an endeavor to straighten out the tangle, are to be all straightened overboard by the School Board. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Gordon Parker.

—Buckley's Arnica Salve. The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sore, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Bites, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or can be so applied. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Gordon Parker.

—A Good Thing to Keep at Hand. (From the Troy, Kansas Chief.) Some years ago we were very much subject to severe spells of cholera morbus and now when we feel any of the symptoms (not usually present) that attend, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhoea, etc., we become scared. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the very thing to straighten one out in such cases, and always keep it about. We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but to let our readers know that it is a good thing to keep handy in the house. For sale at Whitte's Drugstore, Woburn.

—Javal Ophthalmometer. Probably the best instrument of its kind in the world is the Javal Ophthalmometer owned by N. T. Worthingly Jr., the optical Specialist, and used by him in making examinations of the eyes. This instrument was made by Gonoubaux in Paris especially for exhibition at the World's Fair and was personally inspected and verified by its noted inventor, the great oculist, Dr. Javal, before its departure for Chicago.

Mr. Worthingly will make free examinations of the eye at his temporary store on Saturday and Monday, Sept. 22-24, using this instrument and will be pleased to exhibit it to any who may call.

—Mr. John Bailey. In health and strength after the grip, I was advised to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Half a bottle gave me good sleep and toned my nerves. My cough ceased and I gradually gained flesh. Hood's Sarsaparilla made me a well man. It hits the right spot. JOHN BAILEY, Grocer, 408 Chestnut Street, Lowell, Mass.

—Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures. Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, split or grip. Sold by all druggists.

Carpets and the Tariff.

The new tariff on Foreign Rugs and Carpets is just about one-half the old duty. Naturally, therefore, prices must drop. The advantage of this state of things is, of course, with the buyer—with you, for example. We ask your attention to our

FALL STOCK

of Carpets and Upholstery Goods, of both home and foreign make.

When we say that our offerings are superior in quality and in extent to any similar ones in New England, if not in the country, we are simply re-stating a well-established fact. Prices are at low-water mark, as befits the times.

John H. Pray, Sons & Co.,
CARPETS AND UPHOLSTERY,
658 Washington St. (opposite Boylston St.), BOSTON.

Insure your Property in Solid Companies!

S. B. GODDARD & SON,
General Insurance and Real Estate Agency.
New Savings Bank Building, Woburn, Mass.

Assets of Companies represented over Thirty Millions.
Losses promptly adjusted and paid at this office.
Boston Office—No. 93 Water Street.

New England's Grandest Scenery.

FOUR TOURS
Of Five Days Each, Leaving Boston on Sept. 18, 22 & 25.

White-Franconia Mountains

Under Personal Escort. All Expenses Included.
To all who contemplate a trip to the White Hills of New Hampshire at a time when nature is at its best, we would respectfully call attention to our arranged tours. As will be seen, the rates have been placed at a very low figure. From 15 to 25 dollars.

Every attention will be given to the comfort of our parties, and our past record assures one that everything mentioned in the itinerary will be carried out to the very letter. Mr. Nason will be at 333 Main street Friday and Saturday evenings to meet all who may wish to make inquiries in regard to the proposed trips. A stereopticon will be used to illustrate the scenes to be visited in these tours.

Murder of Duroy S. Foster.
Mr. Duroy S. Foster, of Burlington, and his wife, came out from Boston on the 8:10 P. M. train last Tuesday evening, and near 10 o'clock started to walk from home, about 3 miles distant. At about 10:30 he was overtaken by three men in a covered wagon near Walker's Hill in Burlington, who demanded and at the point of a revolver he delivered what money he had, about $2.50 after which the highwaymen drove on towards Billerica. Mr. Foster followed them a piece and they branched off towards Billerica. He continued on to the old McIntosh place, which Foster identified as the place where the robbery took place. One of the men, he said, held him up, and the other two went on. Foster went through his pockets and stole the money. There was something in the money, he said, which told him that the story was true.

Mr. Foster stated that after robbing him, the three men drove on towards Billerica and drove away toward Billerica. North of Mr. Cox's, about a mile or more, they stopped, and Mr. Foster said that if Mr. Cox would hitch up his small little horse they could follow them.

This Mr. Cox did and called up Mr. Clifton, who was in the other part of the house, and the three got into an angry and noisy quarrel, and Mr. Foster said that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Mr. Foster stated that he was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off. He was in the middle of the fight when the three men drove off.

Corset Department.

We give special attention to this Department. We think we can please you. With some of the many different Styles of Corsets we sell.

Here are a few of the Leaders.

BLANKETS!

Special Sale, Sept. 18 & 19.

COPELAND & BOWSER'S.

Prices $3 & $5c.

These blankets are white without colored borders and bound with white galloon, thus avoiding all objections found in the ordinary cheap blankets. This is a rare opportunity and worthy of special attention.

Wall Papers

Latest designs for 1894
Now in Stock.

Picture Frames made to order. Paper hangers furnished.

C. E. SMITH, 439 Main St., Opp. Central House.

Warner's Diarrhoea Mixture.

The best in the world. We warrant it to cure.

—FOR SALE AT—

HIGHLEY'S PHARMACY,
39-4 Main Street, Woburn.

Now Is The Time

To Have

C. M. STROUT

Put your Furnace and Stoves
in Repair.

CITY OF WOBURN.

IF YOU WANT
light, sweet, white, wholesome BREAD,

is the finest flour made.

MADE FROM THE CHOICEST SELECTED wheat, with the most expensive machinery, by the most perfect methods, in the largest flour mills in the world.

Sold by all Grocers.

A. ELLIS, Agent.

311 Main Street, WOBURN.

CITY OF WOBURN.

THE REGISTRARS

OF

VOTERS

Will, in accordance with the provision of Chap. 271,

Act of 1884, be in session at their office, Municipal Building, Common street, to receive applications for registration for the State Election, on the Evenings of October 3, 5, 6, 8, 10, 12,

13, 15 and 16, at 7 P. M.,

And from 12 M. to 10 P. M. on Oct. 17.

Registration for the State Election of the current year will close at 10 o'clock on the evening of October 17.

Special Notice.

Any applicant for registration who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn,

or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn,

or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn,

or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a resident of the City of Woburn, or who is not a citizen of the United States, or who

Special Notice!

TO PURCHASERS:

We will deliver free of expense all purchases amounting to one dollar or more in any part of Reading, Wakefield, Stoneham, or Woburn, embracing the following:

Wakefield, Greenwood,
Montrose, Reading,
North Reading, Woburn,
North Woburn & Montvale.

Orders by Mail, Telephone, or Express will receive prompt attention.

HOUGHTON & DUTTON,

Cor. Tremont & Beacon Sts.,

BOSTON.

Telephone 951.

Avery-Gerrish.

The quaint old Goshen Congregational church, standing out of its primitive surroundings like a beacon light, as it is guiding generation after generation to nobler living, never held a more notable gathering than yesterday, Tuesday, Sept. 4, at midday, when Miss Maud Avery, a young lady who has many friends in the city, was married to Mr. William H. Avery, of Reading, Mass., by Rev. Mr. H. L. Hasting, the well known anti-fundamental leader of Boston, who delivered his interesting and forcible lecture entitled "The Bible a

Lying Hambug?" A rare opportunity to hear this famous lecture. Men women and children admitted.

Something for our members: Concert of negro, melody by the Atlanta University

Quartet, Concert Hall, Thursday evening,

Sept. 20, at 8 o'clock. Adults, 25c. Children, 15c. The Amateur Summer series says, The stars and negro melodies were very sweetly rendered, while Mr. Johnson's original music kept the audience in a room of laughter. Membership tickets in the Association will admit the member with lady friend without further expense. Be sure and have your tickets ready to present

at the door.

The Annual Meeting of the Association

was held on Tuesday evening of this week and the following officers were re-elected to serve the Association for the coming year:

President, A. B. Dimick; Vice-President,

Dr. H. E. Chase; Clerk, Frank B. Richardson; Treasurer, Thomas Hertz.

The following persons were also elected as members of the Board of Directors:

For three years: J. R. Carter, Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

Y. M. C. A.

The Training Class will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

A new game of Parlor Croquet has been added to those already in the Boys room.

Next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Y.

M. C. Hall will be held a service for boys only. Mr. Will C. Mardock will speak.

All boys between 12 and 16 are admitted.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Association will be held in the parlors of the Y. M. C. Hall on Tuesday, September 18, at 8 o'clock. Let every member endeavor to attend the first meeting of the year.

Grand Mass Meeting for everyone:

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Baptist church. At this service Rev. H. L.

Hastings, the well known anti-fundamental leader of Boston, will deliver his interesting and forcible lecture entitled "The Bible a

Lying Hambug?" A rare opportunity to hear this famous lecture. Men women and children admitted.

Something for our members: Concert of negro, melody by the Atlanta University

Quartet, Concert Hall, Thursday evening,

Sept. 20, at 8 o'clock. Adults, 25c. Children, 15c. The Amateur Summer series says, The stars and negro melodies were very sweetly rendered, while Mr. Johnson's original music kept the audience in a room of laughter. Membership tickets in the Association will admit the member with lady friend without further expense. Be sure and have your tickets ready to present

at the door.

The Annual Meeting of the Association

was held on Tuesday evening of this week and the following officers were re-elected to serve the Association for the coming year:

President, A. B. Dimick; Vice-President,

Dr. H. E. Chase; Clerk, Frank B. Richardson; Treasurer, Thomas Hertz.

The following persons were also elected as members of the Board of Directors:

For three years: J. R. Carter, Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

E. Chase, E. E. Thompson, Leon L. Durr

and Luke Warren. For one year: Dr. H.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, SEPT. 21, 1894.

The Journal is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 412 Main Street, Moore & Parker, 374 Main Street, John Cummings, 24, Cummingsville, Albert Gleason, Woburn Highlands, W. A. Hanson, North Woburn, and at E. L. Litchfield's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in at least ten days in advance of the date of publication.

COUNCILLOR HARLOW.

The caucus held last Wednesday night in this Councillor District were almost unanimous in the choice of Harlow delegates. It was nearly a clean sweep for the Woburn gentleman.

Woburn of course went solid for him; Lawrence gave him her entire delegation; Natick preferred Harlow unanimously; Marlboro used the mark manfully; Methuen and Andover declared emphatically for him; and what shall we say of Lowell, Shaw's stronghold? This of the 52 delegates Dr. Harlow has 24, and Shaw only 28! The Harlow men carried Ward 2 with a whoop, and in Ward 4 the Harlow party cast 432 votes while the Shaw people squeezed in barely 297! That was in Lowell!

The result in Lowell was very gratifying to the Harlow side of the house. It was due to the splendid campaigning of Capt. E. F. Wyer of Woburn, General Manager, and his able, alert and square-dealing Lieutenant, S. B. Harris of Lowell. There was treachery up there. Early in the campaign Capt. Wyer and Mr. Harris had reason to "beware of the Greek who comes bearing gifts," for one at least of the leading Republicans of that city, after voluntarily offering his services to Dr. Harlow's cause, treacherously allied himself with the Shaw party and did all he could against the People's Candidate, Dr. Harlow. He met the usual fate of traitors.

It is not likely that there will be more than one candidate in the Councillor convention and he will be Hon. John M. Harlow. Senator Shaw will probably withdraw and turn in to make the Woburn man's nomination unanimous.

On the start Dr. Harlow placed the work of his canvass in the hands of Capt. E. F. Wyer of this city because he had unlimited confidence in his wisdom, integrity, and loyalty to the cause he espoused. The selection was an eminently wise one. Capt. Wyer's first move was to select a staff of intelligent and trustworthy Lieutenants in different parts of the District and set them to work. That he chose judiciously the eminently successful work of Lieut. Harris in Lowell clearly proves.

Capt. Wyer has given his whole time and attention to the Harlow campaign. He has been in constant communication with all parts of the District. Known to all a gentleman of honor and veracity he has been respectfully listened to everywhere. The fruit of this work and these personal qualities is a splendid victory.

SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The Fifth District Republican Senatorial convention will be held in the Lower Town Hall of Ayer at 1:45 P. M., Tuesday, Sept. 25. Besides nominating a candidate for Senator the convention will elect a member of the Republican State Committee, which latter will without doubt be George C. Conn, Esq., who has done good service on the Committee during the past year and given satisfaction to the party. It is conceded that he fills the bill admirably, and it is not likely there will be any opposition to his re-election.

The convention will also elect a Senatorial District Committee to serve a year from the 1st of next January, and transact such other business as may legally come before it.

A WALKOVER.

The general understanding is that Hon. John M. Harlow is going to have an easy walkover for the Councillorship nomination.

Latest advices inform us that Senator Shaw and his friends—all good men and true—have abandoned the idea of success in the convention and virtually given up the contest.

This District will be ably and honestly represented in the Governor's Council next year.

At the last meeting of the Board the nomination of Mr. Alexander Grant for a member of the Board of Registrars of Voters was again rejected by the vote of the four alleged Republican Aldermen. We hope these men will not carry their opposition to Mayor Murray and Mr. Grant so far as to compel a resort to the Courts for orders as is now talked of. It is said that some of them are inclined to pursue a fair and manly course in the matter but the malign influence of others and the pressure of a few outsiders prevent their taking it.

When City Attorney Curran submitted his adverse opinion as to the legality of the change of the Standing Committees of the Common Council, Councillor Ela told the Council that he was satisfied with it. Of the two questions on which the Solicitor's opinion was asked Councillor Ela said he lost one and gained one, and he had no further opposition to offer. We have not been able to find out how the other Councillors felt about it, and it makes no difference so long as Councillor Ela was satisfied.

Tomorrow afternoon the Republican Editorial Association of Massachusetts will hold a meeting and dine at the United States Hotel in Boston, says Mr. Fred H. Miller of the organization. There is always a copious "feast of reason and flow of soul" when Massachusetts newspaper men get their brogans under the mahogany of the hotel banquet hall, and we expect such will be the case tomorrow.

A meeting of the Order of the Royal Arcanum will be held at Music Hall in Boston, under the auspices of 54 Massachusetts Councils, on Oct. 3 next, for which due preparations have been completed. There are many members of the Order in Woburn, some of whom will be likely to attend this meeting and entertainment.

Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S., has taken pains to send to this office a copy of an "Abstract of the Eleventh Census (1890) of the United States," for which we feel grateful. Ordinarily, the work of Carroll D. Wright, is of much real value because it contains a fund of information, besides the enumeration of the population of the country, which is in frequent demand and cannot be found anywhere else.

The primaries held in the Lexington, Kentucky, Congressional District last Tuesday went against Breckinridge by a narrow margin only. It was strange that he was not buried out of sight—the lecherous old hypocrite! Owens won, but the Breckinridge adherents say the election of delegates will be contested and the battle fought to the bitter end. The prospect for a Republican Congressman from that District is good.

The scheme of Councillor John W. Shaw to build a boulevard around Horn Pond is one that has long been in the public mind and periodically brought up, discussed and dropped. It is feasible and the people would like to see it carried out whenever the city is in a financial condition to tackle it. Its revival at this time shows that Councillor Shaw has his finger on the public pulse and the good of the city at heart.

Editor W. P. Barrett swept the 7th Congressional District clean last Wednesday night and Hayes was laid on the shelf. Now, ye good Republicans of the 7th, spare us a repetition of the disastrous result of 1892, do, Strip, put your shoulders to the wheel, lift and grunt together, and pedagogues Everett will drop out of politics for good.

Hon. Levi P. Morton was nominated for Governor at the New York Republican State convention last Tuesday by practically a unanimous vote. That means a sweeping Republican victory in that State this fall. Governor Flower has formally declined a renomination by the Democrats, probably because he sees the handwriting on the wall and certain defeat for his party.

Yesterday afternoon a leading Democrat of this city told a JOURNAL man that Ald. Newhall stands more than an even chance of receiving the Democratic nomination for the Legislature this fall.

Editor Parker of the Lynn Item, where are you?

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.
B. B. Bond—Citation.
Nellie E. Platts—Piano.
L. L. Ryan—Millinery.
P. C. Sav. Bank—Notice.
Pettingill & Co.—Furniture.
Paine & Co.—Furniture.
Hammond & Son—Clothing.

Wanted: Stitches on Shirts, Overalls, Coats, etc. Apply at once. A. L. Richardson & Bro.—It.

Highley's toothache drops take the cake.

Mrs. Dr. J. M. Harlow is visiting at Portland, Me.

Mr. Charles H. Bean is quite sick at his home in this city.

The Memorial Day Chorus will rehearse Monday evening at Concert Hall.

No better pianos are made than those for the sale of which Mr. James McDonald is agent.

Hammond & Son show some elegant styles in neckwear this week. Direct from New York.

The Autumnal Equinox is due here today. So far as we have heard the people are ready for it.

Don't fail to take in "The Pulse of New York" at Lyceum Hall next Thursday evening. See ad.

J. Leathe is supplying several hundred school children with the best school shoes they ever wore.

The son of Mr. William D. Haley, 19 years old, is reported as missing from his home 48 Beacon st.

City Auditor Jones has favored us with a copy of his last report. It is a highly sensational document.

On Sept. 26, Shawshen Tribe of Red Men in this city will give the first of a series of dancing assemblies.

Officers Mulken, Keane and Dennis Welch did Police duty at the Wilmington Cattle Show yesterday.

Chief McIntosh and Officers McKenna and Fountain were witnesses at the Foster inquest at Lowell yesterday.

A fall overcoat is a necessity in this climate. Hammond & Son have a large variety. Prices below the market.

Miss Ida L. Rymes of 14 Franklin street advertises millinery business in this paper with that attention is called.

Mrs. Capt. E. F. Wyer of Warren st. and child went up north a few days ago for the benefit of the little one's health.

Mr. C. Willard Smith makes an important announcement in this paper. His store is filled with the best of goods this fall.

Mr. Postmaster Wyman will please accept our thanks for a copy of the "Arrivals and Departure of Mails" at this office.

The benefit given to Mr. George McKay at Lyceum Hall last Friday night netted $215. Everybody said that was doing well.

In Trinity Church next Sunday morning, at the offertory, Mr. Henry Hayden will render a fine solo, "Fear ye not, O Israel."

Mr. Frank E. Leslie, one of Mr. Gordon Parker's bright young pharmacists, is attending the State School of Pharmacy in Boston.

The St. Charles B.B. Club are hustlers in every sense of the word. They played the Silver Lakes at the Wilmington Cattle Show yesterday.

Mr. Brigham gets the nomination for State Senate he will owe a part of it to the well directed efforts of Prof. Elmore A. Pierce of this city.

The Democratic wheelhorse, E. F. Cassidy, Esq., and Mr. John Mahers will start tomorrow for a lengthy trip and visit to Norfolk, Va., and all through that part of the South.

Supt. Emerson is the authority for the statement that the number of pupils enrolled in our public schools on Sept. 17 was 2513.

Ex-Mayor Richardson put in some good work for Mr. Brigham for the Senate at the Woburn primaries Wednesday night. Phil is a worker.

Particular attention is directed to the advertisement of "Board and Rooms" by Box 285 in this paper. The location is one of the finest in this city.

Prof. C. A. Burdett of the famous Bardett Business College of Boston ("Actual Business from the Start") has gone to Clifton Springs, N. Y., for rest.

Alderman Newhall seems to be a thorn in the flesh of some of his colleagues. Well, he is honest and aims to do his duty faithfully and for the public good.

Please read what Treasurer Thompson of the Five Cents Savings Bank has to say about a meeting soon to be held by that institution and other things ament the same.

One of the JOURNAL's longtime and esteemed patrons is Mrs. C. C. Williams of Pomfret, Conn. Her annual friendly greeting for 1894 was received last Monday. Thanks.

It began to rain on Wednesday afternoon and continued to pour all night. It was much needed and quite refreshing. It was not however the genuine Equinoctial storm.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Eaton, lately joined together with matrimony's silken cords, will please accept the sincere congratulations of the JOURNAL. A long life and a merry one to them both.

Mrs. M. A. Lockard, daughter of the late B. Bradley Brown, is visiting former friends and neighbors here. She has been a resident of Michigan 22 years, and lives at Charlotte in that State.

Mr. R. J. W. Phinney, a leading Academy Hill Democrat and all the term implies, is having a rattling good time out of town somewhere, but where, good Madam Phinney utterly refused to say.

It is said that Mr. John P. Fogg, the jeweler, will return this city and resume business in October. He has been travelling this summer and is about ready to reopen his jewelry store in Woburn.

Towards, where are you! Ears to the ground! Well, on Oct. 4 there is going to be a final bicycle race meet on the famous Woburn Bicycle Park that will eclipse any and all events held there this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Tidd like so well at Madison, N. H., that they will remain there another week. An interesting note from Mr. Tidd was received too late for publication in this issue of the JOURNAL.

The always veracious Woburn reporter of a leading Boston daily declared last Saturday that "a syndicate is looking after desirable real estate in this city." That is the only kind Woburn has on hands for sale.

Read what Mr. Gordon Parker has to say about a toothbrush rack and other things ament the same. The racks are as handy as a pocket in a shirt. He'll say it next week; in the meantime go and get a rack.

Mr. I. E. Williams of Boston, formerly a business man in this city, and family have got back from a nice visit in New Hampshire. He was a little off color when he went away, but returned in fine physical condition.

Chills and fever is raging here this fall at a great rate and quinine has become a staple article of diet. The summer has been a favorable one for the prevalence of ague and the druggists say prescriptions for it pile in as never before.

Mr. Amos Cummings says business prospects are looking some brighter and he expects to have a good fall trade. He has stored full stocks in all the lines carried by a firstclass dry goods house, and has made up his mind to do business.

Arthur Gage, Esq., Clerk of the Woburn District Court, and family are taking their vacation in Maine, where almost everybody has been this summer. E. H. Lonsbury, Esq., has been appointed and is serving as Clerk of the Court pro tem.

We heard from the Ex-High School teacher, Miss Ida A. C. Jacobs, at her home at Assinippi, by the sea, the other day and was gratified to learn that she remembers with affection her former associates here, and isn't at all unhappy where she is.

Mr. Charles Fitz of the firm of Fitz & Stanley, Boston Branch, left yesterday with a Raymond excursion party for a fortnight's trip in the South, which will include Baltimore, Washington, and other points of note. We hope he will have a good time.

Station Agent Jenkins gives the faithful baggage men at the station due credit for the splendid condition of the beautiful flower beds on the grounds. They did much of the watering and kept the flowers and plants growing and all the time fresh and handsome.

The days of the katydid are numbered. Already their evening songs have lost much of their strident melody and a somewhat mournful cadence has appeared in its place. A few evenings more and the katydid will have entirely petered out for this year.

The Old Colony Bill Posting Co. will bring out "The Pulse of New York" at Lyceum Hall, on next Thursday evening, Sept. 27, with one of the best companies on the road. The cast comprises stars, and the play is one of the best and liveliest on the boards. See ad.

Librarian Cutter and Leonard Thompson, Esq., of the Library Commissioners, are attending the National conference of Librarians at Platts Lake, Adirondacks, this week. They will join the post-conference excursion next week to Lake Champlain, Lake George, etc.

Some Woburn people went to Music Hall, Boston, last Sunday to witness the religious services preparatory to laying the cornerstone of the new Tremont Temple on Monday, and among them were Capt. C. P. Jayne and Mrs. Jayne. Music Hall was packed full and crowds were turned away for lack of room. The services were conducted by ministers, deacons and laymen eminent in the Baptist denomination and were highly interesting.

Miss Nellie E. Platts has a professional card in this paper to which we direct attention. She is well known in this community as a teacher of the piano, having had classes here for several years, and her reputation is A1. Miss Platts is handsomely patronized by our people.

We hear that the Lewis Music School began its fall term under encouraging auspices. It has an excellent corps of teachers and no department is neglected. For several years the School has done good work and has no doubt a successful future. It deserves a liberal patronage from our people.

Mr. John Duncan, Jr., Superintendent of the Woburn Clothing Company's emporium, returned from an extended visit to Central N. Y. last Monday evening several pounds heavier than when he went away 3 weeks ago. When we saw him on Tuesday morning he was looking fine and feeling firstclass.

Miss Elizabeth M. Brown of Canal st., formerly a teacher of enviable repute in this city but now a successful teacher in a Philadelphia college, passed a portion of her vacation this summer in the far-famed Adirondacks and enjoyed it, well, it would be. It is said that Miss Brown is one of the best educated women ever raised in Woburn.

One of the oldest, best and most successful baking establishments in Boston is that of S. N. Gant & Co., 134 Canal street. It is one of the most reliable too. Everything found in their stores is strictly firstclass which in accounts for their large patronage among the best class of people in Boston and vicinity. See their card in this paper.

We thank Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Sanborn for a nice mess of trout from the Rangleys Lakes, the sampling of which, they will please be assured, was a very pleasant operation. The Doctor and Mrs. Sanborn returned on Saturday evening after a week's successful and pleasant fishing at the Lakes, both highly gratified with the trip and everything they saw down in the wilds of Maine.

How do you make it out that Mr. Emerson (the new Superintendent of schools) was born in Winchester? There wasn't any Winchester in 1834.

WOBURN JOURNAL. Nevertheless here is where he first saw the light of day. Ain't that so, Mr. JOURNAL?—Winchester Star. Where do the public records say his birthplace was? In strict conformity to the fact they say Woburn. And that settles it.

Members of the Boston, Somerville, Chelsea and Everett Water Boards made another official visit to Mystic Ponds last Wednesday. The first thing they did was to come to Woburn and eat one of Jack McConnell's famous dinners at the Central House. From the frequency of these visits and the time of the day they are made it looks a little mite as though those famous dinners were the chief reason for them.

Paine's Furniture Co., 48 Canal St., Boston, issues nine different catalogues, any one of which will be sent on receipt of postage. They have separate catalogues for wood mantels, rattan goods, refrigerators, folding furniture (including cabinet beds), office furniture, invalid furniture and students' furniture. Their General Catalogue is a book of 288 pages, with 300 illustrations, and requires five 2-cent stamps.

On the evening of the 28th, Friday, benefit is to be given at the Lyceum Hall for Mr. William H. Barker, an employee of Mr. E. Gerry Barker who had his leg broken a few weeks ago by falling from a load of lumber. The affair will consist of a concert and entertainment by firstclass talent and as the object is a worthy one, and Mr. Barker is a worthy man, it is to be hoped the benefit will be well patronized.

Mrs. Nellie True Gilbert says Whiteher's orchids are trueblue, and that lady knows an orchid when she sees one. She told about a splendid collection over at Montvale, some individuals of which are equal to any in the celebrated Ames collection in Boston. The orchid is a high-toned, aristocratic and costly floral luxury, but Whiteher has made arrangements by which he can sell them at prices within the reach of common people.

There are knowing hints of the revival and reorganization of an old political junta in this city for city election purposes but it will hardly amount to much. Defunct combines composed of diverse material, between the elements of which the natural cohesive quality is nearly a minus quantity, sought to be temporarily resurrected "for revenue only," is not generally a formidable force to contend against, and it will not be in this case if such resurrection succeeds.

It was reported in the Boston papers that Mr. Oliver J. Potter had been fined $10 and costs in the Woburn District Court for allowing his dog to go at large after due notice to tie him up. This was a mistake on the part of the Boston papers. Lawyer B. E. Bond, who defended Mr. Potter, filed a motion to quash because of a defect in the complaint and the Court granted the motion. Thus instead of being fined Lawyer Bond got his client off scott free.

Tradesmen on the streets of this city say that a business revival is in the air and if merchandizing is not pretty good this fall they will acknowledge that they misjudged the signs of the times. We hope they have made no mistake in their prognostications and rather think they have not. Although we have not suffered from the pressure as much as some other communities still a little more and brisker business wouldn't turn the stomachs of our business men any, so we say let it come.

We call especial attention to the card of Mrs. E. J. Tay and Mrs. R. O. Hanson in this paper. Woburn ladies who have studied the National Garment Cutter System say it is altogether the best thing of the kind in vogue and a knowledge of it ought to be had by every thrifty housewife. It is scientific in principle, easily learned, and of great value in application. The ladies above mentioned are experts, entirely capable, and thoroughly reliable. They hold the best of credentials.

Carpets and the Tariff.

The new tariff on Foreign Rugs and Carpets is just about one-half the old duty. Naturally, therefore, prices must drop. The advantage of this state of things is, of course, with the buyer—with you, for example. We ask your attention to our of Carpets and Upholstery Goods, of both home and foreign make.

FALL STOCK

When we say that our offerings are superior in quality and in extent to any similar ones in New England, if not in the country, we are simply re-stating a well-established fact. Prices are at low-water mark, as befits the times.

John H. Pray, Sons & Co.,

CARPETS AND UPHOLSTERY.

658 Washington St. (opposite Boylston St.), BOSTON.

Insure your Property in Solid Companies!

S. B. GODDARD & SON,

General Insurance and Real Estate Agency.

New Savings Bank Building, Woburn, Mass.

Assets of Companies represented over Thirty Millions.

Losses promptly adjusted and paid at this office.

Boston Office—No. 93 Water Street.

No man who reveres the memory of his grandmother can help loving "Morning-Glories," an old fashioned but beautiful flower that most people relegate to back seats in favor of modern and less desirable interlopers. Because, you see, it was a favorite bloom of the old grandmothers when they were romping girls, blooming brides, busy matrons, and even when time had turned their fair locks to snowy white and the arm-chair at the inglenook had become their throne. Everybody ought to love "Morning-glories."

We are in receipt of the September number of The Bugle, the organ of the W. H. S., and find it a good one. With the opening school year there was a change of Editors, Reporters, Business Managers, etc., and the several Staffs appear to be well filled. The Editor-in-Chief is Harry E. Nichols. Literary Editors, Sybil Shaw, Lizzie E. Richardson, Fred T. Dow; Battalion Editor, George E. Russell; Local Editors, Ida L. Robbins, Helen B. Fosdick (since resigned); Business Manager, Daniel B. Dimick; Assistant Business Manager, Bertou Ferguson.

Last Monday morning, while superintending the loading of coal at Mr. John R. Carter's yards, Mr. E. D. Newton fell from a load to the ground and sustained serious injuries. He was taken up in an unconscious state and removed to his home immediately after the accident. Dr. G. P. Bartlett, who was called, at first feared a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain had been sustained, but subsequent examination dispelled the supposition. Mr. Newton still remained unconscious yesterday. It was supposed that he experienced a momentary attack of vertigo and at the instant fell from the load of coal with the serious result above stated.

We don't say it in a spirit of begging, but it would be a good plan for the business men of this city to do some advertising for the fall trade just about now. Those who advertise should double up their announcements in size and boom things; and to those who do not use the newspapers in this way we respectfully submit that they are away behind the times. Advertising has become as necessary as stocks in stores, a fact which every wide-awake, progressive, get-up-and-get trade fully realizes and acts on. The columns of the JOURNAL are open to a few more gilt-edge trade notices, and if the idea prevails that our prices are not away down to bedrock let the business public come and see for themselves.

Capt. John P. Crane of Academy Hill, and a faithful defender of the Union he was too in 1861-5, has lately been down to Virginia looking over some of the battlefields on which he fought, and to visit some good friends who were gallant soldiers on the other side in those days of the great War. The Captain has been there often since the conflict closed, but every year the desire to revisit those scenes of bloody strife grows on him, as it seems to on all good soldiers, and he makes the journey often. Nearly all brave Veterans sometimes turn their thoughts towards the Southern battlefields with a longing to see them once more, and this feeling appears to increase with advancing years. Capt. Crane has returned after a very satisfactory visit down there.

At each successive meeting of the City Council additional reasons are furnished for a radical change in the personnel of the city government next December. Incompetency characterized almost every move they make. Notwithstanding the ability of a few members in both branches, as a whole the government is a lamentable business failure. Worse than that, if possible, the material interests of the city, if regarded at all, are of secondary importance in the minds of the members, and everything is made to strengthen their plans for re-election and to beating each other. From the first of last January to the present time there has been little else than fighting and wrangling among the members of the two Boards and other branches of the government. The public good is not thought of, ignorance prevails, the city is disgraced, and what are you going to do about it?

Rag rock has been sold. For years it was the property of John Bacon and William A. Colgate. It is an estate which many people have thought the city should own for public purposes.—Boston Globe. Yes, but wouldn't it be better to beautify and render more parklike our present possessions before laying out more money for "breathing spots"? Wouldn't it be better to spend more money on our streets and sidewalks so that they may hold some comparison with the streets Married.

At the residence of the bride in North Woburn, at 7:30 P. M., Sept. 18, by Rev. H. C. Parker, Mr. Edward S. Eaton and Miss Jennie N. Dickson, both of No. Woburn.

Died.

At this city, Sept. 15, Elizabeth Perkins, aged 78 years, 2 months, 11 days.
At this city, Sept. 18, Harry Singer, aged 11 years, 9 months.
At this city, Sept. 15, Catherine Keane, aged 49 years.

HOOD'S

Sarsaparilla is carefully prepared by experienced pharmacists from Sarsaparilla, Danielsson, Man-juniper Berries, and other well known vegetable remedies. The Combination, Proportion and Process are Peculiar to Hood's Sarsaparilla, giving it strength and curative power Peculiar to itself, not possessed by other medicines. Hood's

Cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Sores, Bolls, Pimples and all other affections caused by Impure Blood; Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Debility, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver Complaints. It is Not What we Say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla Does, that Tells the Story—Hood's Sarsaparilla

For a lame back or for a pain in the side or chest, try saturating a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and binding it on the affected parts. This treatment will cure any ordinary case in one or two days. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism. 50 cent bottles for sale at Whiteher's Drugstore, Woburn.

For a lame back or for a pain in the side or chest, try saturating a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and binding it on the affected parts. This treatment will cure any ordinary case in one or two days. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism. 50 cent bottles for sale at Whiteher's Drugstore, Woburn.

For a lame back or for a pain in the side or chest, try saturating a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and binding it on the affected parts. This treatment will cure any ordinary case in one or two days. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism. 50 cent bottles for sale at Whiteher's Drugstore, Woburn.

For a lame back or for a pain in the side or chest, try saturating a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and binding it on the affected parts. This treatment will cure any ordinary case in one or two days. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism. 50 cent bottles for sale at Whiteher's Drugstore, Woburn.

For a lame back or for a pain in the side or chest, try saturating a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and binding it on the affected parts. This treatment will cure any ordinary case in one or two days. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism. 50 cent bottles for sale at Whiteher's Drugstore, Woburn.

For a lame back or for a pain in the side or chest, try saturating a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and binding it on the affected parts. This treatment will cure any ordinary case in one or two days. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism. 50 cent bottles for sale at Whiteher's Drugstore, Woburn.

NEW

Fall Dress Goods.

Our New Stock of Fall Dress Goods is one of the largest and best we have ever shown.

Are you going to buy a Carpet?

Do you need New Window Shades?

Does your house need New Wall Paper.

REMEMBER we saw all Carpets bought of us Free of Charge.

C. Willard Smith

Dry Goods and Carpets,

399 & 401 Main Street,

WOBURN.

Get The Baby Some!

No toes need be out of shoes when we are offering Children's Footwear at the present astonishing prices

THE WOBBURN JOURNAL.

Published Weekly: Every Friday Morning by George A. Hobbs. Office at 434 Main Street. $2.00 a Year. Single Copies 5 Cents.

VOL. XLIV.

WOBBURN, MASS., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1894.

NO. 42.

WOBBURNA HEADACHE WAFERS.

A safe, prompt and efficient remedy for all nervous and neuralgic headaches.

F. P. BROOKS, Pharmacist,
301 Main St., Woburn.

Boston & Maine RAILROAD.

Southern Division.

JULY 1, 1894.

Passenger Service from Woburn.

FOR BOSTON, 5.50, 6.14, 6.51, 7.18, 7.55, 8.14, 8.52, 9.09, 10.29, 11.25, A. M.; 12.52, 1.10, 2.20, 3.01, 4.12, 5.09, 5.11, 5.40, 7.00, 7.18, 9.30, 10.30, P. M.
RETURNS, 6.00, 7.10, 7.55, 8.00, 9.10, 10.45, 11.55, A. M.; 12.10, 1.07, 2.00, 3.05, 4.12, 4.45, 5.14, 5.30, 6.40, 6.45, 7.55, 9.00, 10.10, 11.20, P. M.
SUNDAY, 7.00, 8.25, 11.01, A. M.; 12.05, 2.00, 3.25, 5.05, 6.35, 9.05, P. M.
RETURNS, 7.10, 8.40, 11.10, A. M.; 12.10, 2.10, 3.40, 5.10, 6.40, 9.10, P. M.
FOR LOWELL, 6.22, 6.52, 9.47, 11.11, A. M.; 12.15, 2.42, 4.42, 10.41, P. M. Sunday 7.00, 8.25, 11.01, A. M.; 12.05, 2.00, 3.25, 5.05, 6.35, 9.05, P. M.
FOR LAWRENCE, 6.22, 6.52, 9.47, 11.11, A. M.; 12.15, 2.42, 4.42, 10.41, P. M. Sunday 7.00, 8.25, 11.01, A. M.; 12.05, 2.00, 3.25, 5.05, 6.35, 9.05, P. M.
FOR NASHUA, Manchester and Concord, N. H., at 6.22, 8.25, 11.11, A. M.; 1.22, 4.42, 6.42, P. M.
For Greenfield, Peterborough, Hillsboro and Keene, N. H., at 6.22, 8.25, 11.11, A. M.; 1.22, 4.42, 6.42, P. M.
For Amherst, Milford and Winton, N. H., at 6.22, 8.25, 11.11, A. M.; 1.22, 4.42, 6.42, P. M.
For Warner, Bradford, Sunapee, Newport and Carmoist, N. H., at 6.22, 8.25, 11.11, A. M.; 1.22, 4.42, 6.42, P. M.
For Keene, N. H., at 6.22, 8.25, 11.11, A. M.; 1.22, 4.42, 6.42, P. M.
For Lowell, Lawrence, Merrimack, Andover, Weymouth, Plymouth, 6.22, 8.25, 11.11, A. M.; 1.22, 4.42, 6.42, P. M.
For North of Woburn and on Passumpsic R. R., 6.22, 11.11, A. M.; 6.42, P. M.
FOR MONTEALE, 6.22, 11.11, A. M.; 6.42, P. M.

Business Cards.

A. L. HOLDRIDGE,

AGENT FOR THE

Glenwood Cook

—AND—

Carland Oil Stoves.

Farming Tools and Garden Seeds of all kinds.
Stoves moved for the Summer. Blacked and set up in the Fall at reasonable rates.

GEO. W. NICHOLS,

HAS SOLD FINE

WATCHES

—AND—

REPAIRED SINCE

1865.

Mechanics' Building, 415 Main St.

A. GRANT,

Merchant Tailor,

426 Main St., Woburn, Mass.

Is the right place to call for the latest styles in Custom-made Clothing. If you wish a suit made to embrace both style and fit Grant is a call and you are sure to get suited.

D. J. FLANDERS,

General Passenger and Ticket Agent

DANIEL W. SANBORN, General Superintendent

GEO. F. EVANS, Supt. Div.

North Woburn Street Railroad.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

WEEK DAYS.

On and after JUNE 17, 1894, cars will run as follows:

Leave North Woburn for Woburn, Winchester, Symmes' Corner and Medford at 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 12.30, 12.45, 1.00, 1.15, 1.30, 1.45, 2.00, 2.15, 2.30, 2.45, 3.00, 3.15, 3.30, 3.45, 4.00, 4.15, 4.30, 4.45, 5.00, 5.15, 5.30, 5.45, 6.00, 6.15, 6.30, 6.45, 7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45, 8.00, 8.15, 8.30, 8.45, 9.00, 9.15, 9.30, 9.45, 10.00, 10.15, 10.30, 10.45, 11.00, 11.15, 11.30, 11.45, 12.00, 12.15, 1

SLOCUM'S NORWEGIAN COD LIVER OIL WITH GUAIACOL

It is as easy to explain a cold as to catch one. The skin, exposed to a sudden change in temperature, ceases to throw off waste matter, and double duty is imposed upon the lungs. Hence, inflammation of the bronchial tubes and frequently consumption. A medicine to cure consumption must help not only the lungs but the stomach, because good appetite and good digestion are required to fortify the system. Slocum's Ozonized Norwegian Cod Liver Oil, with Guaiacol, is a great flesh-maker.

Send for Book on Ozone, mailed free.
Prepared by T. A. Slocum Co., New York.

RUTH AND NAOMI.

A rabbit's child and Puritan's one, met, like those fabled mates, with each a king.
That only son when they together came, These comrades happy joy in nature's plan. For rich ancestral stores most alien. Yet As great pleasures know no lasting spring. Death came, but not new morn's comfort. In tears with brightest rays her rainbow set.

Might Naomi not often glean with Ruth, And thus give time a double joy and worth? It takes the each and all in life's path. To call auspiciously the seeds of truth: To win a paradise for earth. And reap in joy the harvest—earth's sublimes.
—Lowell Courter.

OVERBOARD.

It was a feature of Herringbourne that the people always wanted something to lean against. As individuals they leaned against walls; as a community they were held up by the church, the brewery and Hurley's fleet.

On a November afternoon, when the branches of the trees on the quay were black and bare, Genth Hurley, the fleet owner, was doing what all owners do—he was paying a smack's crew their poundage. The smack had just come up, and the crew in duffels, gurnseys and sou'westers were scattered about the office.

One big fellow nursed on his sea boots a boy so small and black that he looked as if he had just dropped down the flue. He was the cook.

"Well, skipper," said Genth as he put first one and then another little pile of money on the counter, "what sort of weather have you had?"

"Well, owner," said the skipper, who was feeling about for a chew of tobacco, "I'll speak the truth, it was b'isterns. A tree reeled sail on the little jib nearly all the time, an' moun'ins o' sea on the argger. As so a most unfortunate accident. A comin' home poor Billy Dabbs nearly had his bows stove in with the mainmast bume."

"I see," said Genth, "you are a man short, I'm sorry about poor Billy. Perhaps you'd better take him his poundage? You'll have to ship another man, Holmes. Here's your money, my lads."

He laid the last little pile of money on his desk. One by one the crew claimed their own. When all was paid, and the sound of the last pair of sea boots had died on the pavement, Genth started to put his books right. He was about 28, with dark hair, dark eyes and a plain, earnest face. Before he had finished the soft illumination of the setting sun had tinted the muddy water that eddied against the bridge. When the red tiled roof on the opposite side was a glowing orange, he heard a knock. "Come in," he cried.

The invitation met with no prompt response. There was a fumble with the handle, a fatiguing wiping of feet on the flags, then, as if by electricity, the door flew open.

"Well," said Genth, "what is it?"

"I have come," said the visitor, "about a berth on a smack."

"It no use coming to me, my man," said Hurley. "You must go to the skippers. I don't ship any one."

"The skippers," said the other, "why they'd laugh at me, I don't believe they'd have me for ballast. Yet they'd have given something for a nod from me once. I had no need to come like a beggar to the fleet—not I. You know that, Hurley."

For the first time Genth looked up. His pen dropped from his fingers and made a great blot on the neatly ruled page. "Tom Harrington!" he exclaimed.

"All that is left of him," said the arrival, with a smile that seemed to court some sort of praise for the remains. "Rather shady, down at the heels, pockets empty, shorn of splendor, but Tom Harrington still."

Tom Harrington was the son of a Herringbourne solicitor. The old lawyer had worked hard to save money; his son, to spend it. In three or four years Tom Harrington had spent the accumulations of 30 or 40 years. He had been more fortunate than Genth Hurley, for he had won from Genth the woman he loved.

His hands were still small and white, his face handsome. But the fire in the shifty blue eyes burned low. They were encircled by dark, hollow rims and the full red lips were a shade blue and tremulous.

"How were you brought to this?"

"Cs and Bs—cards and billiards, and incidentally B's and S's. In my time I have backed many horses. If they'd won, I shouldn't have been here. Understand I'm not the only one—plenty have been broke besides me. In gentlemanly games too. All of us love sport. It is the backbone of England. It can't be it's my fault. It's the old man's."

Genth looked at him inquiringly.

"If the old man didn't mean to live like a gentleman, why did he make a gentleman of me? Why did he send me to a tip-top school, give me first class ideas and then deny me and leave me enough money to develop these first class ideas? That puzzles me. Now, if I hadn't been a soft fool, if I had married a woman who had got a bit!"

Genth's eyes grew hard. He picked up his pen and slowly drew a sheet of blotting paper over the ink blot.

"How is your wife?" he asked abruptly.

"Oh, Nell is all right. She takes in a bit of dressmaking and millinery. She was always a handy girl with her fingers. But somehow trade has fallen off with her, so I'm forced to do something. Oh, you needn't look at me like that! I have tried before. I tried once for a place as billiard marker, but some other fellow got there before me, and I had all the trouble for nothing. But when it comes to your last loaf!"

"My good!"

"It's time to wake up, so I thought of the Fleet. When there is nothing else doing, every one thinks of the Fleet, and if you have a berth to jump into, why, I'm your man."

"Well," said Genth, "a vessel came in this afternoon—the Comet. One of the men, a deckhand, was injured by the boom. You can go in for her if you like."

Harrington looked by no means elated. It was evident that one of the last things he expected was to be taken at his word. He had hoped for something better, an easier job, perhaps a loan.

"Thankee," said Harrington, but by no means gracefully. Then he stood a moment, fidgeted and coughed.

"Yes," said Genth, who easily read the signs. "Hurry up, advance you a month's pay. Here is half; the rest I'll send to your wife. If she wants more while you are at sea, she shall have it."

"Why can't I take the lot?" asked Harrington querulously. "Can't you trust me?"

"I'm afraid not."

"Good afternoon," said the budding smacksman, and he turned on his heel.

"Stop a minute," said Genth. "Take the money. I thought you might be tempted. And now listen, Tom. If you go, I wish you luck. Make one trip, and directly your foot again touches Herringbourne quay I will find you something better. Here is my hand on it."

The angry flash on Harrington's face died away, the shifty look in his eyes vanished, and his form suddenly straightened for a time only. Then the old expression came back, his shoulders drooped, and muttering something he shuffled out.

Contrary to Genth Hurley's expectations, Tom Harrington took the berth offered him. A week after the interview in the office he sailed in the Comet for the fishing grounds of the North sea.

Eight weeks, long and weary to those at sea, soon passed ashore. To Genth, in the office, time flew. The morning the Comet was due again found him nervously pacing the quay.

He had made his plans. This trip would prove Tom's salvation. He had found a desk for him in the office, and under his own eye Harrington should commence the new life.

Though Genth's mind was busy, his eyes kept straying down the harbor, and at last he heard the pant, pant of a tug and saw her red fluted funnel passing the lower ferry. A stern was a dandy rigged trawler.

When the snake-like coil of the tow rope was cast off and the tug sheered out, Genth saw the new-comer was the Comet. He made a step forward, then stopped as if he had been stung. His eyes were fixed to the rigging. She was flying her flag half mast high!

It was not the first time Genth had beheld that ominous sign, but now it turned him faint. In his mind ran one thought—suppose it was flying for Tom Harrington! He stood for a minute fascinated, then walked gloomily back to the office. The voice of Holmes aroused him. "I ken see, owner," he said, "you ha' been on the quay."

"Tell me," said Genth, with dry lips, "whom have you lost?"

"The skipper of the Comet passed a large haul through his oodkin textured hair. 'Well, owner,' he said slowly, 'I'll speak the truth. Twice this way. The wind was east—'"

"In God's name," cried Genth, "who is it?"

"To sail straight to the pint, owner, 'tis the new deck chap."

"When did this take place?" he asked.

"The night after last. We wor a-comin' home," said Holmes, directing his gaze to a nautical almanac and telling his tale to it as if hung on a nail, "wi' the wind east nor'east. I had just fixed the port and starboard lights an' wor taking a spell at the tiller. 'Well, owner,' he said, 'a green sea a-comin, which I knew we'd ship, an' I sung out to the chaps to keep below. Jest as the words passed my lips some one popped out o' the hoodway (companion). The sea and him must ha' touched the hull, for the deck at the same time, afore I could clutch him he wor swept over the starboard rail."

"'Amost as sure as we gat about our boat wor launched an' the chaps wor in her. They pulled like madmen, but you know, owner, how fast a drowndin' man drifts to windward. They could never get nigh him, and when I picked the crew o' the boat up they wor done for. An' the deck chap was gone. All we picked up was this—' He held up a soiled son'wester.

"You must report it," said Genth heavily—"it's all you can do now."

Holmes nodded and slouched away. When he was gone, Genth went to his desk and drew from it a sheet of note paper. On it was written the number of a "row."

"And I must break the news," he said.

On a bleak January afternoon two years later a man came through the fog. To save a mile or two he had reached Herringbourne by a cheerless, treeless cut called the New Road. He was thin and bearded. His clothes were shabby and his steps uncertain.

But still he wearily plodded on. At last he stopped before a "row," went up it and then stopped again in front of a house with the shutters closed. On them was chalked "To Let."

In a dazed sort of way he looked at the letters, then made his way to the quay. Here he halted at the office of Hurley's fleet. With a trembling hand he tried the door. It was locked.

Then indeed he seemed to lose heart and sat a moment on the doorstep. He was looking at the back bough of a tree that flapped noiselessly against a lighted lamp, when a smacksman came past. The weary object stopped him and asked where Hurley lived. He was told, and with a sigh went on again, this time toward the drive.

Staggering, clutching at iron rails and turning his face to the sea, he went on till he reached the gates of a house where the blinds were parted and the room illuminated by gas jets and a merry, leaping fire. By that fire a man sat reading. It was Genth Hurley.

The stranger opened the door, the wind drove him up to the door, and he pulled the bell. It was answered by a servant, who gazed at him curiously. He asked if he could see the smacks owner.

Before she could speak the visitor had stolen up behind. As she drew back he and Genth came face to face. The attitude of the shabby figure was humble, and his knees shook.

"Come in," cried Genth cheerily—"come in, my man. You wanted to see me?"

In a hesitating way the other stepped forward. Particles of snow had melted on his beard and hung in glistening drops.

"Don't you know me, Hurley?" he asked in a trembling tone. "I wonder if Nell will know me! I'm Tom Harrington!"

With a strange, guttural cry Genth fell back and clutched at the mantel piece. He seemed turned to stone. The visitor looked wistfully at the bright fire and caressed his thin hands as if he were warming them.

"No, no!" gasped Genth hoarsely, "not him!—not Tom Harrington! He was drowned at sea."

"Not drowned," said the other, and his voice sounded so gentle, so unlike the Harrington of old, that there was plenty of room for mistaking his identity. "But picked up by a schooner when he had lost all hope. I was carried to a strange place, and I had the fever." He drew a little nearer the fire and put his hand on the back of a chair. Then, with a smile, he looked at Genth. Hurley's face wore an awful, frozen look. He appeared covering back.

"I'm very tired," said the wanderer feebly. "May I sit down?"

As he put the question there sounded a rippling laugh, then the joyous snatch of a song as some one tripped down the stairs. The wanderer's face grew bright. He held up his hands. "Listen!" he cried breathlessly. "That is Nell's voice! My Nell! That is the song she used to sing long ago! Why, she is here! Hurley—she is!"

He turned wondering to Genth. The smacks owner's jaw had fallen. His teeth were chattering, and trembling in every limb he barely held up by the mantel piece.

A puzzled look stole over Harrington's face. It cleared, and he, too, began to tremble. "Your wife?" he whispered. "You married her? You thought me dead! I am going—I am going!"

He put his hand out to feel for the door. He was trying to find the handle, when it swung open, and Nell stood on the threshold. He gave a low sob, and with head bent he tried to pass her. She tried to see his face, but he was too blind to see her.

"I am going, Nell," he mumbled—"I am going." He was quite helpless now and blinded by tears.

At the sound of his voice, at the sight of the shabby figure grown suddenly old, she clutched him by the arm. He lifted his head, their eyes met, and with a wild scream she sank to the floor.

An hour later a doctor came. He looked at Harrington, who had been told to bed, and shook his head. "I'm no use," he said. "Cold, exposure, a debilitated constitution. The man has been dying for weeks. He may last the night out. I doubt it."

The doctor was right. Harrington gradually grew weaker and weaker. His brain wandered to strange scenes, the River Platte, Costa Rica, then home and Nell. When his mind partially cleared, she was bending over him. "Well, owner," he said, "you ha' been on the quay."

"Tell me," said Genth, with dry lips, "whom have you lost?"

"The skipper of the Comet passed a large haul through his oodkin textured hair. 'Well, owner,' he said slowly, 'I'll speak the truth. Twice this way. The wind was east—'"

"In God's name," cried Genth, "who is it?"

"To sail straight to the pint, owner, 'tis the new deck chap."

"When did this take place?" he asked.

"The night after last. We wor a-comin' home," said Holmes, directing his gaze to a nautical almanac and telling his tale to it as if hung on a nail, "wi' the wind east nor'east. I had just fixed the port and starboard lights an' wor taking a spell at the tiller. 'Well, owner,' he said, 'a green sea a-comin, which I knew we'd ship, an' I sung out to the chaps to keep below. Jest as the words passed my lips some one popped out o' the hoodway (companion). The sea and him must ha' touched the hull, for the deck at the same time, afore I could clutch him he wor swept over the starboard rail."

"'Amost as sure as we gat about our boat wor launched an' the chaps wor in her. They pulled like madmen, but you know, owner, how fast a drowndin' man drifts to windward. They could never get nigh him, and when I picked the crew o' the boat up they wor done for. An' the deck chap was gone. All we picked up was this—' He held up a soiled son'wester.

"You must report it," said Genth heavily—"it's all you can do now."

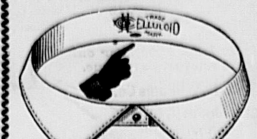

Holmes nodded and slouched away. When he was gone, Genth went to his desk and drew from it a sheet of note paper. On it was written the number of a "row."

"And I must break the news," he said.

On a bleak January afternoon two years later a man came through the fog. To save a mile or two he had reached Herringbourne by a cheerless, treeless cut called the New Road. He was thin and bearded. His clothes were shabby and his steps uncertain.

But still he wearily plodded on. At last he stopped before a "row," went up it and then stopped again in front of a house with the shutters closed. On them was chalked "To Let."

After THREE MONTHS of Daily Wear

This Collar is Still in Good Condition.

That's because it's the CELLULOID Collar. Its original cost was 25 cts. and it cost the wearer nothing afterwards to keep it clean. When soiled, simply wipe off with sponge or wet cloth. These collars and cuffs are waterproof, and are the only waterproof goods made with an interlining of linen; therefore the only ones that can last and give absolute satisfaction. Every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

Refuse anything that is not so marked, and if your dealer has not the right kind send direct to us, enclosing amount, and we will mail you a sample postpaid. Collars 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50 cts. pair. Give us your address and we will send you a turned-down collar is wanted.

THE CELLULOID COMPANY,
427-29 Broadway, NEW YORK.

Useless Amputation.

Dr. Bones' wife was awakened by a noise in her room the other night, and when she sat up in bed she saw the doctor standing over the armchair in the room. He had a towel tied around one of the legs of the chair, and with his hands he was cutting it in half. Mrs. B. exclaimed:

"Henry, what in the name of common sense are you doing?"

"H-s-h," replied the doctor, "you'll wake the patient. You hold the cloth reform to his nose while I take his leg off in about half an hour the leg's gone."

Then Mrs. Bones got out of bed and shook him and pinched him until he woke. Then he exclaimed:

"How's the patient?"

Mrs. Bones merely said, "Come to bed, you idiot, and stop backing up the furniture."

"Gracious, Maria," said the doctor as he collected his scattered senses, "do you know I thought I was saving off a leg that had a compound fracture? There's a 10 guinea fee gone."

And Bones went to bed feeling as if he was an injured man at having lost that money.—London Tit-Bits.

Prizefighter as Husband.

A woman remarked the other day that she did not see how anybody could marry a prizefighter. It was a speech that showed lack of reflection and ignorance of history, for centuries ago the Roman gladiators, the wife of a senator—would-for-sake children, country, sister, husband, for the sake of a gladiator.

"Tis the sword they love," says Juvenal. "But let this gladiator but once receive the token of his dismissal he will appear in her eyes as insignificant as her old husband."

Why, then, should not pugilists be good husbands, kind, thoughtful and generous providers? In England, where the art of wife beating has been developed to a high state of finish and by many is regarded as a marital grace, it is the nobleman, not the pugilist, who has borne away from courts the laurels for complete and scientific thrashing. You doubt this statement? Read the reports of trials for cruelty toward wives from the "Complete Collection of State Trials," by Thomas Howell, down to this year of our Lord. The supreme naggar is generally a man of regular and outwardly approved life.—Boston Journal.

Prices of Provisions in Rome.

I pay for kerosene oil $3.25 a gallon, and for the best Chianti, one of the finest of native wines, 60 cents a gallon. Sugar costs 20 cents a pound and the best of this last is a government monopoly and can only be bought at a tobaccoist's. A good sized roasted chicken, big enough for the dinner of three people, was bought for 45 cents. Three heads of lettuce sold for 2 cents, and 5 cents' worth of potatoes puts us through the day.

The day, however, a superior servant, is considered very well paid at $7 a month, and her helper receives only $4.

Meat, vegetables, eggs, milk and butter are all very cheap, but groceries and all imported goods are enormously dear. Labor is cheap in every form, while fuel and light are so extravagantly expensive that they come under the head of luxury.

We burn nothing but wood, which is sold by the passo, a ridiculous small amount, which costs $4 and will keep two open fires supplied for about a fortnight.—Maud Howe Elliott in Boston Transcript.

The Great American Desert.

"When I was a boy," said F. G. Thomas, a well known resident of Dallas, the maps in our geography marked the upper portion of the panhandle of my state as the 'Great American desert.' Most of that land is now sown in wheat. It is among the best wheat land in the world and is fast developing into one of the great granaries of the United States."—Washington Star.

Borax as an Aid to Suffering Humanity. As used by physicians, borax not only softens but purifies water, heals ulcers and boils, relieves bruises, sprains and blisters, inflammation of the skin, pricks, heat, is useful in catarrhs and acidity of the stomach, and as an antiseptic in typhoid fever, cholera and smallpox.—Epicure.

Heading Them Off.

Mr. Smith—There comes Jones with his wife. I don't want to meet them.

Mrs. Smith—How can you help it? Mr. Smith—Come into this millinery store. He will not follow us up here for fear she will want another new hat.—Texas Siftings.

SOME INSIDE FACTS.

Such Matters Always Leak Out.

This Time It Carried the Great News Far and Wide.

MANY FAMILIES ALL OVER THE LAND ARE DEEPLY INTERESTED IN THE MATTER.

There are many things in the lives of persons of families which when they are known become matters of public interest. People always want to know those things which personally concern them, which add to their welfare, their looks or their comfort. Here is a piece of news which coming in such high authority makes it of more than ordinary interest.

Mrs. Charles H. Heaton, residing at 143 State Street, Montpelier, Vt., is a most lovely and accomplished lady. The family has the very highest social standing. Her husband has held many offices of trust in the city and in politics, and among the Masonic fraternity stands at the head. Her husband's father is president of the Montpelier Savings Bank and Trust Co., the largest bank in the city. Her father is a prominent railroad man. She writes as follows:

"Two years ago we had a terrible experience with our Grapes and by overwork in taking care of my children and the results of the disease I was left in a very exhausted condition. In fact, I was nearly prostrated. I was so weak that upon the least excitement I was unable to do any work. I was in a nervous condition as anyone could be. 'Sorrowful' blood and nerve remedy to me, and I immediately began its use. I am happy to say that I have recovered my health and am now as well as you ever were by taking Dr. Greene's Nervine. It is the best medicine I ever knew of for any form of nervous or chronic disease. I have recommended it to many and shall do so upon every occasion."

For it is of the utmost importance to you if you tell us just what you do to be cured. If you are nervous, weak, tired, sleepless, if you have headache, indigestion, kidney or liver complaint, poor blood and weak nerves, you can surely regain your health and be well as you ever were by taking Dr. Greene's Nervine. The strengthening and curative powers of this remedy are wonderful. Use it in all cases of nervousness and chronic diseases. It is the discovery of Dr. Greene, the most successful specialist in curing all chronic diseases. He can be consulted by all at his office, 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., free, personally or by letter.

What Paper Is Made Of.

Paper is one of the most lavishly used articles of modern times. The materials of which it can be made are almost as numerous and common as the uses to which the finished article is put.

There are something over 2,000 patents covering the making of paper. It may be manufactured, under some of the most modern processes, from cotton, flax, hemp, straw, peapine, from the trunks and stems of Indian corn and every variety of grain; from moss, clover and timothy hay and more than 100 kinds of grass; from straw and cocoanut fiber; from fresh water weeds and seaweeds; from sawdust, shavings and shavings from turnstiles and stumps; from banana skins, tobacco stalks and tan bark; from hair, wool, fur, almost any bagging and from almost any other imaginable refuse.

—Kate Field's Washington.

It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years with six or seven attacks in his back, and also that his blood was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures but with no good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters especially adapted to the cure of all kidney and liver troubles, and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Write for a large bottle. At G. & J. Parker's Drug Store.

Women in India.

Women in India are as fond of the play as their sisters in the occident, but owing to the peculiar handicaps of oriental life, so far as women are concerned, their indulgence in the amusements of the stage is attended with some embarrassment. A clever correspondent of the London Graphic describes a play she was permitted to attend. The space immediately before the footlights that is occupied in our own theaters by the orchestra is given over to the feminine portion of the audience, who are seated in a circle below those of the first rows, while to further propitiate eastern propriety a high screen of wood is interposed. The play began at 9 o'clock and lasted till 2 in the morning. The 1 male characters are, of course, all taken by men who are, however, wonderfully successful in their makeup and impersonation.

The people quickly recognize merit, and this is the reason the saloon of Hindu Saraswati are continually increasing. Hood's is "on top."

As we must render an account of every idle word so must we likewise of our idle silence.

How to stop growing and not die seems the great problem to be solved for some people.

We are all living under a sentence of death. Sooner or later the sentence will be enforced.

Corns do not lose any of their virulence when covered with patent-leather shoes.

SAVENA

THE BEST WASHING POWDER ON EARTH

Each Package SAVENA contains a DIFFERENT PRESENT AND A USEFUL PRESENT.

Sold by all Grocers.

WINDMILLS ON THE FARM.

There Are Various Ways in Which the Power of the Wind May Be Used.

I was somewhat surprised to read that such a well posted correspondent as John M. Stahl seems to be has not seen or heard of a windmill being used for sawing wood. I have had one for years that saws wood, shells and grinds corn, cuts hay and fodder and pumps water with a moderate wind. It is on my barn, and if I recollect right the cost was not over $150 all told. The saw is circular, and goes through hard chestnut wood without a halt. With a fair wind it will chop or grind corn, cut corn-stalks and fodder, and I have shelled 40 bushels of corn before breakfast.

I have had three solid wooden wheel mills—all worked moderately well, but if any of your readers think of buying a windmill I would say that this is the age of steel—buy a steel mill. I have had one now for two years for pumping water alone and would not be without it for any reasonable sum. It is only an 8-foot mill and has more power than I need, even with a wind that can scarcely be felt. It is a solid steel mill, and I hear it has been greatly improved since my purchase. Having the tower of the old mill that was blown to pieces, it was used for the new one, and the cost was less than $50.

The party furnishing the mill and work of putting it up ready for use. From the start, it has worked nicely and will pump all the water I need with a